Miss Laura Bailey, vice president, presided over the brief business session when plans were discussed and committees appointed for the coming state synodical which meets in Medford October 15, 16 and 17, with over 100 delegates to be here. Speakers from the national and foreign boards will be in attendance, it was stated.

The program for the evening was presented by members of the Young People's society of the church, presenting reports and subjects discussed at their recent conference at Fir Point, near Glendale. Youth and Worship was ably presented by Miss Edith Hodgkins; Making Misdeeds Live in Our Own Church was interestingly told by Miss Bernice Baker. Miss Hulda Rose told in a most impressive manner of the closing vesper hour service at the conference on Sunday evening.

A flute solo by Arthur Clark was well received. Mrs. Sherman L. Divine led a brief discussion on co-operation of both the younger and older members of the church in advancing its many activities during the coming year.

It was stated following the meeting that it was one of the most successful, helpful and interesting group gatherings held in some time, and other union meetings of the two groups are to be given during the coming year.

The hostess was assisted in serving iced tea and cakes during the social hour by Mesdames B. M. Hood, O. J. Gould, L. Dell Welch and E. Jaqua. Mrs. Volney Dixon presided at the tea table. The next meeting will be the society's annual luncheon to be given in the church dining room September 15.

The auxiliary had an exceptionally fine year under the leadership of President Edythe Martin, and Mrs. Martin received the Department Legislative and Education of War Orphan's chairmanship for the next year.

Mrs. Minnie Bryant was surprised and thrilled when she was called to the platform during one of the meetings. In recognition of the fine work she did during the poppy poster contest, and for turning in the winning poster for the department, she was awarded a picture.

Mrs. Georgia Holloway received the citation of merit for an outstanding work in America. Two other citations were given to the local unit: the department citation for carrying out the department and national service program and the national citation for carrying out the national program.

Mrs. Gladys Turnbull gave a poppy vase to each unit to be used in initiation work.

SALARY not one cent

You needn't figure a woman's time in the cost of washing her own clothes. If she were paid but a pittance the expense would be greater than for having us do it. Our charge is only a trifle more than home-washing costs. True economy results from careful planning. A capable home manager gets more in quality, service, and leisure for small sums, than does her more careless sister.
