ALAMEDA AIR BASE IS FAVORED

News Behind The News

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Rhineland seizure by force, says Hitler, was the last of his series of blows designed to remove shackles from Deutschlund. Of course, no one believes that.
On the contrary there is very good reason for supposing that the Rhineland blow was the first of a new series designed to make Deutschlund the most powerful nation on the European continent.
No one really knows, but this is the accepted theory of alert men here who make it their business to know far more about what is going on around the world than the censors abroad permit to be published.
The next Hitler blow, as they see it, will be delivered southward, not eastward as generally expected. It will start down through central Europe and work through the Balkans, with the shores of Turkey as its ultimate goal. The conquest will not be conducted by arms, but by cunning diplomatic force.
The first move may come this summer in the form of an Anschluss with Austria. It will come while England and France are in their present mood, determined not to fight, after the Rhineland diplomatic ripples have died away, as soon as Austria has decided what she is going to do. (The arming of Austria was begun a few days ago with the passage of the new conscription act, proposing to keep 6000 men in arms.)
Then similar economic agreements will be pressed upon Hungary, Yugoslavia and possibly even the allies of France, Czechoslovakia and Rumania. They will bring new markets to Germany, new grazing lands, the largest munitions works in the world. They would contribute to an underground empire more powerful than Bismarck's. Germany would thus become the dominant nation on the continent.
At least this is the hidden vision in Hitler's mind, as perceived by those best able to perceive it from this distance.
One crowd believes Hitler will never get beyond an Austrian Anschluss. They think that will start the war. France and Italy will be aroused sufficiently then to go in and suppress Hitler before he goes further. England will side with the winner.
Another crowd places more faith in Hitler's diplomatic shrewdness. They expect him to time and conceal each of his moves as wisely as he did the seizure of the Rhineland. He will pick the time when the other nations are otherwise occupied, when they are least inclined to fight.
All agree that Hitler is not ready to fight yet. Their hope is that his air force will not be ready before late in the summer. His artillery will not be fully developed until next summer. He will certainly not fight this year if he can avoid it.
The best guess as to the time of the outbreak of the war, therefore, is this summer at the earliest, more probably next summer, and 1938 at the latest.
Russia is the only nation really hankering to fight Germany now. She sees the handwriting on the map of central Europe. However, she is woefully weak on communications.

TONGUE PT. PLEA FOR AIR STATION IS TURNED DOWN

No Peace Time Need for Columbia River Project House Committee Told—Huge Sum To Be Spent.
WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—A house naval affairs subcommittee recommended today for passage the $1,300,000 Alameda naval air base bill after rejecting an amendment which would have authorized a $3,000,000 development at Tongue Point on the Columbia river.
The vote on the Alameda base was unanimous and followed a statement by Rear Admiral J. K. Tausig, assistant chief of naval operations, that the station would "meet a need which the navy considers is urgent."
The bill now goes to the full committee. A similar bill already had passed the senate.
Representative Meas (R. Minn.) proposed the Tongue Point amendment in the face of testimony from high ranking naval officers there was no peacetime need for an air station on the Columbia river. Admiral Tausig told the committee the Tongue Point was "not even on" the navy's priority list.
The proposed development at Alameda, on San Francisco bay, will involve a total eventual expenditure of "approximately $15,000,000," Tausig said.
Construction of a new sawmill was started last week in the Prospect district by McShane and Herman, who formerly operated in the Deer Creek district of Josephine county. The new plant will have a capacity of 40,000 feet per day, and will employ 30 men when running. Operations are scheduled to start within the next ten days.
It will make the fourth sawmill operating in the Prospect district. The others are: The Lewis Brothers, Getz, and Janzer plants.

SAWMILL STARTS FULL OPERATION ON 8-HOUR BASIS
The sawmill of the Medford Corporation (Owen Oregon company) started full operations this morning, and will continue throughout the season on an eight hour basis, barring the unforeseen. General Manager James H. Owen said.
In the woods and sawmill operations between 100 and 175 men are employed. "We are taking a gamble with the weather, that it will continue pleasant, so logging can be conducted," Manager Owen said. "We have enough logs in the mill pond to start, but will depend on daily shipments from the timber, until we can get a supply ahead."
The lumber market is now good, with prospects it will continue throughout the spring, summer, and early fall.

SEC IS DEFEATED IN EFFORT TO GET OIL MAN ON STAND
Supreme Court Decision in Jones Case Fails to Rule On Constitutionality of 1935 Securities Act.
WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—The supreme court deferred today for at least one week a final decision on constitutionality of the Guffey coal act.
By James W. Southard (Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—In a 6 to 3 decision which did not pass on the constitutionality of the 1933 securities act, the supreme court ruled today in its effort to compel J. Edward Jones of New York to testify concerning a proposed issue of oil securities.
The promoter was within his rights, the court held, in contending that withdrawal of the registration statement for the stocks made it no longer incumbent upon him to respond to the demand to testify. He also had attacked the legislation itself as unconstitutional.
Says Public Unaffected
"We are unable," said the majority in a decision by Justice Sutherland, "to see how any right of the general public can be affected by the withdrawal of such an application before it has gone into effect."
The right of the registrant to withdraw his application would seem to be as absolute as the right of any person to withdraw an unregistered application for any other form of privilege in respect of which he is at the time alone concerned.
Justices Cardozo, Stone and Brandeis, in the dissenting opinion, maintained that the regulation prohibiting a registrant from withdrawing a statement once placed before the SEC was valid.
"The rule now assailed was wisely conceived and lawfully adopted to"
