

HITLER PLANNING NEW AGGRESSION IS RUSSIAN FEAR

Violent Anti-Soviet Attacks in German Press a Smoke Screen for Further Nazi Ventures Is Declaration

MOSCOW, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Official organs of the Soviet government and the communist party sounded a simultaneous "warning" today that Adolf Hitler is preparing a new surprise which will bring Europe closer to "slaughter."

Invests, the government organ, and Pravda, the official newspaper of the party, professed to see in violent anti-Soviet attacks by the German press a "provocative campaign of preparation for new foreign political adventures."

"It is just a smoke screen for Hitler to spring a new surprise which is demanded by his venturesome program," said Pravda.

The newspaper declared increased preparations for war were sapping Germany and bringing its workers to the verge of food shortages and eventual starvation.

(Germany a few days ago doubted its compulsory military conscription term, and the Nazi press said "Russian militarism" was to blame.)

Invests, referring to recent German reports of unrest in the Russian Ukraine because of alleged crop failures, denied the stories flatly, said crops in the area were excellent and declared the Nazi attacks had an "aggressive design."

Landlords Eager For Vice Tenants

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 28.—(AP)—The question of whether a segregated vice district is being re-established in Portland came up for discussion at the community chest hearing yesterday.

Miss Martha Randall of the women's protective division denied that such was the case. She declared, however, that there was systematic promotion of the vice traffic by landlords and real estate operators.

"Any landlord is glad to have them because they pay more rent than other tenants and aren't so fussy about the condition of the building," said Miss Randall.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Directors of the U. S. Industrial Alcohol Co. today decided to omit the dividend on the common stock because of "unsatisfactory" profit margins.

Special Bread For Picnic Sandwiches

PLAIN bread is just the thing for the hearty sandwich part of the picnic menu. But don't forget that many grown-ups and all children like sweet sandwiches, too—and for these you should have a bread which harmonizes with the filling. In fact, these fancy breads are perfectly delicious made into bread and butter sandwiches, without a filling. Here are a couple of recipes which will arm you for any occasion—in doors or outdoors:

Chef's Nut Bread
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup chopped nut meats
2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup milk
4 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine graham flour, orange peel, and nuts, and add to flour mixture. Combine eggs, milk, and shortening, add to flour mixture and blend. Bake in two greased loaf pans, 7 x 3 1/2 inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour, or until done.

milk, and shortening, add to flour mixture and blend. Bake in greased loaf pan, 8 x 4 x 3 inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour, or until done.

Fruit Bread

3 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
3/4 cup graham flour
1/2 cup candied orange peel, thinly sliced
1/2 cup broken nut meats
2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup milk
4 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine graham flour, orange peel, and nuts, and add to flour mixture. Combine eggs, milk, and shortening, add to flour mixture and blend. Bake in two greased loaf pans, 7 x 3 1/2 inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour, or until done.

RETAIL DISTRIBUTION RESUMES FAST STRIDE DURING CURRENT WEEK

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Retail distribution resumed more vigorous strides this week with interest shifting to new merchandise. Dun & Bradstreet said today in the weekly review of trade and business.

Wholesale markets were quieter, following a buying wave that persisted nearly a month, but the volume was only slightly under the best for the season, the agency said.

Some of the leading industrial indices were carried to new highs by the advancing trend, including electric power production. Steel output was higher than in the same period a year ago for the twenty-ninth consecutive week, the report said.

Freight car loadings continued ahead of last year's number for the twentieth straight time.

Retail sales for the country as a whole were estimated at 12 to 15 per cent larger than the corresponding 1935 volume.

Percentage gains over a year ago for the major geographical regions were: New England 12 to 15; eastern 8 to 12; middle west 12 to 15; north-west 10 to 15; south 15 to 25; south-west 15 to 20, and Pacific coast 15 to 18.

BAR ASSOCIATION REFUSES CENSURE ADMINISTRATION

Action Brings Abrupt Termination to Controversial Subject Before Convention — Officers Chosen

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The American Bar association elected Frederick Harold Stinchfield, 64, of Minneapolis, Minn., president today to succeed William L. Ransom, of New York.

The new head of the bar association is the son of a merchant of Danforth, Me., his birthplace. He is an active member of the American Liberty League.

By Francis A. Hart (Associated Press Staff Writer)

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The American Bar association by overwhelming vote today placed on file the majority report of its committee on federal legislation which severely arraigned the Roosevelt administration for "detouring the constitution."

The association did the same for the minority report which had advocated the committee's discharge on the ground that further consideration of the subject would serve "no useful purpose in giving citizens any helpful light on constitutional questions in addition to that already supplied by the opinions of the supreme court."

Ends Controversy
The motion to file, offered by William P. MacCracken, secretary of the association, brought an abrupt termination to what had been expected to be one of the most controversial subjects before the 59th annual convention.

MacCracken said the report might "embellish the association in a controversy in a presidential year."

The majority report, signed among others by Charles F. Tait, 2nd, of Cincinnati, son of the late president, asserted:

"There is no indication that the administration recognizes any obligations whatever to protect the individual citizen in his constitutional rights."

The association adopted a resolution submitted by the committee on jurisdiction and law reform disapproving all bills and amendments to the constitution, the effect of which would limit the jurisdiction or abridge the powers of any federal court.

Walter F. Armstrong, chairman of the committee, said, reading from the committee's report, "The most threatening of the bills are proposals to increase the membership of the court in order to change its complexion and that, regardless of the necessities of its business."

Achilles Heel
"Indeed, this is the Achilles heel of the constitution. Based upon fundamental theories of effectual government, the legislative, executive, and judicial departments, the constitution yet leaves it within the power of congress and executive to overcome that balance."

"All that is necessary is a single act of congress increasing the membership of the court, executive appointment, and senatorial confirmation."

"Hereafter the fate of the constitution is committed to the judicial conscience of the new members. . . ."

"The sole brake upon it . . . is an aroused public opinion. . . ."

"Under present day conditions, when by instantaneous means of communication, the fleeting moods of public opinion may be rapidly mobilized, this danger is more real than it ever has been in the past."

BETTER LAND USE HELD SOLUTION OF DROUGHT'S CURSE

The temperature was around 60 degrees when the president arrived. Rain, which began falling early, eased while Mr. Roosevelt rode through nearby drought-ridden farms and chatted with WPA-farmer workers on water conservation dams and a city auditorium project.

The chief executive had his first close-up view of the drought havoc late yesterday on a 50-mile motor trip around Bismarck and Mandan — a tour which prompted him to say later in a rear platform talk at the North Dakota capital:

Optimism Fought
"What I have seen confirms me in the belief that I have had for a long time—the belief that we are going to win on this problem."

"Back east," he said, "there have been all kinds of reports that out in the drought area there was a despondency, a lack of hope for the future and a general atmosphere of gloom."

"But I had a hunch, and it was the right one, that when I got out here I would find that you people had your chin up; that you are not looking forward to the day when this country would be depopulated, but that you and your children expect to remain here."

Shortly before entering a train conference last night with acting Governors Walter Welford of North Dakota and Elmer E. Holt of Montana—at which the drought committee report, proposing land and water conservation, received minute examination—presidential aides announced Mr. Roosevelt's itinerary for next week would be interrupted to permit him to attend the funeral of Secretary of War Dern at Salt Lake City Tuesday.

Delays Landon Meeting
This was the date the drought conference with Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas and four other governors was to have been held at Des Moines. The latter meeting now is tentatively set for next Thursday on the return from Salt Lake.

In submitting its report to the president, the drought committee, headed by Chairman Morris L. Cooke, said:

"The fundamental purpose of any worthwhile program must be not to depopulate the region, but to make it permanently habitable. The drift away from the great plains has already begun and is likely to continue unless remedial measures are taken without delay."

In his rear platform talk, the president said the question boiled down to three problems—keeping people going who have lost crops and livestock, helping them until spring rains arrive, and working out a "plan of co-operation with nature, instead of going along with what we have been doing in the past—trying to buck nature."

Recommendations Listed
Here, in brief, are the recommendations of the drought committee:

1—Arrest of soil erosion and efficient use of water resources through engineering, new agricultural practices, financing and a revision of policies of all public agencies concerned.

2—Permanent retirement of certain submarginal lands from commercial production.

3—Building of thousands of "small but substantial dams" to hold back run-off for use in dry spells.

EAGLES TO HOLD PARADE TONIGHT

A membership campaign will be launched tonight by Medford series of the Fraternal Order of Eagles with a colorful street parade, dance and Dutch lunch. It was announced by George Tucker, president.

The parade, to start at 7 o'clock, will proceed along the principal business streets of the city. In the march will be the uniformed drill teams of Medford series and auxiliary, the men's and women's drum corps of the Klamath Falls series and delegations from the Grants Pass and Ashland lodges, Mr. Tucker said.

The series and auxiliary will hold brief business meetings at 8 o'clock. A dance will follow at the West Main street lodge hall, with Dynges orchestra providing the music. A Dutch lunch will be served during the evening. The affair is for members of the lodge and auxiliary and their families.

ST. HELENS, Aug. 28.—(P)—John Downing, who came here in 1876, died at his home at the age of 95.

Male Quartet To Present Program At Full Gospel

The California Gospel Quartet will be guests tonight at the Full Gospel church, Newtown and West Main streets, where they will offer an hour of vocal and instrumental renderings. The service will start at eight o'clock.

The quartet is making an extensive tour of the Pacific coast endeavoring to awaken spiritual interest. For the past year the quartet has inspired the radio audience of Station KGGC, Glad Tidings Temple, San Francisco, with their outstanding presentation of the Gospel in song.

Pastor Leonard Weston extends a hearty invitation to all to attend, adding, "These four spiritual young men will bring an inspiring, soul uplifting program of instrumental and vocal numbers, in the form of quartets, duets and solos followed by a short, appealing message from the Word of God."

There will be no admission fee, but a free will offering will be received.
