

Oilers Rout Washington 48 to 30 in Olympic Basketball Tryouts

HUSKIES FOLD UP IN SECOND HALF; UNIVERSALS WIN

Towering Kansans Held Even in First Periods, Score at Will in Final Offense.

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP)—Thirteen players from the McPherson, Kan., Oilers and the Universal Pictures of Hollywood assured themselves of a trip to Berlin tonight when they shot their way into the finals of the Olympic basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden. The Oilers turned back the University of Washington 48 to 30 after the Universals had eliminated the Wilmerding, Pa., Y. M. C. A. 42 to 29.

In reaching the final of the National A. A. U. championships, the Oilers, the title holders, staged a great second half drive to eliminate the last of the five college quintets, The Universals, runner-up for the A. A. U. crown, overpowered the Y. M. C. A. champions with a slow breaking offense that got results from the start.

The Oilers were slower than usual finding the range and found themselves trailing 19 to 14 after 14 minutes of play in a nip and tuck affair that saw the lead change hands frequently. The champions then went to town. They rolled in eight more points before the end of the closing session before Ralph Bishop broke through to score for the collegians.

Coach Gene Johnson used every one of his towering players but the combination made no difference in the Oilers' sensational second half offense. Francis Johnson, brother of the coach, led the attack with 15 points but Joe Fortenberry, six foot eight inch center, accounted for 12 and four other of the players broke into the scoring column.

The Oilers were unable to shake Ed Lovrich loose as they did last night, when he scored 20 points, but he managed to sink four field goals to lead the Collegians' attack.

ETTINGER STARS IN 80-33 ROUT OF KERBY SQUAD

The Medford high school track team, running an impromptu meet against Kerby high school here Saturday afternoon after the triangular meet at Grants Pass had been cancelled because of rain in the Climate City, turned in an 80½ to 33½ win in the first complete dual meet the local school has had in its history.

Bobby Ettinger was the Tiger star, turning in three first places and competing in the relay event to give the locals a wide range in that event. Grow turned in two firsts to tie with George Kerby for that honor.

Ettinger romped in first in the 100-yard dash in 11.10, slow time caused by a soggy track. He was trailed by Crosby of Medford and Boyd of Kerby. Ettinger repeated his win in the 220, followed by Tyler of Kerby and Crosby of Medford.

The 440 run went to Medford with Linnell finishing first in 56 seconds flat, with George (K) next and Wright (M) third. George won the 880 in 2:18.5, hotly trailed by Doty and Werner of Medford.

The Tigers made a clean sweep in the mile, with Stocks setting such a hot pace in the first lap that he ran the Kerby opposition into the ground, to win by a large margin.

The relay team, with Verbeck as lead-off man, and Crosby and Ettinger running second and third with Linnell as anchor, finished 30 yards in the lead.

George took the 70-yard high hurdles, with Bowman and Luther of Medford second and third. Boyd (K) grabbed first in the low hurdles, with Luther and Bowman finishing second and third.

Ettinger, in his first broad jump, cleared 18 feet, 8½ inches, far enough ahead of the field for Coach Bill Bowman to withdraw him. Horner (M) and Tucker (K) finished next.

Grow cleared 4 feet 11 inches in the high jump for first, with Wilson (K), Curry (M) and Tucker ending in that order. Grow also took the shotput with a heave of 34 feet 4 inches with Earhart (M) and Tyler (K) tied for next.

Busy of Medford took the discus toss with a hurl of 86 feet, followed by Erickson (M) and Tyler (K). Doty (M) and Boyd (K) tied at 10 feet in the pole vault, with Evans (M) third.

Coach Gene Johnson used every one of his towering players but the combination made no difference in the Oilers' sensational second half offense.

Francis Johnson, brother of the coach, led the attack with 15 points but Joe Fortenberry, six foot eight inch center, accounted for 12 and four other of the players broke into the scoring column.

OAKS KEEP LEAD; MISSION ROOKIE ROUTS PORTLAND

Beaver Ace Hurlers Batted From Box—Seattle Grabs Slugfest.

(By United Press)

Oakland won its sixth game in seven starts Saturday to retain its pace-making post in the Pacific Coast league race and to confound further the critics who had picked Bill Meyers' clubs as an also-ran.

Playing the same heads-up ball behind excellent pitching that has marked their performance since the getaway last Saturday, the Oaks today moved down the Los Angeles Seals, 6-1. The game was in doubt until the sixth, when the Oakland entry unleashed a four-run attack, aided by Leroy Anton's homer.

Jack Larocca, a rookie with a blinding fast ball, scattered seven hits and kept the Angels scoreless after the third for his second win of the season.

The Mission Reds kept a game behind the pace-makers by beating Portland, 5-3. As was the case with the Oaks, it was a rookie, left-handed Frank Lamanski, who turned in the win. Hit hard at times, Lamanski put on pressure in the tight places and hurled courageously to score his second victory. George Caster, Portland's No. 1 hurler, was batted from the box.

Paul Gregory of Seattle also made it victory No. 2 of the campaign by chalking up a 7-5 win over San Diego in a free-hitting contest. The Indians battered Pillette for 13 safeties and scored up the game with a three-run spurge in the ninth. San Diego also rallied in the last frame but Gregory shut them off after one run scored.

San Francisco and Sacramento were idle because of wet grounds.

MEMORIAL COLISEUM, Los Angeles, April 4.—(UP)—On a muddy, slow track and with a chill wind whistling through the stadium, the University of California's Golden Bear track team today soundly trounced University of California at Los Angeles, 97 to 34, in their dual meet.

Runners, jumpers and weight tossers of the northern branch of the state university piled up a total of 11 first places and three clean sweeps to outclass completely their "little brothers" of Los Angeles.

With exception of the pole vault, in which Dick Valentine of UCLA set a new meet mark with a leap of 13 feet, six inches, times and distances in all events were below average. The soggy track, which rolling and filling had failed to dry materially after last night's showers, forced runners to sweep wide on the turns and slowed every race.

PECK MEETS PETE IN RETURN BOUT ON ARMORY CARD

"The best wrestling card I've had in over six months" is the way Promoter Mack Lillard describes tomorrow night's three-star card at the Armory when Pete Belcastro, Pacific coast junior heavyweight champion, tangles in a rematch with Frankie Peck, cement jawed San Franciscan, on the main event.

Both men are clean mat artists as are Prince Mihalikas, Arabian nobleman, and Dr. Barney Cosneck, Ph.D. from the University of Illinois in the middle event and Danny Savich of Utah and Frank Taylor of Ohio State, who clash in the opener.

Two things distinguish each of the gladiators; each is fast and clever and possesses a world of holds, and each is clean. Of the six men on the bill only one has ever started any underhanded mat work on his own volition, and that one, Belcastro, has sworn off the dirty work for over a year.

Without promising as much, Champion Belcastro has intimated that if Peck takes tomorrow's fracas, the championship belt will be at stake for a future match. He has, however, refused to post the trophy in the coming engagement.

Each man on the card has his own specialty. Belcastro features a giant swing, his new rope-swing and back body drop, and his Mexican death lock; Peck features a skull crunching head lock and the hammer lock; Mihalikas has his own version of the reverse Indian deathlock which he has termed his "camel lock"; and Cosneck relies strongly on a rolling wrist lock and head scissors.

Savich, former All-American football guard from the University of Utah, relies on an old football specialty, the flying tackle, while Taylor, also a football player, from Ohio State, features a hold of his own, a wrist lock with which he flails the mat with an opponent. It was with this hold, and Tuffy Cleet as the mop, that Taylor washed out a floor jolt at the Armory several months ago.

There has been no rise in prices for the all-star card, Lillard said.

COOPER WITH 139 HELD CINCH FOR AUGUSTA HONORS

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 4.—(UP)—Light horse Harry Cooper, Chicago veteran, ruled the Augusta National again today as the all-star field of 53 passed the half-way mark.

Cooper, who owns one of the most consistent scoring records among American professionals, proved his consistency today by adding a 69, three strokes under par, to an opening 70, to lead the field by five strokes.

When the sun dipped, Cooper was so far in front that two casually good rounds should be enough for him to win the title.

For instance, at 144 are two dangerous foemen. They are Denny Shute of Boston, who won the British open in 1932, and Bobby Cruickshank, Richmond, who is one of the greatest players never to have won a major title. Shute today had a pair of 34's for 68, while Cruickshank had 35-34-69.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 4.—(UP)—George Dunlap, New York Internationalist, today further established himself as one of the world's finest amateur golfers when he won the annual north and south amateur championships for the fourth year in succession.

Dunlap's victim today was Acquilla Giles, New York, and the score was 8 and 7. He rolled over the Manhattan club player just as easily as he did his other final round opponents in 1931, 1933, 1934 and 1935.

EUGENE, April 4.—(AP)—Rain forced a postponement of Oregon's opening baseball game this week, between the University of Oregon and Pacific university. The season, weather permitting, will be started Tuesday when the Webfeet play Oregon normal.

NORTHWEST SWIM LAURELS TAKEN BY OREGON SQUAD

EUGENE, Ore., April 4.—(AP)—The Oregon swimming team retained its northern division coast conference championship here Saturday by outscoring Washington, Washington State and Oregon State.

The Webfoots, taking every first place except one, scored 65 points. Washington rolled up 26, Washington State 16, and Oregon State 10. Idaho did not enter.

Two coast records were shattered. Jim Reed, one of Oregon's entrants in the recent N. C. A. A. meet, cracked his own mark of 1:46.5 in the 150 yard backstroke by three and five-tenths seconds, winning over Burns of the Beavers by four yards.

The Oregon medley relay team shaved four-tenths of a second off their own coast mark in the 300-yard event.

The only event in which Oregon didn't take a first place was the 100 yard breaststroke, which went to Caddey of Washington.

Bert Meyer, Oregon's No. 2 diver from Oswego, scored an upset by defeating his teammate and former champion, Bob Chilton, in the three-meter fancy diving.

GRANTS PASS, April 4.—(AP)—Because of track conditions after last night's heavy rain, the triangular track and field meet here with Medford and Kerby slated for this afternoon has been called off, Principal J. F. Swigart announced this morning. He said a new date had not yet been selected.

DETROIT YEARNs FOR HOCKEY TOGA

Urged on by fans, who for the first time in modern sports history know the thrill of possessing the world's baseball championship and the professional football title, the Red Wings take the ice tomorrow night against the Toronto Maple Leafs, determined to add the Stanley cup to the already imposing list of titles that has gained for Detroit recognition as the "City of Champions."

General Manager Larry McPhail did not reveal Herman's salary but said it "would run into five figures." If he has a good year, bonus agreements in the contract will bring his salary almost to where it stood before he was brought here from the Pittsburgh Pirates last year, McPhail said.
