John Boles and Gladys Swarthout's Musical Romance on Craterian Bill

OPERA STAR HAS IMPORTANT ROLE IN MUSICAL HIT

With John Boles in the co-starring role, Gladys Swarthout's long-waited film debut is at the Craterian theater where "Rose of the Rancho," the famous singer's first film appearance, opens a three-day run today.

Actually described as a "glorified Western," with the fast-moving action of such pictures as the background for the heart-warming romance between Boles, as a government agent, and Miss Swarthout as the girl leader of the Spanish landowners in Old Monterey of early-day California, "Rose of the Rancho" also claims much riotous comedy, ably taken care of by such famous comics as Willie Howard and Herb Williams. Others in the cast include Charles Bickford, H. B. Warner and Grace Bradley.

As an added attraction on the same program, the Craterian will show the new issue of the March of Time, recreating the vital news events of the day, including Russia's new Five Year Plan, which the Soviet expects to "oil the cogs" for new high speed production whereas the first Five Year plan set the machinery of the state rolling. Also included in the new issue is the introduction of Dr. LeRoy Hartman's new dental anesthetic, whose pain-killing powers have proved to be a sensation—not only to dentists and doctors but also to the man in the street, who will soon need worry no longer about "seeing the dentist twice a year." The third subject deals with the mystery-man, Father Divine, colored self-appointed God of Manhattan's Harlem.

For the Wednesday only program, the Craterian will have Miriam Hopkins, supported by Joel McCrea, Paul Cavanaugh, Helen Westley, Billie Burke and other favorites in "Splendor," the story of a once-great New York family who sacrifice the lovely daughter in a mad desire for lost luxuries.

"Splendor" will also be shown Wednesday night only at the Holly theater.

Bing Crosby Hit Coming to Craterian

Hershfeld, the famous caricaturist, used this method of showing how Bing Crosby, Ethel Merman and Ruggles appear to him in the ace musical comedy "Anything Goes" coming Thursday to the Craterian theater.

Based on the hit show that "wowed" Broadway for over a year, embellished to an even greater degree by the wider scope of the screen, "Anything Goes" boasts of much tuneful, comedy entertainment with song hits by The Cole Porter, current rage among the composers of the modern tunes.

Rialto's Stars

A boy, a dog, and a hunted criminal figure in one of the strangest adventures the screen has brought to the theater audiences in "Tough Guy," new romance of the Secret Service opening a three-day run at the Rialto theater today, with Jackie Cooper, Joseph Calleia and Rin-Tin-Tin Jr. as the three principals.

Unusual in that it is neither a man and boy picture, a dog picture, but a combination of three characters in a comradeship that goes through thrilling escapes, high-powered drama and an amazing series of adventures, "Tough Guy" throws a new light on the activities of the Federal agents.

Also in the cast are Jean Hersholt, Harvey Stephens and Robert Grieg.

Roxy Headliner

Claudette Colbert's rollicking comedy-romance "She Married Her Boss," in which Melvyn Douglas and Michael Bartlett have the principal supporting roles, opens a three-day run at the Roxy theater today.

The story of a strange romance between a business man and his able secretary, culminating in marriage, the film romps a merry chase through a series of hilarious romantic adventures.

WAHL WILL OPEN BUCKHORN RESORT WEEK FROM TODAY

Formal opening of the Buckhorn Mineral Springs resort is planned for March 15, Sunday, one week from today, it has been announced by F. E. Wahl, manager of the company. The mineral springs resort, formerly known as Tollman springs, has been completely remodeled and renovated and now offers the most complete service of its kind in this part of the country, Wahl said.

Buckhorn Mineral Springs are located 25 miles south of Medford on Emigrant creek. The springs are reached by turning left at the Klamath junction, following the Greenspring highway exactly three miles, and then turning right down the old road. Signs mark the route.

Included in the set-up are the ample lodge, bathhouses, springs with sulphur, oatmeal, soda and mineral water baths, hot medicated baths said to be good for the treatment of rheumatism, arthritis and similar ailments. Carbondioxide gas vapor baths are also offered, beneficial in the treatment of sathma, catarrh, colds, sinus trouble, eczema and other skin diseases.

The staff includes Mrs. Amelia P. Toft, hostess; Dora Payne, nurse, and Clarence W. Finn, masseur in charge of baths. A graduate of St. Mary's college in California, Finn has had two years experience in hydrotherapy at the Veterans hospital in Palo Alto, California, five years experience at the General hospital in Los Angeles, and has had considerable experience as masseur at Wilbur hotsprings at Williams, California, and is considered of outstanding ability, Wahl said.

Finn follows the baths with mineral oil or alcohol massages and manipulations, as the case may indicate.

Mud baths are also offered at the resort. The mud, of a talc nature, is used for giving facials in many southern Oregon beauty parlors at the present time. The mud is also said to be beneficial in treatment of various skin erruptions when applied in packs.

The recently remodeled lodge includes the dining room and recreational quarters for guests, and there are 11 completely furnished apartments, including several which have been equipped for housekeeping.

A pamphlet now being prepared by the corporation headed by Wahl will be released soon, giving detailed information regarding the medicinal and curative values of the springs.

The springs have an interesting history, having been discovered by the Chetko Indians hundreds of years ago, according to an interesting legend that has been handed down. The first white man to visit the place was Judge Tollman, southern Oregon pioneer, after whom the springs were named. Since their discovery by the white race, they have been visited by thousands from all parts of the country.
