To Hear Lecture—A number of Medford townpeople drove to Ashland this afternoon to hear the lecture presented by Dr. Jiro Hirada, Oriental scholar, at the Lithia hotel. The lecture was sponsored by the Ashland branch of the A. A. U. W.

Minstrel Show—Tonight—"Lulu's Cotton Pickers" minstrel show produced by the auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be presented tonight in Oasts hall, Eagle Point. Proceeds will be used in carrying on the auxiliary's humanitarian work.

Home From School—Students returning home this week to spend the few days of spring vacation visiting parents included Max Carter, Bob Hignam and Donald Richardson, of the University of Oregon. Edward Reames also arrived this week from the Eugene campus.

Rehearsals Scheduled—Two rehearsals are scheduled this week-end for the Jackson County Teachers' chorus, one to be at the regular time, 10 tomorrow morning, and the other at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, both at the courthouse auditorium. The meetings are announced as very important and Mrs. Esther Church Leake, director, asks every member to be present.

To Conference—Fred W. Scheffel, city superintendent, and Kenneth V. Hill, engineer in charge of supervision of the Medford sewage disposal plant construction, left by motorcar this morning to attend the conference of the League of Oregon Cities in Eugene. They were accompanied by their wives. The group will continue to Portland after the conference, having planned to return to Medford Sunday.

Will Rogers' Last Film Coming

Will Rogers, who left an unerasable mark on the hearts of American showgoers and American people in general, returns to life on the screen of the Rialto theatre Sunday in "Steamboat Round the Bend," one of his most down-to-earth pictures, with the unmistakable Rogers touch that so endeared the star to the public. With its background the mighty Mississippi river, the film is the story of the "Claremont Queen" and "Pride of Paducah," the old paddle-wheelers respectively owned by Rogers and his old side-kick, Irvin S. Cobb. Their race is now as famous as the picture and gives the story its thrilling finale. Also in the cast are Anne Shirley, Eugene Palette and Stepin Fetchit.

Mae West on Craterian Sunday Bill

"Mae Day" comes early this year. Mae West's new picture "Klondike Annie," opens Sunday at the Craterian theatre. In the best Western tradition, "Klondike Annie" is a breezy story of San Francisco's Barbary Coast and the fabulous Alaskan Gold Rush, with the blonde star swinging thru a series of amusing and exciting situations with the same skeptical twinkle in her eye and the traditional "C'mup'n see me"—or its equivalent—on her lips. Mae is again a gay and ornamental little hero of "The Informer" and "Professional Soldier." In her principal role, McLaglen is cast as commander of a steamship to which Mae flees after her escape from a gambling house on the Barbary Coast where she has been held a prisoner. In the battle that makes her escape possible, a man is killed, so Mae heads for the remotest spot possible—Alaska, where the Gold Rush is roaring on at full tilt. McLaglen, enamoured of his late passenger, is delighted to be able to taxi her North in his vessel. Then the real drama of the '30's, and Victor McLaglen, in action start.

PAULETTE WEARS RING; IS MUM ON MARRIAGE

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlement, March 20.—(UP)—Paulette Goddard, wore a platinum and diamond wedding ring today, but she refused to confirm or deny her reported marriage to Charlie Chaplin, screen comedian.

It was believed the couple was married en route here from Manila on an around-the-world cruise.

Chaplin made no effort today to obtain the special license required by colony law to have the ceremony performed here.

Charlie and Miss Goddard plan to leave Sunday by airplane for Bali, Dutch East Indies.

Western Thriller On Roxy's Program

The hard-riding, gun-toting, devil-may-care days of the old West will be vividly brought back on the screen of the Roxy theatre Sunday when John Wayne, on his wonder-horse Duke, dashes through the blood-stirring scenes of "The Desert Trail."

Wayne, a two-titled, red-blooded rodeo star, has as his bosom pal, Kansas Charlie, an inveterate gambler, but nevertheless a straight-shooting, he-man. The two friends are inseparable except where women are concerned. When the rodeo promoters attempt to cheat Wayne out of his rightful prize money, the two pals take the law into their own hands and take the award from the rodeo office at gun-point.

After Wayne and Kansas have left the promoter's office, two desperados hold up the place, kill the promoter and rob the safe of the remaining money. From this point on the story is packed with breath-taking drama. Wayne becomes an instrument of justice as he packs the plot with suspense and thrills.

The final episode of the serial "Tailspin Tommy" will be shown on the same program with "The Desert Trail."

Stated Communication of Medford Lodge No. 103 A. F. & A. M., Friday, March 20th at 7:30 P. M. Visitors invited. O. O. Horner, W. M. GEO. ALDEN, Secy.

HARRY J. HAGEN DIES, PORTLAND

PORTLAND, March 20.—(Sp.)—Harry Joseph Hagen, 35, native of Portland, died Thursday at his home, 5235 North Vancouver avenue.

He was born in this city May 4, 1900, and received his early education at the Highland school. He also was a graduate of Jefferson high school. By vocation he was a mechanic.

For several years he was prominently identified with semi-professional baseball here and was a member of the Associated Oil company team.

Funeral services have been arranged tentatively for 1 p.m. Saturday from the chapel of the Wilson-Chambers mortuary.

Survivors include the widow Isabel and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hagen of Portland. Two brothers, Alfred and Edward Hagen of Medford and a sister, Mrs. George E. Lexon, of Stevenson, Wash., also survive.

Al Hagen and Ed Hagen of this city are in Portland to attend the funeral of their brother Harry.
