INDUSTRY HALTS IN NEW ENGLAND; FEAR EPIDEMICS

during the week, was receding, but slowly.

Epidemics menaced. There was scarlet fever at Southbridge, Mass., and at Amherst. All of the cities worst hit by the waters were alert to the menace of health. Unusual precautions were being taken everywhere. The Red Cross and the federal health service were extending their help wherever the need existed.

There was martial law in dozens of places. Looters were promptly dealt with.

Word came finally from Rumford, Maine, which had been isolated two days by the wild-running Androscoggin river. Five hundred families were being cared for there by others more fortunate.

Industry throughout the Connecticut and Merrimac valleys was at a standstill.

Many cities from Connecticut to Maine were without power.

Ill Wind, Etc.

There was one man who had reason to gloat as the flood waters rose in the prison at Wethersfield, Conn. He was John Stombroki who killed a policeman and was sentenced to be executed next Wednesday. Tonight the water stood 18 inches deep in the death chamber. There was a good chance that the flood may have delayed his execution.

Hartford, among all New England cities, has suffered most. The waters stand many feet deep in some places. Hundreds have been driven from their homes. More than 1,600 national guardsmen were patrolling the streets last night. The Red Cross was caring for 2,500 persons. The damage in Hartford alone was estimated at $10,000,000 in the worst calamity the city has ever known in its 300 years of experience.

KRUGER LISTED AS BEST AT TOURNEY

SALEM, March 21.—(AP)—Merle Kruger, guard of the state champion Corvallis basketball team was voted the most outstanding player by officials following the final conference game here tonight. Kruger had also been named a member of the all-state team.

Ted Sarpola, three-time all-state forward, who played with Astoria was awarded the trophy for the most valuable man to his team. His team placed fourth in the tournament.

Harrison Wallace, a member of the Beilfountain B team which won third position in the 16-team conference won the award for the most outstanding sportsman.

LIGHTED HIGHWAYS URGED TO REDUCE AUTO CONGESTION

OAKLAND, Cal.—(UP)—Electrically illuminated highways extending from coast to coast and from the Canadian to the Mexican border, is the 16-year-old dream of Guel S. Hoag, secretary of the Lincoln Highway association.

And now with rural electrification spreading, thus lowering the cost of electricity, Hoag believes his dream is about to come true.

The advantages to be derived from electrical illumination of highways have already been demonstrated along the "Ideal Section" of the Lincoln highway between the towns of Dyer and Scheerville, Ind., close to the Illinois state line, Hoag explains.

This stretch, only one and one-third miles long, was constructed in 1920. Non-glare electric lights were placed every 300 feet along the highway and arranged in such a manner as to illuminate the entire roadway and make driving as safe at night as in the daytime. During the two years the illumination was maintained, not a single accident occurred.

However, the greatest benefit to be derived from illumination, Hoag believes, lies in the fact that the real usefulness of the highways will be extended to their full value for the entire 24 hours of the day.

He argues that this 24 hours a day of equal usefulness would lessen the pressure and dangers of daytime peaks of traffic. Truck drivers, especially, he is convinced, once they learn that night driving is as easy and safe as day driving, would switch much of their traffic to the night hours, thus lessening congestion during the day.

Until such a time as cheap electrical power is supplied generally to farmers, illumination of the highways, he admits, will not be feasible from a cost standpoint. But he is convinced that it will be the next great step in the automotive age.

MOTHER LOU ANN MARKLE DEPARTS AFTER REST HERE

Mrs. George (Peggy) Markle, mother of little Lou Ann Markle, who is in the Shrine hospital in Portland where she was rushed by boat from Anchorage, Alaska, for treatment of an injury received from an ice skate several weeks ago, silently stole into Medford a week ago and as silently stole north last night. She was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Daniels while here, and spent most of her time recuperating from the strain undergone during the critical period of her daughter's illness.

The Markles left Medford for Anchorage three years ago next November. Lou Ann, who is now 10 years old, asked her mother to say "hello" to all her schoolmates in this city. She is now in the fifth grade in the Anchorage schools.

Mrs. Markle said that the little girl is improving rapidly and, while still weak, has regained much of her vitality. Her spirits have remained high through the pain of her injury.

Mrs. Markle is permitted to see her daughter only for a few hours on Sundays, the rest of the time being advised of Lou Ann's condition through hospital bulletins and the newspapers.

The little girl was injured while walking home from a skating rink. Swinging her skates, the sharp blade of one struck against her knee, and infection set in. The initial operation, performed in Alaska, was not successful, and she was sent to Portland for more expert treatment.

In three more weeks the final operation will be performed on the leg bone and then Lou Ann will be confined for at least another year before she can return to her northern home. She will probably carry a limp from the series of operations, but her mother stated last night that she has displayed high courage in the face of the adversity.

Both Lou Ann and her mother like their home in Anchorage, but Mrs. Markle admitted that it was nice being in Medford again, and regretted that she was unable to visit her many friends while here.

WOMAN THWARTS 115 WPA WORKERS

TACOMA, March 21.—(AP)—One lone woman is keeping 115 men from working.

That was the situation revealed in superior court today when Deputy Prosecutor John E. Belcher, acting for Pierce county on behalf of drainage district No. 10, asked the court for an injunction against Katherine Heggie of Lakeview, near here. Belcher is seeking the order to prevent Mrs. Heggie from interfering with work of a WPA crew in the district.

A drainage ditch runs through Mrs. Heggie's property near the county airport, the complaint states, the defendant refusing to permit workmen to enter her property and clean out the ditch. The project amounts to an expenditure of $24,977.

Lecture hour was turned over to Mr. Wright of Phoenix, who gave a very instructive and interesting talk on turkeys and chickens. His talk was informal and everyone present was given opportunity to have their poultry problems settled. Several members had important questions answered.

Mrs. Tedrick, chairman of ways and means committee, announced a card party to be held in the Grange hall Friday evening, March 27. Tables of contract, auction, pinochle and 500. Prizes will be given and refreshments served. The public is cordially invited.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 21.—(AP)—Oak Leaf Motors of Chicago were riding high at the top of five-man team standings in the American bowling congress tournament today by reason of a dazzling 3,054 total they scored last night.

The Chicagoans surpassed the winning tournament total of last year—the 3,029 rolled by Wolfe's Tire Service of Niagara Falls, N. Y., the second game figures were the second highest in A. B. C. history. The Tea Shop five of Milwaukee, Wis., holds the record with 1,186 pined up in the 1927 tourney at Peoria, Ill.

ELLSWORTH HOME FROM POLAR TRIP

SAN PEDRO, Calif., March 21.—(AP)—Lincoln Ellsworth, noted explorer of the Polar regions, arrived today on the Mariposa from Melbourne, Australia. He was lost 51 days in the southern icy wastes last winter.

Whistles of practically every craft in the harbor sounded in salute and a fleet of 25 planes appeared overhead.

Ellsworth, appearing fit, said he had realized a four-year ambition when, last November, he flew over the Antarctic continent in his plane, the Polar Star. The ship was piloted by Herbert Hallick-Kenson, former Canadian World war pilot.

To Tourney—Bill Bowerman, his mother, and Russell Achison and Otto Frohnmayer drove north yesterday morning to attend the finals of the state basketball tournament in Salem last night. They expected to return today.

Speeder Blamed for Jville Road Mishap

Rnuel Shaver, 21, of Central Point reported to city police yesterday that the machine he was driving had been crowded off the Jacksonville highway at about 9:30 Friday evening by a speeding auto approaching from the opposite direction. Shaver and his two companions, Herman Gotfeld, 20, of Jacksonville, and Lewis Hedgpeth, 20, of Central Point, all received cuts and bruises.

The racing machine which crowded the Shaver car did not stop, police said, and as yet no traces of the speeder have been found.
