

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Neff Away—Porter J. Neff, local attorney, left on the northbound train last night for Portland where he will transact business briefly.

Returns from North—Eino Hemmila, manager of the Rialto theater, returned by plane last evening from Portland where he transacted business.

Visitor Leaves—Mrs. Jack Howell of Portland, who has been visiting Mrs. Will Brown at Eagle Point, expected to return to her home in the north today.

Obtain License—Robert Nick Rindt and Evelyn Mae Long, both of Medford, obtained a marriage license in Roseburg today, according to Associated Press report.

Get Back North—Ted Gebauer left by train yesterday for Portland where he is expected to make a short business visit.

Leaves for South—Marcella Jones was among those leaving on a southbound train last evening, her destination being San Francisco.

Jacksonville Blaze—Sparks from a burning flue caused a roof fire at Amy Dow's restaurant in Jacksonville Tuesday morning, the blaze being quickly extinguished with a small amount of damage to the building.

TouVelle to Portland—Judge Frank L. TouVelle, state highway commissioner, left for Portland by train last evening to spend a short time in the northern city transacting business.

Freight Man Here—R. E. Mullaney, representative of the Transcontinental Freight bureau, arrived recently from Portland headquarters to transact official business with local representatives.

Valley Visitor—Recent visitors here included Charles A. Pester of Los Angeles, district passenger agent for the Southern Pacific railroad, who spent several days of his stay vacationing at Diamond Lake.

Reunion of Sisters—Mrs. C. P. Jenison, with her grandson, Charles Jenison, of Missoula, Mont., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Eva Jenison. It is the first time the two sisters have met in 23 years.

Business Visitors—Medford business visitors in Ashland Tuesday included Cei Gerevalis, local representative of the Baker, Hamilton and Pacific company of San Francisco, and C. B. Cordy, assistant Jackson county agent.

Convalescing in Hospital—Mrs. S. B. Holmes of Eagle Point is convalescing from a recent operation at Sacred Heart hospital. Her sister, Mrs. S. B. Guerin, returned to her home in Portland this morning after spending the past six weeks visiting Mrs. Holmes. Another sister, Mrs. George T. O'Brien of Pringle, Wash., will remain with Mrs. Holmes for an indefinite period. Mrs. O'Brien is a former resident of the valley and is greeting many old friends during her stay.

On Inspection—K. P. McReynolds, assistant forester in charge of fire control on the Rogue River national forest, left this morning on a general inspection tour which was to take him to Butte Falls, Camp South Fork, Fish Lake, Lake of the Woods and Union Creek. He is to return tomorrow night or Saturday morning. He was accompanied by Lloyd R. Olsen, assistant forester in charge of fire hazard reduction with headquarters at the regional office in Portland.

Two Fire Calls—Several private garages were threatened by a great fire late yesterday afternoon at West Twelfth and South Newtown streets. Quick work by the fire department, responding to a precinct alarm, extinguished the blaze and the blaze was extinguished without damage. Just before the precinct alarm the fire department's chemical crew was called to put out a pile of burning scrap paper in the alley at the side of the Craterian theater. Both blazes, firemen thought, were caused by the careless disposal of lighted matches or cigarette stubs.

To Conference—George Henselman, district agent for the Aetna Life Insurance company, left by motorcar yesterday for Lake Tahoe, Cal., where the company is holding a Pacific coast conference, an annual event conducted by the home office executives for leading salesmen. Mr. Henselman was accompanied by Mrs. Henselman, her mother, Mrs. Susie Campbell, and the two eldest Henselman children, Roger and Jean. The family will visit friends and relatives in San Francisco. Mr. Henselman planned to return to his office here in about a week.

The Millers formerly resided in the valley. Mrs. Miller is a daughter of Mrs. Pauline Wahl of Footh Creek and a sister of Mrs. George West of this city.

TOWNSENDITES OF CALIFORNIA PLAN TO AID NOMINEES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27. — (AP) — California Townsendites, who endorsed 11 successful congressional candidates in Tuesday's primary election, drew plans today for backing the nominees in their campaigns.

Eight of the nominees were incumbents and the other three, Nelson Van Matre, Harry R. Sheppard and Ed P. Sample, were newcomers to the congressional field.

E. J. Margett, state manager of the pension plan organization, said his group would put "workers, speakers and money" at the disposal of Townsend endorsed candidates, and predicted 17 of 20 representatives to be elected in November would have Townsend approval.

Frank Arbuckle, western regional Townsend director, made an unsuccessful bid for nomination in the 16th congressional district. Rep. John Dockweiler, the incumbent, piled up three times as many votes for the Democratic nomination and about the same number as Arbuckle on the Republican ticket where the nomination was easily won by Raymond Darity, mayor of Inglewood.

Two of the new Townsend candidates won nomination over incumbents. Von Matre took the Republican nomination in the first district over the veteran Rep. Clarence F. Lea, who easily was nominated by his own Democratic party. Sheppard won the Democratic nomination in the 19th district over Rep. Sam L. Collins, who was renominated as a Republican.

Seven Devils Fire Gets Out Of Hand

SALEM, Aug. 17. — (AP) — Thirty more men were sent into the Seven Devils section of Coos county last night to fight a forest fire which has been raging there for several days. State Forest Ferguson said the fire got out of bounds late yesterday with the result that additional men were requested.

The fire reported at Reuben mountain in Josephine county yesterday was under control today. There were no other serious fires in the state, Ferguson said.

Warner Baxter, Myrna Loy Hit Coming

Based on Richard Sherman's widely read Saturday Evening Post story, "To Mary—With Love" comes to the Craterian theater Sunday, with Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy appearing in the starring roles.

A graphic, vital drama of modern marriage, the cast includes Ian Hunter, Claire Trevor and Jean Dixon among others.

A love-letter romance, "To Mary—With Love," opens with the marriage of Baxter and Miss Loy. Best man is Ian Hunter who hides his regret with a grin, as seeing Myrna's happiness in Baxter's arms.

Making love lightly, yet loving deeply, they move through their honeymoon and then return to New York where Baxter plunges into the stock market, intent on accumulating a fortune.

So occupied is he that Myrna takes a summer trip to Maine alone. Returning home, earlier than expected, she finds that Baxter hasn't been so lonesome as supposed but, instead, has been entertaining Claire Trevor.

This is the first flaw in their happiness and, although they patch it up, the scars still linger. Baxter returns to his manipulations in finance and, as the market rises, becomes wealthy.

Money doesn't bring happiness to the pair, however, for Myrna finds too much time on her hands and becomes intimate with a group of parasites and questionable friends.

Just as it appears that their marriage must break up, the market crashes and Myrna finds that her husband needs her more than ever.

From their penthouse they go to live in a shabby suburban bungalow. Hiding their hurts and holding back their tears, Myrna and Baxter rise gallantly and splendidly from their misfortune and find a new and greater love to reward them.

Gripping Drama

A lifetime of love (if he can wipe out the last of the mob-men) is the reward facing Brian Donlevy in "36 Hours To Kill," which plays at the Rialto theater today and tomorrow with Gloria Stuart, Douglas Fowley and Isabel Jewell also featured.

Powley, cast as the last of the public enemies, boards a transcontinental express to go east and collect a prize he has won in a sweepstakes lottery. Donlevy, apparently a newspaper reporter but in reality an under-cover man, is close on Powley's trail.

As the express hurtles on, tension and terror develop when Gloria Stuart becomes involved in the plot. Powley kidnap Miss Stuart, use her as a shield, and makes his escape.

In a series of thrill-packed events, the film rushes to a thundering climax, replete with surprises and dynamic with action.

Stepin Fetchit, Romaine Callender and Warren Hymer are also featured in the cast.
