

WILD HORSES SHY AT HUGE CROWD; ONLY 6 CAPTURED

to postpone the round-up until there was less public acclaim.

Ranger Port said the round-up would be held some time soon, and stated the wild horses would not "drift" far within the next ten days.

The Sunday round-up embraced the area between Buncom and Wagner Butte, and converged upon a bald peak back of the corral. Cowboys and the mustangs appeared on the assembly point at 1:30 o'clock. Shortly afterwards the stampede that failed, except for five colts, was started.

Ranger Port and veteran stockmen in the crowd attributed the small haul to the large crowd.

From dawn Sunday until late afternoon, automobiles from all parts of southern Oregon rolled into the Muddy Gulch area, and centered about the corral. Minor traffic jams marked the homeward trip, and traffic was held up for an hour while state police untangled cars on the narrow mountain road. Dust flew in clouds like mid-August.

Early arrivals included a delegation of Grants Pass Cavemen, led by Jack R. Harvey. They wore their tiger skins and shivered in the nippy mountain air.

A half dozen women riders of the Applegate and this city participated in the drive. There were many amateur photographers present, also a movie picture cameraman, and a representative of the Portland Oregonian. Views were also taken by the Rogue River National forest.

ASHLAND STARTS ROUNDUP OF DOGS

All dogs roaming unlicensed through the streets of Ashland will be picked up by a special officer assigned to that duty, and incarcerated in the city pound, it has been announced by C. P. Talent, Ashland police chief. The round-up of mutts was to get under way today.

A similar move is to be considered in this city, with a committee to report to the regular city council meeting tomorrow night. The proposed measure will probably provide that all dogs taken will be held for a short time to allow for identification, and then if they are not called for, or if they cannot be given away to responsible parties, will be done away with.

Deadline for purchasing dog tags was March 1, with 10 days of grace added to that. The grace period has now elapsed, and a penalty is being attached to those applying late for tags.

HOE HURLER GETS JAIL TERM, FINE

The satisfaction of hearing a garden cultivator-hoe through the plate glass window of a beer garden from which he had just been summarily dismissed because the "bar keep" thought he'd had enough, cost more than it was probably worth to Edward William Muehlhausen, 25, of this city.

Muehlhausen was arrested Saturday night after he had grown angry when ejected from the Log Cabin Bar, 323 East Main street, and had procured the hoe from an adjacent hardware store display and sent it crashing through the glass. He was booked by city police on a charge of disorderly conduct.

This morning, upon his plea of guilty in justice court, he was assigned a 30 day jail sentence, and ordered to pay a fine of $50, with court costs of $4.50.

BANK INSTALLING LIGHTING SYSTEM

In line with plans for numerous improvements at the Medford Branch of the First National Bank of Portland, a splendid new lighting system is being installed which will increase the illumination from 1000 to 10,000 watts.

A total of ten handsome gold overhead fixtures manufactured by the English-Baker company, of Portland, and installed by the Medford Electric company will provide a daylight effect throughout the bank. The original two ceiling fixtures were purchased from the English-Baker firm.

LOST CHILD LIVES THROUGH NIGHT OF DUST STORM, COLD

was impossible for the boy to have wondered that far in the dust," said Night Marshal W. C. Switzer of Two Buttes, one of the leaders of the search.

Schools were dismissed in Two Buttes, 200 CCG youths aided in the hunt and an airplane was sent from Denver this morning after an all night search had failed to locate the boy last night. He wandered away just before the worst dust storm of the year hit last night.

The storm rolled in along a mile-long front, one of the terrifying "black roller" types of clouds that hug the ground, obscure the countryside for miles and fill the mouth, ears, nose and eyes with black, gritty dirt.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 14. (AP)—A blinding dust, described as Clayton and Clovis as the worst since the "black terror" of April 14, 1935, apparently had spent its force today after a night of heavy blowing through eastern and southern New Mexico.

Strategic points along the 300-mile "dust front" from Clayton south to El Paso reported this morning either clear weather or conditions greatly improved over the choking storm of last night. There were no estimates of damage.

Williams Creek

WILLIAMS CREEK, March 14.—(Sp.)—Williams Ladies' club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Blodgett. There were 34 ladies present. After a short business meeting, called to order by the president, Mrs. Lela Larimore, roll call was answered by a favorite quotation or short reading after which an enjoyable short program consisting of music, readings and songs followed. Refreshments of cookies, fruit salad and punch were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Britton.

Charley Watts passed away last week. Interment was in the Sparlin cemetery Sunday afternoon. Reverend Lamkin of the Christian center near Murphy officiating at the graveside. Mr. Watts was one of the old pioneering families of Josephine county.

The newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gass, were guests of honor at a party and shower at the Williams Grange hall. The party was arranged by Mrs. Gass' sisters, Mrs. George Cogle, Mrs. Will Rodgers and Mrs. Jack Arb. Guests were limited to relatives of the honor guests and employees of the lime plant where Mr. Gass is employed. There were 33 present who were entertained with

VICKS VAPORUB

HUBBARD'S HOME FROM LONG TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hubbard have returned from a five-month motor tour during which they covered 14,000 miles, visiting in Washington, D. C., New York City, the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida, spending two months in the latter state.

They spent some time along the Gulf of Mexico, touring through Alabama and stopping for a while in New Orleans. They were also in Tennessee, and at Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas, as well as penetrating 200 miles into Old Mexico. Of all the sights they saw on the extended tour, and three included Bryce canyon in Utah, Zion national park and the Colorado canyon, they said upon their return here that they preferred southern Oregon to any part they visited.

Improvements being made at the Grange hall

The Williams Townsend club is growing. The committee on entertainment is preparing a play which they hope to have ready for the next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Hedgepeth Sr., who have been living at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Earl Whistler, have moved to a small house prepared for them near the house of their son, Dan Hedgepeth.

The sawmill owned by Mr. Elder and sons was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. Some 4,000 or 5,000 feet of lumber was burned but some

P. T. A. WILL GATHER IN GRANTS PASS FOR INSTRUCTION TUESDAY

Parent-Teacher association members from all parts of southern Oregon will convene tomorrow at Grants Pass to attend the school of instruction conducted by Mrs. Charles E. Roe, national field secretary for the association.

Mrs. Roe is traveling through Oregon, conducting schools at Klamath Falls, Grants Pass, Roseburg, Eugene, Corvallis and Portland. She has been on the staff of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers since 1924, and was before that a teacher in the Colorado public schools.

For the past eleven years, she has been a special lecturer and instructor in parent-teacher technique in summer schools, appearing in every state in the union, traveling approximately 250,000 miles and filling engagements from one end of the country to another.

State and local officials consider it an unusual privilege for Oregon members to be able to hear Mrs. Roe this year, expecting her visit to be the outstanding event in the parent-teacher year, increasing interest in and acting as impetus to the parent teacher movement in the various communities.

Local members state that a great deal of value is to be learned at the school of instruction. A number of delegations of local members have made plans for attending.

DRAW VENIRE FOR CASES TO START NEXT THURSDAY

Cases docketed for trial, starting Monday, March 30, are as follows:

Alberta V. Reynolds against the Medford Center Building company and J. E. Trevarrow, for alleged damages, as a result of a fall on a wet sidewalk.

Tuesday, March 31, Long Bell Lumber Sales Corporation vs. Moon and Walsh.

Friday, April 3, State vs. Raleigh Hoylman, habitual criminal.

Thursday, April 9, State vs. Harvey Wilson, possession of stolen property.

Friday, May 1, State vs. Andy Overstreet, statutory offense.

The period between April 9 and May 1, will be devoted by the court to holding the Josephine county circuit court session, and hearing of civil matters here.
