PRESS FREEDOM HELD ONLY ISSUE IN P-I WALKOUT

LONGVIEW, Wash., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Asserting that freedom of the press is the only fundamental issue in the campaign, Roland Hartley, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, today assailed the failure of city and state authorities to cope with the Seattle newspaper strike situation.

Cutting short a campaign visit to Longview because of the presence of the American Legion in state convention, the former governor paused only long enough to discuss the strike which has resulted in suspension of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer before heading northward.

"This newspaper they closed up in Seattle was not friendly to me," he said. "It fought me during the eight years I was in office and tried to get me recalled. But that paper has a right to fight me and get me recalled if it can. Beneath all this is the right of the individual to express himself through the medium of an uncensored press."

"I don't care if this newspaper begins fighting me the day it reopens for business. I demand that it be reopened."

SEATTLE, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Seattle central labor council sprang to the defense today of Dave Beck, president of the teamsters' council, who has been under fire during the newspaper strike of the Hearst owned Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

While the Seattle Times and Hearst executives here and in New York charged that Beck dominated the strike called by the Seattle chapter of the American Newspaper Guild, the labor council denied he was instrumental in having the newspaper declared "unfair."

The Tacoma central labor council voted placing the Post-Intelligencer upon the "we don't patronize" list and contributed to the Guild's strike fund.

Since the walkout took place last Thursday and the newspaper suspended publication the following morning, the Times and Post-Intelligencer executives have blamed Beck for the presence of teamsters, longshoremen and woodmen in the picket line.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Arthur King of the Oregon State college soils department, said today that the acreage of land under irrigation and the variety of crops irrigated have increased tremendously during the six years since the first Williams valley irrigation tour was held in Oregon in 1929.

LOGGING STARTS NEXT WEEK; MILL TO START SOON

Next week on the Elk creek holdings, the mill in town will employ about 20 men at the start, he explained.

The articles of incorporation were made out in San Bernardino, Cal., most of the incorporators residing in San Bernardino county. The incorporators are to move to Medford, four families already being here and four more to come next week, Mr. Davis said. Preliminary business of the company is being conducted by Mr. Davis and Mr. Nelson who has taken up residence at 209 South Orange street.

The articles of incorporation give the company authority to buy, acquire, own, possess, operate, lease, sell or otherwise dispose of a sawmill or mills and to manufacture, lumber and other timber products and by-products, and to buy, acquire, own, possess, sell or otherwise dispose of such products.

To buy, acquire, lease, own, possess and sell or otherwise dispose of timber, land, mill-sites and other real estate.

To buy, acquire, own, possess, lease, operate, sell or otherwise dispose of buildings, hotels, camps and pleasure resorts.

To buy, acquire, manufacture, own, possess, sell or otherwise dispose of buildings, hotels, camps and pleasure accessories.

To borrow money and to mortgage, pledge, hypothecate or otherwise encumber any or all property of the corporation.

To do the things necessary and the things incidental to the carrying on of the principal business or businesses of the corporation.

The capital stock is divided into 50,000 shares of $1 par value each. The articles stated more than 50 per cent of the capital stock had been subscribed at par value "in property actually worth the value placed thereon, and in cash, and said property has been transferred and said cash actually paid in to the credit of the corporation."

THREE-CAR CRASH BLOCKS HIGHWAY

The Plymouth was badly damaged in the front, and the left front wheel and fender were torn off. All three cars were badly damaged, and the windshields of all three were broken, although glass did not fly.

Bobbett was not hurt, but all three of the Plymouth passengers, Atwill, Miss Martin and Miss Cox, were shaken up. The steering wheel of the Atwill car was bent and broken by the impact of Atwill's body, although he sustained no broken ribs. The only one of the four casualties still in the hospital today, Miss Martin, was not seriously injured and will be released from the hospital soon, according to the attending physician, Dr. B. C. Wilson.

All three of the machines ended up on the highway, and traffic was blocked from 9 o'clock to 10:30. State police and Sheriff Syd I. Brown remained on duty at the scene and shunted traffic past the wreckage until the cars could be towed away. A huge crowd assembled at the scene as soon as word spread around town of the unusual accident, and this crowd added to the confusion.

A broken railroad crossing signal was blamed when Woodrow Turpin of Medford drove his Oakland roadster into the side of a Southern Pacific switch engine at the Jackson boulevard crossing at 1 a. m. today. Turpin told city police that he saw no moving signal such as usually warns of an approaching train, and drove onto the tracks in full confidence.

No serious injury was incurred, although the front end of the roadster was slightly damaged and the fenders were smashed. The locomotive was not damaged.

Favorite Girls Named by 12 Hollywood Bachelors

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The "most eligible" bachelor girl in the movie colony is 12 different people.

In a popularity poll taken today, 12 Hollywood bachelors each named a different girl. The results are: Michael Whalen—"Greta Garbo, by all odds."

David Niven—"Merle Oberon, of course."

W. C. Fields—"Nobody could tire of Marsha Raye's race; it changes too often."

Cesar Romero—"Berry Furness has everything a girl could have."

Dick Foran—"Olivia De Havilland."

John King—"Gail Patrick wins my vote."

Owen Davis, Jr.—"Ann Shirley, and there'll be an announcement soon."

Louis Hayward—"Ida Lupino writes music, and I love music."

Roger Pryor—"Ann Sothorn, Ann Sothorn, Ann Sothorn—oh, do I only have one vote!"

Broderick Crawford—"Lucille Ball, yes sir!"

Tom Brown—"Eleanor Whitney is, well—Eleanor Whitney is all I can say!"

James Stewart—"Well, I like Eleanor Powell, Ginger Rogers and Virginia Bruce a lot. But, of course, Miss Powell is the only bachelor girl."

John Howard—"Carole Lombard." (Vote lost; she is a divorcee).

Brian Aherne—"Ruth Chatterton." (Vote lost; she is a divorcee).

Robert Taylor, probably the most popular of all movietown bachelors at the moment, declined to state a preference.

As for Singer Nelson Eddy—"Oh, no. No more of these things. They cause trouble. From now on, in Hollywood, I'm going to keep my opinions to myself."

Among the pretty bachelor maids who received no mention at all were Mary Carlisle, Mary Brian, Toby Wing, Anita Louise, Simone Simon and Gertrude Michael.

Victorious Yacht Back In Home Port

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The 51-foot yacht Dorade, winner in the Santa Monica, Cal., to Hawaii race, was back at its yacht harbor berth today after 20 days on the Pacific.

Myron Spaulding, skipper of the trim craft, said he's glad to be back. "This business of winning is plenty tough," he said.

Spaulding brought the yacht back and sold her into more trouble on the return trip than in the race to the islands.

B. W. Harmon of Seaside, N. Y., drove his car in front of a train which carried the auto 75 feet when it caught fire. Harmon was not hurt.
