NEW OIL STATION FOR MAIN STREET

The Richfield Oil company was this morning granted a $2000 permit and started work immediately on a new super-service station at the corner of Main and Holly streets. A team of horses was on the job early dragging out small trees and bushes in the front yard of the historic Vawter residence preparatory to installation of the new unit.
The station will be 60 by 110 feet, the long border paralleling Main street and the short side facing Holly street and the alley between Holly and Ivy streets. Contract for the job has been let to the John W. Huggard company of Portland.
Approaches will be cut into both Main and Holly streets.
The Vawter residence will not be moved. For many years it has been a landmark in Medford, being the early home of the Vawter family and later the lodge headquarters of the University club. About four years ago it became the first home of the town club which is now housed at 1000 West Main street.

quire my closest attention for the next year or two. Besides, I am still paying off the debts that accrued while I was serving in the legislature and I am anxious to get them cleared up."
Mr. Hamilton said he would remain an active worker in the Democratic party and would probably enter public life again next year. He has served one term of two years in the legislature and has a large following of devoted supporters in Jackson county.
Mr. Stephenson, head of the Economy Lumber company, said his selection came as such a great surprise that he was not prepared to make any comment today. Asked if he would conduct an active campaign, he replied: "I'll have to be part of the campaign at all."
Mr. Stephenson has never run for public office before. He once served a year on the city council through appointment.
Speaking for the central committee Mr. Marshall said: "We sincerely regret the withdrawal of Mr. Hamilton. He showed exceptional promise as a legislative leader and made a splendid record in the legislature. He always acted with intelligence and calm judgment."
"In Mr. Stephenson we were fortunate in finding a worthy successor to Mr. Hamilton. He has been active in the party and was chairman of the central committee last year. He is a good organizer and a capable leader."
