

PUPILS WRITE SONGS IN COMPETITION AT LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

To encourage interest in and a better understanding of music, students from each class are submitting original song compositions in a contest being conducted at the Senior high school to select a new school song.

Each class has five judges, who select the best one of the compositions; the song is then taught the class by the supervisor. In about two weeks, the classes will compete, the winning number to become one of the school songs.

Musical activity in the Medford schools is being developed to a high standard, according to local musicians, who view with approval the vocal and instrumental training now being given under the staff of competent supervisors.

Some especially fine work is being done by the boys' and girls' glee clubs at the Senior high school, with such individual groups as boys' and girls' octettes, mixed quartet and special groups arranged and trained for particular occasions.

The 90 young singers of the combined glee clubs are said to do a type of work that ranks with that of much larger schools. The various groups provide entertainment for weekly assemblies and other school programs.

The boys' and girls' glee clubs, under the direction of Miss Floyd Young, will appear on the program at the first concert of the Medford Junior Symphony orchestra next Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium.

Salvation Army, Pilgrim Church In Joint Service

Reverend Cox, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness church of this city, announced today that plans have been completed for a special open air meeting, Saturday at 7:30 p. m., at the corner of Main and Central streets. The Pilgrim church unites with the Salvation Army in the meeting.

Present will be the "Singing French Family," evangelists, who will begin a series of revival meetings at the Pilgrim church, West Jackson street near the Roosevelt school, on Saturday evening. The evangelists will sing several numbers in the open air meeting.

Reverend Cox extends a cordial invitation to all Christian people to join the Pilgrim church and the Salvation Army in the service.

National Week To Be Observed

Beginning Sunday, March 15, the eighth annual national Business and Professional Women's week will be observed throughout the world.

Activities for the week are being planned by the local club, under direction of the president, Mrs. Ethelwyn B. Hoffman. The theme for the week is "Women, Unite for Effective Democracy."

The international organization extends its membership to 1400 clubs in the United States and a large number of foreign countries. The club was organized in 1910, and now has a membership of over 60,000 business and professional women in the United States, Hawaii and Alaska.

The American organization sponsored the founding of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women in 1930, which now has member clubs in 22 countries over the world which are uniting in one great common cause—to bring peace and understanding to all people.

Loyalty Circle Entertained Thursday

Mrs. Elton Waldron was hostess yesterday afternoon when she entertained the Loyalty circle of the Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist church for the monthly meeting.

Mrs. Raymond Harrison, president, conducted the session. Mrs. Don Hucklebee led the devotionals and Mrs. Walker presented a book review.

Refreshments were served by the hostess with Mrs. C. V. Trill presiding at the tea table.

Dances Presented At Teachers' Meeting

At a recent meeting of the Intermediate Teachers' council, Miss Virginia Hales of the Southern Oregon Normal school presented the folk dances to be used in the annual spring music festival in Ashland.

Miss Louise Woodruff, also of the normal school, will review the songs for the festival at the next meeting, scheduled for Saturday, March 21. All intermediate teachers are urged to attend.

MURRAY CONTEST TO END SATURDAY

Considerable interest has been evidenced in Murray's fourth anniversary contest which closes tomorrow night, and a large number of girls and women have sent in letters concerning the subject, "Why Murray's is the Southern Oregon's Most Popular Beauty Shop." Ten prizes will be awarded for the best letters submitted. Each entry must be limited to 100 words.

Only one day remains in which to enter competitive letters in this unique contest, scheduled to end Saturday night. Several judges have been appointed to select the 10 winners who will be credited with the following amounts in beauty services at Murray's attractive new salon: first prize, $10.00 in trade; second, $5.00 in trade; third, $3.00 in trade. Seven additional prizes of $1.00 each in trade are also offered.

In observance of his fourth anniversary in Medford, Wm. Murray is also featuring regular $5.00 permanent waves for $3.75 this month at Murray's Beauty salon, located on the second floor of Mann's department store.

Miss Bratton Appears on Program

A letter received by Medford friends of Miss Kathleen Bratton, young violinist, tells of her recent appearance on a radio program broadcast from San Francisco, where she is now studying.

She is now studying under Professor Kruger, one of San Francisco's foremost teachers. He selected Miss Bratton to play, she taking the instructor's place on that occasion. It was her first public appearance in the bay city.

Friends of Miss Bratton in southern Oregon will be interested to hear of this accomplishment by her ability. She is enrolled in a junior college in the bay area.

Leaving last night were Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Allen, Jr., whose destination was Flint, Mich.

The Allens expected to be gone some time, vacationing en route and in the east. They left by train and will motor the return journey.

Comment on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS.

READING the headlines (which, goodness knows, are sensational enough) many people are probably asking themselves this question: "Just what has really happened in Europe?"

WHAT has happened is quite simple.

The treaty of Versailles, which was forced upon a vanquished foe by arrogant victors who were more intent upon CRUSHING Germany forever than upon laying a permanent foundation for peace in Europe, provided a "demilitarized" zone along the German side of the river Rhine. That is to say, Germany was forbidden to move troops into this zone.

Germany HAS MOVED troops into this zone—starting the movement on Saturday.

IN the language of the street, Germany has "made a pass." It is now up to Germany's former enemies, especially France, to decide what they are going to do about it.

POLAND, Russia, Belgium and the nations of the little entente (Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania) have already pledged their support to France—acting, presumably, according to treaties, secret and otherwise, that have been negotiated with France in return for loans or other favors.

But none, please, that Great Britain is moving cautiously and VERY conservatively. Having announced that she will come to the aid of France and Belgium if Germany ATTACKS them, but saying nothing about the treaty of Versailles having been violated by movement of German troops into the Rhine zone.

That is INTERESTING.

YOU will recall that a little while back Great Britain was quite anxious to SPANK Italy for having reached out to grab Ethiopia (including the principal source of the Nile, which waters Egypt) and was moving heaven and earth to persuade France to help with the spanking.

But France was cool on the project, none of her colonies being watered by the Nile and not being particularly fearful of anything that Italy was proposing to do in Ethiopia.

So France did a lot of talking, but NO DOING whatever, leaving Great Britain out on the limb alone in the Ethiopian matter.

NOW it is France that is out on the limb (having been put there by Hitler's movement of troops into the Rhine zone) and Britain is correctly cursed in an Artist Model by Ethelwyn B. Hoffman.

GOOD GARDENING

Nasturtium.

The nasturtium is a food as well as a flower, and thus stands up pretty high in the grades of many city gardeners. The common dwarf and the tall variety are easily grown from seeds sown outdoors after the ground becomes warm. Plants of the dwarf variety should be thinned to stand six to eight inches apart; the tall variety to about a foot apart. The tall kind requires stakes or a trellis to climb upon. Half-ripened seeds may be added to pickles to give a pungent flavor; both leaves and flowers are used in salads. If you want to keep a fresh supply throughout the season, plantings should follow the first at intervals of five or six weeks. The soil should be heavily fertilized.

standing off to one side and carefully doing nothing about it.

If diplomats ever sank so low as to use language that ordinary people can understand (which they NEVER do) British diplomats would be smiling sourly and saying to the French: "What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander—and how do you like it?"

HITLER'S AIDE SLASHED IN DUEL WITH SCRIBES

BUDAPEST, March 13.—(AP)—Andras Meccer, leader of the Hungarian Nazi movement and known as "Hitler's personal representative in Budapest," finished a poor second in successive duels with two journalists in the officers' casino today.

The first journalist slashed Meccer's eyebrow with a sabre; the second sliced his ear.

Meccer had challenged them after he caused the ejection of newspapermen from a meeting he was addressing.

FAVOR BELATED HONOR FOR GENERAL MITCHELL

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(AP)—The house military affairs committee today approved a resolution by Chairman McSwain (D-S.C.) authorizing the award of a congressional medal of honor, posthumously, to the late Brigadier-General William Mitchell, for his World War services.

EUGENE COLE, 64, PASSES SUDDENLY

Eugene Cole, a resident of Medford for the past 22 years, passed away at his home in north Medford early this morning at the age of 64. He had been in failing health for several years, but death was not expected at this time, being a result of an acute heart attack.

He was born at Jewell, Kas., March 6, 1872, the youngest son of Zachary and Susan Cole, pioneers of Kansas. He spent his early life in Oklahoma and eastern Texas. In 1901 he was married to Minnie Lingerfelt at Dennison, Texas. He was a member of the U. S. marshal's office in Oklahoma in the '90s and the national guard in Oregon in 1917 and 1918. The family came to Medford from Kansas with the Christian church. In Medford he was an ardent member of the Odd Fellows' lodge and Encampment.

Mr. Cole was a loving husband and father, and besides his wife, Minnie, leaves three daughters: Susan Haines of Bandon, Ore.; Ethel Humphrey and Viola Aldredge of Medford; also one grandson, Robt. E. Aldredge.

Funeral services will be held at the Conger chapel at 11 a. m. Sunday, with A. J. Hanby officiating. Committal services will be under auspices of the Medford I. O. O. F. lodge in the Medford I. O. O. F. cemetery.
