CREEKS TO OFFER BEST FISHING AT SEASON OPENING

With trout season opening Sunday, April 5, dawn will probably find a horde of fishermen from this city out in an attempt to make the first catch of the season. According to state police, who have been conducting a survey of the streams of the valley, the Rogue river is still muddy and will not offer good trout fishing for some time yet.

The smaller streams are in excellent condition, however, they report. Bait fishing with worms will produce the most fish, the officers report, but some luck may be had with spinners. Flies will not be effective until the water clears.

The trout season extends until October 31. The bag limit for trout is 15 pounds and one fish, not to exceed 20 fish, in any one day, or 30 pounds and one fish, not to exceed 40 fish in any seven consecutive days. It is unlawful to possess more than 80 fish at any one time.

Provisions of the law specifically affecting Jackson county follow: "That part of the north fork of Little Butte creek from the outlet of said stream down approximately three-quarters of a mile to a point where bridge crosses said stream open season for angling, April 5 to August 15, both dates inclusive.

"Fish lake from its head for a distance of one-quarter mile below the head of said lake, closed to angling. Open season for angling in that part of Fish lake, April 5 to August 15.

"Rogue river from the Gold Key dam to a point 400 feet downstream from the dam, closed to angling.

The 30-30 club committee working on the regatta to be held at Emigrant Lake Easter Sunday are not sparing the losses. The meet will be the first one in this part of the state sanctioned by the Oregon Outboard Racing association, and entries are being received from Portland, Seattle, San Francisco, Stockton, Marysville and other spots along the coast.

Prospects are for a gala day if it doesn't snow, or rain, and the club members are planning on arranging the parking along the banks of the lake so that everyone who buys a ducat can have a good squint at the festivities. The regatta is a mile long, and the regatta will be run in two heats in each of the six events.

To date the local skippers have shed clear of the meet. Of course there aren't many pilots in Medford, but there are a few and it will add greatly to the race if Medford racers win or place. With that in mind the committee, handling the thing are scuttling about trying to convince the various pilots they should enter.

A special event that would add something to the race would be exhibition diving by Prince Mihalakis, the Arabian wrestler now here. Mihalakis was runner-up in the Olympic diving tryouts for the United States a few years ago, but was eliminated when he was charged with having wrestled professionally.

He has told Promoter Mack Lillard that he'd like to dive at any time, from any height up to 120 feet. Emigrant lake is going to be colder than an old maid's kiss Easter, but the prince may decide to take one dip at least. A platform with a tower will have to be constructed, since there's nothing to leap from now.

Lillard, without having paid much attention to the set-up at the lake, suggested that Mihalakis dive off the dam.

If he dived off the side where the water is he'd only have to go down a few feet. If he dived off the other side he'd go down a long way but would have considerable difficulty in getting back since there's no water on that side. Even the prince admits that he's not one of these there's nothing to leap from now.

W. L. Crowe, importer, said it represented about a third of the wool expected. Other shipments have been received recently and the total movement is expected to reach 2,000,000 pounds.

The importer said much of the wool will be released to mills immediately and the remainder will be stored. The average duty is 29 cents a pound, with the final coat to mills running between 52 and 68 cents.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 1.—(AP)—The Monmouth pool rejected bids on 50,000 pounds of Willamette valley wool, traders said today.

The bids offered were 30 to 30½ cents a pound for the pool, which comprised both medium and coarse wools.

ROSEBURG, Ore., April 1.—(AP)—Umpqua valley fruit crops suffered considerably injury last night as a result of record cold and frost, although the amount of damage can not yet be estimated, according to J. Roland Parker, county agent.

Peach trees are in full bloom, and it is believed that the low temperature of 25 degrees last night has killed the buds and will probably cause loss of the greater part of the crop.

Last night's low temperature has been experienced only once before in April, weather bureau records showing a temperature of 25 degrees on April 3, 1918.

OAKLAND UPSETS DOPE TO REMAIN AMONG LEADERS

(By the Associated Press)

Upsetting the best prognosticators and the normally high flying Angels, Oakland's Acorns insisted on staying with the Pacific Coast baseball league leaders today.

It took the first extra inning game of the young season to do the trick. Behind the smart pitching of Hank McDonald the Oaks nose out Los Angeles, 3-2, in ten innings yesterday.

McDonald allowed only five hits, but one of them was a homer by Wes Schulmerich with one on in the seventh.

Accompanying the Acorns as the circuit's current topnotchers were the Mission Reds, winners of the season's first night game. Lloyd Johnson led the Portland Ducks down last night, 4 to 2.

Seventeen men got into the lineup for the Seattle tribe, but didn't keep it from losing a 6-2 game to the San Diego Padres. Seattle's four pitchers didn't allow any more hits than did Herman Pillette, but they were hit at the wrong time.

San Francisco's Seals and Sacramento's Senators were rained out at the California capital.

The standings:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Oakland	3	1	.750
Mission	3	1	.750
Los Angeles	2	2	.500
San Diego	2	2	.500
Portland	2	2	.500

ALL-YEAR PLAYHOUSE PLANNED BY COLLEGE FOR CAMPUS AND CITY

BENNINGTON, Vt.—(UP)—A theater, unique in design and planned to serve the needs of the town as well as the college community, is to be built here on the campus of Bennington college.

The facade of the theater will serve as the background for an outdoor stage with a stadium seating more than 500 persons. Within the auditorium has been designed to be flexible in size, with a seating capacity ranging from 350 to 570.

This is to be achieved by building the ticket office and exhibition desk room with folding and sliding walls, so that they can be removed, increasing the floor area. The stage will also be flexible, with sliding platforms to permit considerable variation in size.

Rehearsal rooms, costume shop, entrance and work rooms will be provided. The building will be used throughout the year, with the school of the dance housed there during the summer.
