

PARENTS AND BOYS HOLD DECISION ON HIGH SCHOOL ROTC

Establishment of an R. O. T. C. unit in the Medford Senior high school depends upon the interest manifested by male students...

Blanks giving personal data, with space for parental approval are now being circulated among the youths.

As far as local school authorities know, it is the first time that an Oregon high school student body has considered the formation of an R. O. T. C. unit.

"We are not going to make formal application to the Ninth Army corps for establishment of an R. O. T. C. unit until we have signed applications of 100 more boys."

Principal Smith said, "Their parents must approve of the action. In a week or so we ought to be able to determine, whether or not there is sufficient interest, and the required number of applicants."

"We will require at least 125 applicants as to make allowances for discharges, etc., and keep the enrollment up to the 100 required by army regulations."

Principal Smith said a petition was circulated ten days ago among the students for the formation of an R. O. T. C. unit, but this was not being considered as many claimed they "did not know what they were signing."

If the required number is secured, said the principal, application will be made and the R. O. T. C. unit started with the fall term of school next September.

Kiwanians Defeat Ladies at Bridge

Male members of the Kiwanis club were strutting a bit today over the victory wrested from their ladies at the St. Patrick's Day dinner party at the Hotel Medford last night.

Despite the fact, however, that the men as a whole were victorious, two ladies, Mrs. F. G. Thayer, and Miss Helen Bullis, walked off with the highest scores of the evening.

Dinner in the hotel dining room preceded the evening of cards, parties being drawn by lot. Approximately forty-five members and their ladies were entertained for the evening, which was considered a most successful one by those present.

Arrangements for the affair were in charge of Robert W. Frame, who was assisted by Coyte Briggs.

First of Students Home for Vacation: Among the first students being welcomed home by friends and families for the spring vacation was Miss Dorothy Young, daughter of Mrs. R. W. Stearns, who arrived this morning from Corvallis, where she is a student at Oregon State college.

From the University of Oregon campus at Eugene came Miss Dorothy Gore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gore, and Miss Ona D. Hendrickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Hendrickson. Miss Rosa Gore is expected to arrive from Eugene this evening.

The student vacation will come to a close next Sunday, when students will return to the various schools of their enrollment.

constitutionally do could not be done by another department of state government," Justice Rand held.

The matter of upset prices has been at issue before the legislature here in recent years.

The opinion modified the decree of the lower court, presided over by Judge H. D. Norton by affirming the orders directing a resale of the mortgaged properties, but reversing the orders fixing a minimum price at resale and denying the plaintiff possession of the property pending a resale.

The upset price which was established by the court would have amounted to about $90,000 including interest and taxes on the land mortgaged to satisfy notes. The sale was ordered on mortgage foreclosure.

NEW AAA SET-UP IS ANNOUNCED TO SPEED FUND BILL

Wallace said the new regional divisions would complete the work of the former divisions in liquidating the AAA production control program.

The order signed by Wallace leaves undisturbed these other administrative units of the old AAA—division of marketing and marketing agreements, division of program planning, and division of consumers' counsel.

In addition, Wallace said the old AAA sugar section would continue to administer quotas and other phases in connection with the sugar program.

AAA attorneys held several weeks ago that the supreme court's decision invalidating AAA production control did not affect the Jones-Costigan act which provided for establishment of sugar marketing quotas.

Headquarters of the regional divisions will be maintained in Washington. These offices will deal directly with individual states. However, under the new organization, Wallace said much of the administrative work of examining and auditing producers' applications for subsidies for soil conserving would be done in the states instead of in the capital.

OREGON MOTHERS SPONSOR DANCE

To aid in raising funds for a scholarship loan, the University of Oregon Mothers are sponsoring a dance next Saturday evening at Dreamland hall in honor of students home for spring vacation.

Guests will be students of all colleges, former students and townpeople. Music will be furnished by Steve Whipple's orchestra and the entertainment program for the evening will include vocal numbers by La Merle Beck and an exhibition dance by Miss Marjorie McNair and her partner.

Recipient of the scholarship loan this year will be a boy, those in charge have announced. Advance ticket sales indicate one of the largest crowds ever to attend a vacation dance, great interest having been shown by townspeople so far.

Tickets may be obtained at The Toggery.
