

Meanie Meets Meanie in Tonight's Main Match

KARASICK GIVEN CHANCE TO TAME TOUGHY HOLLIS

Chick and Rogers to Trade Grips in Middle Go — Caddock Faces Newcomer Dr. Cosneck in Opener

The main event battle between Ken Hollis and Al Karasick has excited more comment than any single wrestling match in the last several months. Promoter Mack Lillard said today in reference to the squabble between the two master meanies in the main event of the three-act card at the Armory tonight.

Hollis, still smarting from the adding given his internal mechanism by Dude Chick's larist spin last week, has promised to vent his spleen on the wary and ever dangerous Hollis tonight. Known as the most merciless butcher ever to appear in a Medford ring, Hollis has frequently expressed confidence in his ability to batter the ex-ballet dancer into insensibility.

Karasick, who will be making his second appearance here after a six months wrestling tour of the south and east, has seen Hollis wrestle only once but worked up a high regard for the Arizonian's flying fists and feet in that engagement. Asked if he thought he could weather the storm of dirty blows Hollis is sure to shower upon him, Karasick pointed to his past record, dotted with decisive wins over the fire eaters of his profession. "I get mean myself, sometimes," he said with a grin of relish at the prospect of a real battle.

"I like 'em tough. It's no fun kicking a man who lays down and takes it," the Russian said. The middle main event sees Dude Chick pitted against Stanley Rogers, the leathery Lithuanian. Rogers is of the school of thought that depends on wearing the opponent down with punishing arm holds, scissor, headlocks and slams, while Chick has a wealth of more spectacular holds, capped by his phenomenal airplane spin. In seeing Chick take two matches with that spin, Rogers has evolved the theory that the only way to stay out of the circular jaunt is to keep Chick busy disengaging himself from crab holds and other intricacies of the Rogers art. Chick will have a seven pound weight advantage.

The opening tussle will see the smoke breathing ex-gob, Mike Caddock, against a newcomer, to Medford, Dr. Barney Cosneck, University of Illinois doctor of philosophy. Caddock needs no introduction, having chewed and hammered himself into top ranking as one of the foremost local meanies. In his last match here he so enraged the usually calm Ray Frieble that Frieble almost choked him to death with a towel in an effort to induce the navy man to leave the ring.

Cosneck favors clean wrestling, and boasts a repertoire of grips calculated to subdue the most stubborn meanie. He is said to be extremely fast and aggressive, and of approximately the same size as Caddock. The first two bouts will be under the Australian system of six 10-minute rounds, the main battle to be under the American system of two-out-of-three falls or one hour of wrestling. The opening curtain goes up at 8:30.

EUGENE, Ore., March 15.—(AP)—Only two teams were really in the race for the northern division, coast conference basketball champion, and those were the only two Coach Howard Hobson of University of Oregon could see when he made his all-star selections.

Rogers Demonstrates Hold

Stanley Rogers (left, above), shown demonstrating the first step towards applying his punishing leg cradle. His opponent has apparently been in the embrace of the grip before, as is shown by his cringing shoulder hunch. Rogers will uncock all his favorite holds tonight in an effort to conquer the powerful and versatile Dude chick in their middle-main-event appearance at the Armory.

The statement that "the improvement in the Medford high school basketball team from the first of the season to the last was nothing short of phenomenal," comes from no less an authority than Head Coach Jean Eberhart of the Ashland Normal school. Eberhart made the statement Saturday while here to scout the COC basketball tournament for prospective material.

"I came down to watch Medford scrimmage a couple of times early in the season and they looked pretty hopeless," Eberhart said. He added that the passing was bad and the shooting worse, with practically none of the players versed in fundamentals.

there specially to receive the grass, ready for the planting. Those in charge of the work assert that the field will be ready for play by fall of this year. The grass to be planted is not the ordinary type lawn grass, but will be grown from seed producing strong, matted and tenacious roots. The soil thus formed will, if everything goes well, be able to withstand the wear and tear of cleats through most of the games, although it may be decided to do all the practicing of the season on the old practice field, covered with sawdust.

Not to be left behind, the Southern Oregon Normal has fallen into line and will also plant turf on their field in Ashland. The field at present is suffering from the same ailment that afflicted Ashland high school field for so many years—it is stunting, and is made up of decaying granite. The field will be leveled, and top soil put on in the future.

"ZYZZLE"

JUST suppose you wanted to find the word zyzzle in the dictionary. Would you start at the first page, leaf through the entire book and come finally to the last word, on the last page? That, you say, would be an insane waste of time.

Now, suppose you need accessories for housecleaning. Suppose you need soap, or floor-wax, or a pail and mop. Many stores are featuring real bargains in household needs for spring. Yet you waste time and effort, if you walk from store to store . . . wander from counter to counter looking for what you want at the price you want to pay.

Instead, you may sit comfortably at home and learn where and when to make the best buys. That's all printed for you in the advertisements of this paper. You have only to read them and heed them to save time, save tiresome shopping, and save money.
