YOU, TOO CAN SING

Have you ever listened enviously to a good singer, and thought wistfully that if Heaven had only given you a voice you, too, might sing? Well, how do you know that you haven't one? It is proper training that brings out the beauty of voices, just as proper cutting brings out the beauty of rough diamonds. Some of the world's most famous singers were handicapped at the start by vocal deficiencies, but conscientious work and the help of a skilled teacher eventually put them at the top.

In my years of successful teaching, I have often seen intelligence and perseverance plus an ordinary voice outdistance a beautiful voice not backed by earnest work. Your success is up to you. Enroll now in my fall class of pupils, and let me help you achieve your heart's desire. Interview by appointment.
