

Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Myrna Loy In Sunday Craterian Hit

EDWARD HORTON IN LEADING ROLE HIT COMING WEDNESDAY

Holly Theatre Will Re Open Wednesday For Showing Of Clever Mother-In-Law Comedy.

A triumvirate of exceptional star power brings Clark Gable, Myrna Loy and Jean Harlow in "Wife vs. Secretary" to the Craterian theatre, where it starts a three day run today.

Fast-paced, up-to-date film entertainment, based on Faith Baldwin's widely-read Cosmopolitan Magazine story, "Wife vs. Secretary" shows how a series of events innocent though they might be, cause a wife to become suspicious of her husband's secretary—particularly when the secretary is as desirable as Harlow. Thoroughly modern, with laugh situations mixed with the heart-throbs, set against the spectacular background of New York's skyscraper world and the more exotic settings of Havana, the film play shows Gable as the wealthy publisher, very much in love with his charming wife, Myrna Loy, but caught in an emotional crisis by the presence of his secretary, Jean Harlow.

May Robson, Hobart Cavanaugh, George Barbier and James Stewart head the supporting cast.

On Wednesday only, the Craterian will have one of the screen's favorite comedians, Edward Everett Horton, with Peggy Conklin, Laura Hope Crews and Grant Mitchell also featured in "Her Master's Voice."

That proverbial fear of one's mother-in-law and her caustic tongue, which seems to be a deeply-ingrained part of our national consciousness, furnishes the theme of "Her Master's Voice."

Horton plays the part of Ned Farrar, suffering from the combination of too much mother-in-law and the fact that he's fresh out of a job. Mother-in-law is one of those delightful persons that are deeply-minding. Ned that he's out of work when she shifts over to the theme of "oh why did my daughter ever marry such a man!"

How Ned finally proves to everyone's satisfaction that he really has "what it takes" forms the hilarious and surprising climax to the film. "Her Master's Voice" will also be shown Wednesday night, only at the Holly theatre.

Archie Legg Music For Eagles Dancing

Fred Wood, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the Eagles' dance Tuesday evening, announced that negotiations have been completed with Archie Legg's Brunswick recording orchestra of Yreka to play for the affair, which will be held in the Oriental Gardens ballroom.

The orchestra, which has been brought here twice within the last 18 months by the Eagles, is a 12-piece aggregation known in the northern California and southern Oregon as a fine band. Following this dance the orchestra is leaving for a two weeks' engagement in Los Angeles. Previous appearances of the band here have brought enthusiastic response, and Chairman Powell states that the committee feels fortunate in having obtained it for the Tuesday dance.

Powell also stated that tentative plans have been made for the appearance of the orchestra at the chamber of commerce annual banquet earlier the same evening.

The dance is being held to raise funds to send the drill team to the convention scheduled for June at Silverton, Ore.

The drill team is to report in uniform at Oriental Gardens at 8:30 Tuesday night.

Technicolor Picture Coming To Craterian Soon

A new milestone in the brief but spectacular history of the motion picture will be marked with the opening Thursday at the Craterian theatre of the screen's first all-in-Technicolor outdoor picture, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Fred MacMurray, Sylvia Sydney and Henry Fonda are starred.

With color used on the screen as it is in nature—as an inevitable, natural background, rather than as an exciting novelty with which to experiment, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" accentuates the story first of all, allowing the color to take care of itself in its own natural way. The result is a picture that even in the standard black and white would make fine entertainment. With the added effect gained by color, the film has started a new era in picture production and we can expect many of next year's more important film plays using the Technicolor process.

Set in the beautiful Cumberland mountains (actually filmed in the high Sierras), "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" presents Miss Sydney and Fonda as members of the same mountain clan, who all their lives have loved each other and warred together in a neighboring family. Ancient ways are changed however, when MacMurray, a young engineer, arrives to construct a railroad line through their hills. He wins Miss Sydney's heart, while Fonda, in bewilderment, sees the collapse of the only code he knows—to fight and kill for what he loves. The film reaches a climax when Fonda and the rival clan simultaneously start after Fonda.

TEACHING STAFF ALL RE-ELECTED; GET PAY BOOSTS

Re-election of all present Medford school teachers was announced yesterday by E. H. Hedrick, superintendent.

A five percent restoration of salary reductions was also voted by the school board at a meeting last Tuesday, Mr. Hedrick said. Beginning in 1932, salaries were successively pared as a necessary economy measure until the reductions in the aggregate amounted on the average to 25 per cent, he explained. The five per cent restoration is the first upward blanket readjustment made since the reductions became necessary, he said. A few individual adjustments were made last year, he added.

No increase in the school facilities is being contemplated now, Mr. Hedrick said. The teachers have until April 24 to decide whether to accept or reject their new contracts. No resignations have been received as yet but if any are tendered, replacements will be made without delay, the superintendent stated.

The facilities as now constituted are:

- High School: C. G. Smith, principal; Doris Baier, Myrna Barrett, Louise Basford, William G. Bowerman, Mary C. Brown, Eva Bevoiak, Maurine Carroll, H. P. Cope, Elizabeth Crisell, Curt Degeermark, Juanita Demmer, Glennie Mae Early, B. R. Finch, Gertrude Gates, E. M. Husson, Elizabeth Jerome, Wilna Kinoid, E. M. Kirtley, Josephine Kirtley, Esther Church Leake, L. A. Mentzer, Lois Beth Scoffern, Johnnie Smith, Alice Spurgin, C. D. Thompson, F. Wilson Watt, Kenneth Scott Wood, Dorothy Young and Floy Young.
- Junior High: Paul Menegat, principal; Delie Whisenant, Russell Acheson, Winifred Andrews, Luola Bengtson, Gladys Benge, Maybelle Church, Ruth Ella Dickerson, A. H. Fitch, Aletha Gray, Annette Gray, Ray Henderson, Zoe Hubbs, H. W. Keese, Marjorie Kelly, Ruth MacCollister, L. W. Marshall, Walter Nitsch, Gertrude Parker, Carol Ramsey, Ethel Scott, Grace Sinema, Virginia Wait, Helen Winter, Lillian Wise and Marvel Bliss Young.

- Jackson School: H. W. Gustin, principal; Gertrude Ahlstrom, Marian Briggs, Arlene Hay, Mildred Henderson, Ethel Houston, Florence Moshaf, Ishah D. Murray, Grace Reid and Ruth Stewart.
- Roosevelt School: Sara Van Meter, principal; Gladys Bond, Nina Carlson, Anna B. Carter, Flora Childers, Mary Coffin, Eleanor Curry, Allie Maxwell, Myra Russell and Ethel Willis.
- Lincoln School: Ora Cox, principal; Lucile Abbott, Ethel Chastain, Leona Crane, Clare Gumelius, Freda Schneider, Eunice Smith, Margaret Russell and Ora Tucker.
- Washington School: J. C. Tucker, principal; Marian Beeson, Ruth Bolton, Blanche Gando, Alice Cromar, Edith Deuel, Gregory Lyle, Amy Harding, Katherine Huntress, Lura Lynch, Annie M. Watkins and Gertrude Watling.

Schedule of Hours In Theaters Given

Summer evening schedules go into effect today at the Craterian and Rialto theatres, postponing the opening time fifteen minutes—from 8:45 to 7:00.

The Rialto theatre has been opening at 7:00 o'clock for evening shows for the past two weeks and with warm weather now here, the Craterian and Rialto theatres are following suit.

The new schedules will not affect matinee shows, the door opening at 1:45 as before, with the Rialto opening at 1:00 o'clock on Saturdays as has been their custom in the past.

Return Showing

As the tiny confederate who surrounds the Yanks with smiles, astounds them with songs and defeats them with dances, Shirley Temple returns by popular demand to the screen of the Rialto theatre in her latest starring role, "The Littlest Rebel," which starts a three day run today. Ably supported by a fine cast which includes John Boles, Jack Holt, Karen Morley and her old tap-dancing friend, Bill Robinson, Shirley plays her first great dramatic role in this screen offering.

On Roxy Bill

An ocean liner and a grand opera house provide the settings for much of the fun in "A Night At The Opera," the Marx Brothers super-laugh sensation which starts a three day run at the Roxy theatre today.

"A Night At The Opera" brings the inimitable Marx brothers back to the screen after an absence of two years. They come back with all flags flying and funnier than ever.

DR. LEMERY BUYS LOT, PLANS HOME

One of the most desirable and attractive home sites, located in the Blakely Heights district of Medford, has recently been placed on the market. This tract, known as the Roseborough Heights Addition, has been subdivided by Mr. E. G. Roseborough. It consists of nine acres divided into nine lots of approximately one acre each. The tract is completely covered with a fine growth of oak trees. This tract is provided with city water, a 3-inch pipe line having been recently installed by Mr. Roseborough.

This tract is under the management of the Charles A. Wing Agency, Inc., who announces the sale of one of these lots to Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lemery. They contemplate the erection of a very modern and complete home in the very near future, the plans now being in the hands of the architect for final approval.

MARCH GASOLINE SALES INCREASE

SALEM, Ore., April 18.—(AP) Gasoline sales in Oregon in March showed a 40 per cent gain over sales the same month in 1935, the secretary of state's office reported today. The gain, represented by 5,473,588 gallons, was declared the largest in the state's history. Total sales were 18,955,394 gallons.

Gross income to the state for the first quarter of this year was $947,764 compared to $674,000 in 1935.
