

LARGE CROWD IS EXPECTED TONIGHT AT BOURBON RALLY

A capacity audience is expected to attend the Democratic rally to be held tonight in the party's new headquarters on the first floor of 217 West Main street opposite the California Oregon Power company, J. R. Marshall, county chairman, said this morning after tabulating inquiries received from all parts of the district.

The new clubroom has a seating capacity of more than 400 and Mr. Marshall declared that the place would be filled. The meeting is to be addressed by national and state candidates who are expected to expound their policies and governmental philosophy. Attorney Porter J. Neff will preside. The meeting will convene at 8 o'clock.

Visiting candidates who are scheduled to address the meeting include Mayor Willis Mahoney of Klamath Falls, aspirant to a seat in the United States senate; E. W. Kirkpatrick, candidate for congress from this district; Alfred P. Dobson, candidate for state attorney general; and U. S. Burr, youthful contender for state treasurer. Claude McCulloch, chairman of the state central committee, is also expected to be present.

An invitation to attend the rally has been issued by Mr. Marshall to every voter desirous of getting a close-up of candidates for public office.

This is the first Democratic rally of the fall campaign to be held here and is calculated to dispel the political spathy that has enveloped Jackson county for the past several years. As the November election draws near increased interest is being shown in political meetings, observers say, and an especially large turnout of voters is expected tonight.

The standing: Twelve children—Mrs. Martin Kenny, whose claim is disputed by the other mothers. Ten children—Mrs. Arthur Timleck and Mrs. John Nagle.

attempted to remedy his mistake by swerving rapidly but the rapid turning turned the car on its side.

Cox and Fierlan clambered out of the car to lift it back on its wheels. Guy was pinned inside. When the car was righted, brakes unset, it started rolling off the road before Guy could get out. It tumbled down an eighty-foot grade, coming to rest at the base of a tall wreck.

Guy was thrown clear of the wreckage near the bottom of the grade, severely injured. He was found 30 feet from the machine.

Park rangers were called to the scene. They brought the injured man to the Annie Spring CCC camp from which he was taken to Medford.

The party had been to Chemult and were on the rim road not far from the base of the Watchman, first high point on the west rim, four miles from the Crater lake lodge, when the accident occurred.

SPRAY ADVISED ON LATE PEARS

There has been a recent heavy increase in codling moth flight, which will result in many worms attempting entry the latter part of this week, according to L. G. Gestner, entomologist, Southern Oregon Experiment station, and C. B. Cordy, assistant county agent.

This flight is occurring only in orchards with previous heavy infestations and where control of the first brood has not been good. On account of this flight it is advised that the growers of late pears who have had trouble controlling worms, apply another spray as soon as possible.

Use three pounds of powdered arsenate of lead to one hundred gallons. As the situation is not serious, those growers who have been maintaining clean orchards are not advised to spray.

COUGHLIN FAINTS WHILE ATTACKING F. R. IN ADDRESS

Royal Oak, Mich., priest said "I believed that inaugural address. I believed those peerless lips which enunciated golden words in that campaign of 1932."

"Why, here was a new voice. Here was the reincarnation of Christ's voice. Here was the echo of that voice which spoke on Tuesday of Holy week and was still on Friday of Holy week which had said: 'Drive the money changers out of the temple.'"

"This peerless president of ours issued an edict for the nationalization of gold. By 1934, at Christmas time, forgetting the babe that was born in Bethlehem, this peerless president passed over the coins that he had confiscated from the men and women of the country to the private owners of the federal reserve bank, your masters and his cordial advisers."

Said Father Coughlin, speaking under a torrid sun in Cleveland stadium:

Mesmerized
"Then I knew he was using you and me on the chessboard of life. I thought that those surrounding him had mesmerized his intellect until he was forced to act against his better judgment."

Father Coughlin recovered later today and left for Detroit. He said everything was a blur to him for 10 minutes before he stopped speaking yesterday.

"Everything went black," he said. "I turned around and fell into the arms of a policeman."

"I wanted to stop speaking 10 minutes before I did. My knees were buckling under me."

"The trouble was that Saturday was entirely too strenuous. I had been working night and day for two days. I hadn't eaten all day Saturday. I was awake and ill all night. Sunday morning I was unable to keep anything on my stomach."

BOMBARDMENT BY FASCIST WARSHIPS STARTS REPRISAL

Reports along the border said firing squads began executions soon after the bombardment started.

Dispatches from Bilbao said the rebel destroyer Velasco shelled Port Santurtzi starting fires there but causing no casualties.

The bombardment apparently was intended chiefly to demoralize the government defenders.

Prisoners Burned Alive
At Saint Jean De Luz, France, German sailors reported that 500 prisoners held as hostages by leftist government forces at Bilbao were burned alive when rebel shells set fire to their warehouse-prison.

One of the bloodiest battles of Spain's month-old civil war was fought meantime in the ancient western province of Extremadura, with 20,000 government troops and militia men trying to break a rebel blockade along the Portuguese frontier.

Start Merciless Drive
Reports that rebels, in taking Badajoz, had executed 1500 government adherents spurred the government forces into a merciless drive to "completely exterminate" the rebels in the west, authorities at Madrid said.

Messages from Captain Bayo, chief of the government forces landing at Palma, Mallorca, said his men were in possession of the entire coast as far as Punta Amer.

(Reports reaching London stated rebels had trapped the Mallorca landing party, killing 400 and taking 250 prisoners.)

In Madrid, two ringleaders of the capital's unsuccessful military revolt, General Joaquin Fanjul and Col. Jose Fernandez De La Quintana, died before a firing squad, convicted by a courtmartial of military rebellion.

Earlier, Spanish government troops seized fascist rebels barricaded in the Gijon jail after bitter fighting and the "victory march" across the Isle of Mallorca.
