"Midsummer Night's Dream" at Hunt's Craterian Thursday March 19

A panoramic view of the Max Reinhardt production of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" gives one a vague idea of the immensity and the diverse entertainment offered in the production.

Visits Parents—Dick Peterson was in Ashland last Friday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Peterson.

Parsons North—R. H. Parsons left by train last night for Seattle where he will remain some time transacting business.

Troubridge Back—Ben J. Troubridge returned Saturday morning from Portland where he made a short business trip.

At Sales Meeting—Jack Moore, of the City Electric store in Ashland, was in Medford Friday evening to attend a Copco sales meeting.

Narragans Move—Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Narragans moved yesterday to 617 North Holly street. Mr. Narragans is United States deputy marshal.

League Meeting—Zion Lutheran League will hold a regular meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the home of Mrs. Everett Bingham of 447 West Holly street.

To Attend Meet—G. I. Hays, general manager of the Associated Oil company here, was expected to leave this evening for San Francisco where he will attend a company meeting.

Spends Vacation Here—Betty Peake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Peake of Grants Pass, is spending part of her spring vacation visiting relatives in Medford.

Make Inspection—C. E. Sunderman, recreation foreman of the Rogue river national forest, and Hugh Ritter, district ranger, left today for Camp Dead Indian Soda Springs where they were to inspect the work being done by the ERA crew.

Leaves CCC Service—Lieut. Maurice D. Cochran left today for his home in Cottage Grove, having resigned from the CCC service. He has been on duty with the CCC the past year, his latest post having been at Camp Indian Creek.

Townsend Meeting—Medford Townsend club No. 3 will hold a regular business meeting at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in St. Mark's Guild hall on North Oakdale avenue at Fifth street. The public is invited to attend.

To Zone Parley—Capt. William C. Ryan, welfare officer of the Medford CCC district, and Eugene C. Golden, educational adviser, left today for Camp Bly where they will participate in a two-day zone educational conference.

Hess Leaves—Arthur Hess left Saturday evening by train for San Francisco where he will transact business.

Attend Funeral—Among those from out-of-town attending the funeral of Malcolm Tams here last Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Guetzlaff, Mrs. Anna Guetzlaff, Mrs. J. Hessemer and Florence Henderson, all of Ashland.

At Clinic—P. H. Peck of this city underwent an eye operation at the Otopathic clinic and hospital this morning. Victor Olmsted of Galice had his tonsils removed this morning, and it was reported that Fred M. Middlebush of Prospect, who underwent a similar operation Saturday, has recovered nicely.

To Meet At School—Mothers of the Washington school district planning to attend the P-T-A. institute in Grants Pass were requested to meet at the school tomorrow morning so that all may leave together at 9 o'clock. The institute is to open at 10 o'clock in the Grants Pass high school. Salads or desserts are to be provided by Jackson county delegates.

New Bookkeeper—C. H. Duncan today assumed his new position as bookkeeper of Grater lake national park. He replaces J. A. Shepherd who transferred last week to Grand Canyon national park. Mr. Duncan comes from San Francisco. He formerly was employed at Yosemite national park. He will be joined here about April 1 by Mrs. Duncan and the couple will make their home here.

Take Navy Tests—Alfred Kuhl of Medford, James A. Mills of Central Point and Dean M. French and Harold A. Gordon of Klamath Falls left by train today for Portland where they will take their final examinations for enlistment in the United States navy. They were accepted for enlistment here recently. If they pass the Portland tests they will go to the naval training station in San Diego for a three months' course in preliminary work.

Optometrists Meet—The following papers were read at a regular business meeting of the southern district of the Oregon Optometric association in the Hotel Medford last night: "The Conditioned Reflexes Applied in Optometry," by Dr. Robert E. Lee; "How Much Light is Enough?" by Dr. Arthur Simmons of Klamath Falls; "Your Silent Partner," by Dr. O. H. Schertz of Grants Pass; and "Orthoptics," by Dr. Lloyd Goble of Klamath Falls.

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in Craterian Picture

"Rose Marie," one of the world's favorite musical romances, was brought to the screen of the Craterian theater yesterday, and so popular was the film with showgoers that capacity crowds filled the theater to overflowing.

The musical appeal, the beautiful romance, the picturesque background of the tall pines, the lakes and rugged mountains, together with the "Naughty Marietta" team of Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy make "Rose Marie" outstanding entertainment. Such favorite songs as "The Indian Love Call," "Rose Marie I Love You," "Pardon Me Madame" and others of like culture, brilliantly sung by the stars, take on added beauty in this screen presentation of the famous light opera.

The story shows Miss MacDonald as a famous singer, and at the height of a triumph in Montreal, learning her brother has broken jail and the Mounties are out to get their man. Rushing to the north woods, robbed and deserted by her guide, made to look tragically ridiculous as she attempts to match her artistic talents with those of a henky tonky red hot, she meets is befriended by, becomes infatuated with and runs away from the Mountie—played by Nelson Eddy. Saved from drowning by him, love flames anew as he sings the beautiful "Rose Marie" song. It flames intensely and so does the entertainment—as alone with the Mountie in the woods she hears the haunting strains of "The Indian Love Call" and love is glorious as first he, then she and finally both together sing its legend.

Alone she finds her brother and her happiness is great. A twist of pathos ensues as the Mountie, despite his love, is responsive only to his duty and claims his man. It seems an end has come to a beautiful dream.

The scene shifts to the opera again. But the collapse of the star sends her back to the woods to recuperate, and find eternal love with the Mountie.

WINTER CARNIVAL SET FOR SUNDAY, APRIL 26, IN CRATER LAKE PARK

Sunday, April 26 was selected as the date for a big winter carnival in Crater Lake national park at a meeting yesterday afternoon of executives of sports clubs at government headquarters in the park.

It was voted not to hold a competitive meet but a carnival of special interest to spectators, with a program of thrilling and colorful events.

Organizations represented at the meeting were the Rogue Snowmen, the Ski club of Fort Klamath and the Klamath Falls Snow Club. David H. Canfield, superintendent, and J. Carlisle Crouch, chief ranger, represented the park service. Mr. Canfield stated the road to the lake rim and an adequate parking area would be cleared in time for the carnival. Sam Jennings, president of Rogue Snowmen, presided.

Fifty-nine cars and 173 persons registered at park headquarters yesterday. Most of the visitors spent the day in skiing, conditions for the sport being described as perfect.

Rudy Leuk, caretaker at the Wineglass, CCC camp, and Cecil Morris of Klamath Falls engaged in some spectacular feats for the entertainment of spectators. Mr. Morris, through
