

RAVENOUS BEARS WRECK AUTO TO GET GIRLS LUNCH

tures and receiving the bears' equivalent of admiring glances at their trim skilling outfits, in return. Their films expired they returned to their car, and found it in a vast state of disrepair. Smudges from soft, inquiring bear noses ringed the glass on the sedan, and scratch marks on the fenders and a caved in hood showed how the heavy animals had gained entrance. One of the bears, probably the largest, had gotten onto the hood, peered through the glass and sniffed the tantalizing aroma emanating from the lunch. Barked at other means of entrance she had hooked one paw under the windshield frame, and ripped out the whole thing, demolishing the frame and shattering the glass. Then all three had trooped in and set up light housekeeping, scattering bear hair, blood and lunch in all directions. A ranger on duty informed the lassies they were lucky they had any car left, and could thank their timely arrival that no further damage was done. With a wintry blast of air whipping into their faces, the young ladies returned to their home, still exuberant in spirits but fully satiated with winter sports as they are played by the wild denizens of this part of Oregon. Now maybe the students at Katharine Branson school for girls will believe all this stuff about the wild and woolly west. Pather Salade thinks they should.

WARNING ISSUED AFTER ASH FIRE

Fire Chief Roy Elliott this afternoon issued a warning against placing ashes in anything excepting metal containers. The chief cautioned the public following a fire this morning under a woodshed lean-to back of the R. H. Clausen residence at 210 Laurel street. No damage was done, the blaze was extinguished by a family hose line, though the fire department was called out. The fire, Chief Elliott said, was caused by hot ashes left under the lean-to in a pulp box. The ashes were placed in the box by tenants of an apartment in the Clausen house, he stated. Their name was not immediately obtained by the chief as they were absent at the time and neighbors did not know them, as they had moved in only recently.

AIRPORT USED BY 175 PLANES DURING MARCH

Medford municipal airport was used by 175 planes during March, it is shown in a monthly report submitted today by Tom Culbertson, field manager, to Fred Heath, Jr., chairman of the city council's committee on aviation. Of these, 124 were ships of the United Air Lines flying on regular mail and passenger schedule. The other 51 planes were classified as follows: 27 U. S. army; one U. S. navy; one department of commerce; 10 commercial, and 12 private.

JOE LOUIS OFFERED LONG FOREIGN TOUR

NEW YORK, April 9. — (P) — Joe Louis today had an added incentive for kicking Max Schmelling in June and then taking the world's heavyweight crown from James J. Braddock in the fall. Jeff Dickson, former Jackson, Miss., boy but now Europe's foremost sports promoter, has promised the Brown Bomber a tour of 11 countries if he gets past Schmelling and Braddock. Louis is willing. So are his managers and Mike Jacobs of the Twentieth Century Sporting club, which has Joe under contract until 1940.

BASEBALL SCHOOL FOR BOYS TO BE PONDERED

There will be a meeting tonight at 7:30 of businessmen of the city with the view of organizing a baseball school for boys under 20 years of age. The meeting will be held at the Office Stationery and Supply company, 115 West Main street. Auto Accident Costs Leg THE DALLES, Ore., April 9. (AP) Development of gangrene necessitated amputation of the left leg of Ann 7-year-old daughter of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Eugene Wright. Her leg was fractured two weeks ago when an automobile struck her as she was crossing a street.

Young Couple Will Be Wed Tomorrow

In a simple ceremony tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, Miss Ethel Slagle, daughter of Mrs. W. L. Miller, will become the bride of William Knips, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Knips. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. W. R. Baird at the W. L. Miller home on Vancouver avenue. Attending the bride will be her sister, Miss Ethel Slagle, and Bernal Slad will act as best man. The bride will be given away by her mother. Guests will be close friends and relatives of the young couple. A few out-of-town guests are expected to arrive tonight or tomorrow. The young couple will make their home in Medford, where both have a large number of friends. They are graduates of Medford high school and their many friends in the valley have been much interested in news of their forthcoming marriage.

Lowreys Here From Bay City

With the advent of spring, the Rogue River valley is becoming, as usual, popular with residents of other areas as a vacation spot, the numerous scenic and climatic advantages making it an attractive place in which to spend days outdoors. Arriving this morning from San Francisco were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lowrey of San Francisco, who were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Helen Virginia Lowrey, and Miss Ailsa McDonald, who will be their house guest.

The Lowreys came to spend the Easter holidays at the summer home of the late Charles N. Black on Rogue river. Mr. Black was Mrs. Lowrey's father. The group expects to return south early next week.

P. T. A. to Hear Safety Lecture

An important session of the Howard School P. T. A. is being planned for tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. A large attendance of members and visitors is expected, as items of particular interest are being planned. Principal feature of the afternoon's program will be a paper on safety, to be presented by Stanley Jones. Also appearing will be students in an interesting board demonstration, according to advance reports. Also of importance is the election of officers to come before the business session.

Benefit Party Planned by Club

Hostesses next Tuesday will be ladies of the Mistletoe club, who will entertain with a benefit card party at the Girls' Community club house on North Bartlett street. Covers will be laid for dessert luncheon at 1:30, after which guests will be entertained with cards. Bridge, pinocle and five hundred will be in play, scoring prizes to be awarded for each game. A cordial invitation is extended anyone enjoying cards.

Broer Bicks Visiting Here

Leaving last night for the south were Mrs. and Mrs. Broer Bick, who have spent the past ten days as the guests of relatives in Medford. Mrs. Bick will be remembered by her many friends here as Miss Evelyn Wold. Mr. and Mrs. Bick also spent some time in Klamath Falls during their stay in southern Oregon. They are now residing in San Francisco.

Wisconsin Residents To Make Home Here

Recently arrived in Medford are Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Horne and Mr. F. D. Newell, formerly of Wisconsin. They plan to make their permanent home here. At present, the visitors are guests at the home of their aunt, Mrs. C. B. Warren, 19 Mistletoe street.

corporation and commented: "I am just a hired man in this office. If the O. A. R. P. Ltd., originating in the state of California and incorporated in that state, has let the bars down along the corporate line, I shall look to the national board to direct me in taking care of the Oregon situation." Cleveland, designated as president of the corporation, said: "We are for the protection of the old folks who have been giving their pennies to the cause, and we want to know how this money is being spent."

BREVITY FAVORED FOR TURF CLASSIC

NEW YORK, April 9. — (P) — The betting commissions are quoting J. E. Widener's Brevity at 13 to 5 and holding Hal Price Headley's Hollywood at 4 to 1 to take the Kentucky Derby, but their trainers declare the odds far too short.

"It's a 3-1 shot you can't name a starter," declared Pete Coyne, who arrived with Brevity at Louisville yesterday.

"Hollywood is too short at these odds," said 25-year-old Duval Headley, as he watched his uncle's star work out at Belmont Park. But regardless of the odds, Tom Shaw, eastern bookmaker, reports a heavy play on the two colts, which dominate the future books as few horses have in recent years.

DUTCH MILL OPENED BY NEW MANAGEMENT

There will be a dance at the Dutch Mill at Klamath Junction every Saturday night, according to Mr. and Mrs. F. Pierson, new managers, who recently opened the entertainment place for the spring and summer season. They have made many improvements, including a new dance floor. Beer and lunches are being served Dutch Mill patrons.

had directed Paine to cease his activities in behalf of members of the Oregon Townsend organization who are seeking public office. He said his endorsement of candidates will be made until after the primaries.

LOS ANGELES, April 9. — (AP) — Orthodox Townsend forces mobilized today for a counter-attack against insurgents in Los Angeles, while the old age pension organization in Oregon underwent a drastic shakeup. George Highley, deposed president of Los Angeles club 93, whose 6,000 membership is the largest in the national Townsend movement, faced opposition to his daily noon meetings in which he is leading a separate old age pension drive.

As a "counter attraction," meetings at the same hour were scheduled by Hal M. Siemons, acting regional Townsend director for eleven states. Siemons declared club 93 persons who cheered Highley's "bois" were representative of the movement.

He predicted the 26,000 members would gravitate into neighborhood organizations in accordance with the wishes of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder.

Club 93 was arrayed by Highley for the McGroarty bill in opposition to a bond issue measure being prepared under Dr. Townsend's direction. In addition, Highley announced his group would start publication of its own newspaper, competing with the nationally circulated Townsend Weekly and giving "the real facts."

Highley asserted he had been offered $50,000 and a Washington job to "get out" of the club. He declined to explain fully who made the offer, but said it was not by Townsend leaders.

Probable alignment of his faction with Robert E. Clements, resigned secretary-treasurer of Old Age Revolving Pension, Inc., in behalf of the McGroarty bill was disclosed by Highley.

Revise Christ's Sermon For Nazis Requirements

BERLIN, April 9. — (UP) — Ludwig Mueller, commissioner for church affairs, today announced the "official" translation of Christ's sermon on the mount, eliminating from the original everything that might shock a good Nazi.

"Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth," Christ said. "Happy is he who always keeps good comradeship, for he will be successful in the world," Mueller translated.

"Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted," was changed to read, "Happy is he who bears sorrow well. He will have strength, not despair."

Mueller's conception of the sermon was made to refer mainly to compatriots. Thus, Christ's words, "Blessed are peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God," were translated to, "Happy are those who keep the peace with compatriots; they fulfill God's will."

The selection of Christ's sermon about offering the left cheek to him who strikes the right, was translated to read: "Should a comrade slap thee in the face in excitement, it is not always the right thing to hit back immediately. It is more manly to keep imperturbable poise. Then thy comrade will probably be ashamed."
