LIVING MODELS WILL DISPLAY FLORSHEIMS AT MANN'S TWO DAYS

Living models will display the new Florsheim shoes in a special style show at Mann's Department store Thursday and Friday at two and four o'clock. A sample line of 200 exciting styles in women's footwear will be included in this important event. T. Harrison, Jr., Florsheim factory artist will personally supervise the showing of fashionable, comfortable shoes for women and girls. Comfortable arches, a hinged support that is flexible in motion and rigid in repose, characterize Florsheim footwear that is now available for southern Oregon patrons of Mann's department store. Florsheim shoes for women, although relative new-comers to the field of fine footwear have this in common with Florsheim shoes for men—they are made to the same exacting quality specifications that have made the name Florsheim nearly half a century. In fact Florsheim shoes for women were first made to answer the demands of women for the same quality, comfort, and style which the men in their families had enjoyed for so many years. This spring Florsheim features the widest variety of styles and patterns in their history—every type of shoe for street, dress, or country wear from sleek patent leather strip pumps to low-heeled "Brogies" in reverse calfskin. Of special interest are Florsheim French toe shoes—short-vamp, square-toe models that work wonders in shortening the foot and apparently reducing the size of the shoe, according to R. Miller, manager of Mann's footwear department.

LAKE PARK BEAR COMPLETES SLEEP

The first Crater Lake national park bear to emerge from winter hibernation was seen at the mountain resort yesterday. It was reported today by David H. Canfield, superintendent, upon his return from an inspection trip. Mr. Canfield expected the rest of the park's 30 bears to follow the leader within the next couple of weeks. As the park is still buried in snow, the bears will probably follow precedent by wandering to the lowlands for food, he predicted. Mr. Canfield said strenuous efforts are being made to open the lake park headquarters to the lake rim. While work is progressing satisfactorily, it will take at least eight days more to clear the road for traffic, he related. Ice on the park roads is being melted unevenly, Mr. Canfield said, and therefore motorists should drive cautiously while in the park.

Stars of "Navy Wife" Soon at Rialto

A thrilling love story set in a motion picture—the medical and nursing corps of the United States navy—"Navy Wife" comes to the Rialto theatre tomorrow and Thursday. It stars Claire Trevor, while Ralph Bellamy, one of the screen's popular young actors, has the romantic lead opposite Miss Trevor. Others who have prominent roles are Warren Hymer, Ben Lyon and Jane Darwell. The picture was adapted from Kathleen Norris' popular novel, "Beauty's Daughter."

On Crater and Holly Screens

Miriam Hopkins and Joel McCrea, the romantic team of "Barbary Coast," are together again in "Splendor," playing tomorrow only—matinee and evening, at the Craterian theatre, also tomorrow night only at the Holly theatre. The story casts Miss Hopkins in the role of Phyllis Manning, a charming southern beauty, who marries Brighton Lorrimer, scion of a once-great New York family which claims to sit the Fifth Avenue mansion as the last symbol of its crumbling grandeur. Brighton takes Phyllis home and she receives a cold reception from his embittered, imperious mother, who had planned to recoup the family fortunes by marrying him to a sausage heiress. When Martin Deering, a wealthy and influential relative, is obviously fascinated by Phyllis, her mother-in-law urges her to cultivate him. Deering arranges a profitable business connection for Brighton and frankly admits to Phyllis that his action is prompted solely by his interest in her. Finally, when there is a big Mexican oil deal upon which Brighton has blindly set his heart, Phyllis pays Deering's price rather than disillusion her success-mad husband, and a gripping climax ensues. Paul Cavanagh, Helen Westley, Billie Burke, David Niven, Katherine Alexander and Ruth Weston are also prominent in the supporting cast of "Splendor." Card of Thanks: We wish to thank the relatives and friends of Mrs. Lola Chapman for their kindness and the floral offerings; also the Sisters and Nurses of the Sacred Heart hospital, Harry Rummel. Stated Communication of Beames Chapter, O. E. S., Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Social Night. Visiting members invited. HATTIE M. ALDEN, Secty.
