TWO KILLED BY AUTOS OVER WEEK-END

By Paul Mallon
Copyright, 1936, by Paul Mallon
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—President Roosevelt is not campaigning yet, but his associates thought he did as good a political job of not doing it on his southern trip as when he was not doing it on his drought trip. Both, they thought, were revealing examples of the unexaggerated Roosevelt technique. Here's the news-up picture, as the back-seat drivers caught it down south.

The presidential motorcade from Asheville to Charlotte... the route carefully selected through the mill districts, advertised widely, in communities which had never seen a president... the president in an open car with a substantial hat for waving... mill hands, farmers and their wives, totting two or more babies, lining the route all the way... rain pours. The top on the presidential car goes up, but it is put down again at the towns. The president dons his raincoat. With the top up, he leans out and waves... the crowd refuses to be rained out for this road-show of a lifetime. If they cannot find shelter in doorways, they stand out without covering and let it pour... finally into Charlotte. Newsmen, knowing presidential luck, have already prepared dispatches saying the rain stopped for the presidential speech, so they can rush these to the wires fast when it does stop... but it doesn't... fight on up to the speaker's stand, it continues. The president appears, his clothing soaked, rain on his smiling face. The audience is soaked. Then it stops... the president speaks about green pastures and still water, working in

STATE FAIR ENDS WITH RAIN, WIND

SALEM, Sept. 14.—A fire works display on a background of black clouds closed the Diamond Jubilee Oregon fair last night while several thousand faithful braved the wind and rains to witness the final program of a successful week. Exhibitors and livestock breeders were moving off their materials and animals today and the scene of seven days' holiday became one of damp desolation to await renovation before the 1937 event for which plans are already under way. The paid admissions up to Saturday night reached 76,583, or 3,000 more than a year ago. This sum brought in $10,000 more receipts than a year ago due to the increased admission fee. The receipts at the turnstiles totaled $32,215.50. Director Solon T. White stated the fair was both a success financially and educationally. He lauded the cooperation of the exhibitors. Despite heavy showers Saturday about 10,000 people attended the feature programs.

SIDE GLANCES BY TRIBUNE REPORTERS

Junior high students branding Russ Acheson, coach and instructor, the school's meagrest man—with classes starting on Tuesday he gave 'em and gave an exam on Friday! Bruce Ruff, who works in a bank and should know better if anyone does, testing his luck against a pinball machine which, instead of sending him home without a shirt, rewarded him so handsomely that Ralph Bardwell and nine others clustered to watch the fun. Mrs. Bud Bigelow refusing to open the door or scatter sugar to entice more flies inside where it was warm, after a customer found swarming them to be such great indoor sport he had exhausted the supply. Former Rep. A. Moore Hamilton admitting that former Senator James Chincock of Grants Pass is probably the guy that Chincock almost named for, and the paragrapher here, in hoping that seven hundred and twenty don't call in to advise that the two names are spelled differently.

POLICE SEEKING HIT-RUN DRIVER IN TALENT DEATH

Everett J. Thompson Struck by Speeding Car at Talent Sunday — Kenneth Howard Is Smashup Victim

Eight This Year.

The deaths of Everett J. Thompson, killed last night at Talent by a hit-run driver, and Kenneth Engle Howard, killed in an out-of-control car on West Main street early Sunday morning, brings to eight the number of auto accident victims in Jackson county since January 1 of this year, records of the county coroner show. The death list includes one killed by a runaway truck on a Siskiyou project, two mangled under the wheels of a circus train at Talent, one killed while riding a bicycle, one killed by falling out of a moving auto, and one killed while walking on the highway near Gold Hill, besides the two fatalities this week-end.

Hurling autos snuffed out the lives of two in Jackson county over the week-end, one man a victim of a hit-and-run driver at Talent and one killed when his light roadster careened crazily out of control on West Main street at Columbus avenue. The hit-run victim was Everett J. Thompson, 44, Talent, who was knocked down and crushed by a speeding auto near the south city limits of Talent at 8:15 last night; the other man was Kenneth Engle Howard, 28, Dead Indian (injured, killed at 2 a. m. Sunday here. Thompson was walking along the highway en route to his home to cook oysters he had purchased at a hotel before at the Park's general store in the neighboring town. No one except the occupants of the car, who have not been located, saw the fatal crash, but Len Smith, who lives near the scene, heard the splashing impact and rushed out there. He could see no auto in either direction.

Dies En Route Hospital He ran to the highway and found Thompson unconscious, bleeding profusely and with his head badly cut and bruised. While he was attempting to render first aid, Earl Owens, service station operator, arrived in his car. Smith belted him and the two loaded the dying man into the back of the car and sped toward the Ashland hospital. They had gone only a few blocks when they discovered Thompson was already dead. They rushed back to the Park's store and telephoned state police, who were still investigating the case today. Meticulous evidence of the force of the blow was broken glass from a windshield, a radiator ornament from a 1935 Chevrolet wrenched from its position on the front of the hood, and splattered blood. The car was believed to have headed south but there are no witnesses to confirm the suspicion. State troopers are busy today running down clues, being particularly interested in 1935 Chevrolets with damaged fenders or broken glass equipment. Inquest Decision Waits The body was taken to Ashland by Deputy Coroner Will Dodge. County (Continued on Page Eight.)

TWO LIVES TOLL IN K. F. ACCIDENTS

KLAMATH FALLS, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Klamath county today counted two dead as its share of week-end accident fatalities in Oregon. Frank Marshall Smith, 29, Klamath Falls sawmill worker, died last night from injuries received when the car he was driving in the feature event of a Sunday auto racing program here, rolled over him after striking railposts on a curve. Sam O'Connor, 77, died earlier yesterday, victim of a skull fracture. O'Connor was hit by the door handle of a car as he crossed The Dalles-California highway two miles north of here Saturday night. Driver of the car, Mrs. Nellie Ricker of Spokane, was not held. OREGON CITY, Ore., Sept. 14.—(AP)—John Bohlander, 62, Beaver Creek, died as a result of injuries incurred late Saturday while he was walking along the Beaver Creek highway. State police said he was struck by a car driven by L. F. Staben, also of Beaver Creek.

RICHMAN, MERRILL ARE FORCED DOWN IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Copyright, 1936, by the Associated Press NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Canadian press said today the round-trip transatlantic airplane of Harry Richman and Dick Merrill was forced down at 1:20 p. m. (E. S. T.) on the northeast coast of Newfoundland. Officials awaiting them at Floyd Bennett field said they had no confirmation. Whether either flier was hurt was not immediately determined. Attempting to retrace their path over the Atlantic which carried them eastward to a forced landing in Wales, the two men took off for New York early this morning from a London airport. Today's reported forced landing occurred at a marsh three miles from Musgrave Harbor, N. F. (Continued on Page Eight.)

HEAVY BALLOTING IN MAINE ELECTION

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 14.—(AP)—A decision in the greatest political fight ever waged in Maine approached late today as the electorate voted in a heavy vote in its state election. Reports from all parts of the state indicated the voters, stirred by two months of unprecedented campaign oratory, had responded by casting more ballots than in some recent elections. Chief in the interest of the voters was the contest between Gov. Louis J. Brann (D.) and U. S. Senator Wallace H. White, Jr. (R.) for the seat White now holds in the senate. Their battle was waged on New Deal issues involving state administration and Maine's economic welfare, with White denouncing the Roosevelt administration. Brann defended New Deal expenditures.

SENTENCE CLOSES PISTOL INCIDENT

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 14.—(AP)—An old Bailey court today heard a fantastic tale of a "foreign power" plot to assassinate King Edward VIII and then sentenced George Andrew McMahon, the narrator, to a year at hard labor for the celebrated pistol incident at the king's Constitution Hill parade last July. The charge on which McMahon was convicted was producing a revolver "with intent to harm his majesty." Two other charges were dismissed on the judge's instructions. But before the jury sat, McMahon had detailed a so-called attempt by a "foreign power" to have him shoot the king the month before, on the occasion of his majesty's 42nd birthday. King Edward Returns LETHAM, Middlesex, Eng., Sept. 14.—(AP)—King Edward VIII landed at Letham here at 6:30 p. m. today returning from his mid-European vacation.

74 DIE AS SLIDE SENDS WAVE OVER NORWEGIAN TOWNS

Twin Villages at Foot of Rogne Mountain Virtually Wiped Out When Huge Avalanche Strikes Lake

LOEN, Norway, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Rescue parties today searched beautiful Lake Loen, turned into a death-trap by a roaring avalanche and resultant flood, for the bodies of the 74 victims of one of Norway's great natural disasters. The twin villages of Bodal and Nandal, nestled at the foot of 6,388-foot Rogne mountain in this famous tourist region, were virtually wiped out when a huge mass of rock slid down into the lake with a terrifying rumble and sent a great wall of water sweeping over the area. No chance to escape The natives, started from their early morning sleep, had no chance to escape from the great wave which poured through the narrow valley after the massive rock—at least 1,200 feet broad and 1,500 feet high—rolled into the lake. Relief workers, including doctors and nurses who flew here from Bergen and Oslo, established temporary hospitals in the few remaining homes in this beauty spot. Bodies of human beings and animals, as well as furniture and household articles, floated on the surface of the lake. There were scores of corpses of silver foxes, bred by the farmers of the region. OLD LINE POLITICIANS ACCUSED BY LEMKE AS CAUSING NATION'S ILLS

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Rep. William Lemke of North Dakota, Union party candidate for president, left a message with a Portland audience that "the situation, tragic though it is, could be remedied if this nation were not so thoroughly afflicted with a lot of old line politicians who still think in terms of yesterday." The presidential candidate spoke at the auditorium here Sunday, later flying to Seattle to continue a speaking tour. He charged that "nothing adequate is being done to solve the unemployment problem" and said "one out of every seven of our people is on relief." The candidate characterized Landon and Roosevelt as the "gold dust twins" of Wall street and said: "The first thing you know one of those candidates will withdraw in favor of the other in order to beat me." He urged a program of farm and home refinancing under terms of therazier-Lemke measure, and called for strong unionism and collective bargaining. He assailed Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and the "dripped A" program, derided the relief setup and asked for an end to tax-exemptions.

IRVING THALBERG PNEUMONIA VICTIM

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Irving Thalberg, 37, husband of actress Norma Shearer, died today. Thalberg was the production manager for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, and considered the most brilliant film producer in Hollywood. Dr. Philip Newmark said he succumbed to lobar pneumonia. At the bedside were Miss Shearer, the executive's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Thalberg, the actress' mother, Mrs. Edith Shearer, and Mrs. Sylvia Thalberg Weingarten, Thalberg's sister. Miss Shearer was prostrated with grief. His two children, Irving Jr., six, and Katharine, one, were taken to the bedside this morning, but Thalberg did not recognize them. He married Norma Shearer in 1928.

CAVE JUNCTION TALKS TOWN INCORPORATION

GRANTS PASS, Ore., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Talk of incorporation is spreading in one of Oregon's newest towns—Cave Junction. The community, known as Cave City prior to the establishing of a federal postoffice which took the new name, was begun but five years ago. Street lights and a tourist registration bureau comprise new developments.

FASCISTS SET UP OWN GOVERNMENT IN SAN SEBASTIAN

Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Sept. 14.—Fascist warriors completed their occupation of San Sebastian today by setting up a civil administration headed by the governor of Pamplona, provincial capital of Navarre. Strong lines of fascist troops held the city from possible counter-attack by the defeated socialists who fled before the insurgent advance yesterday with arms, ammunition and other war equipment. Military and civil authorities began speedy rehabilitation of public services which had been paralyzed for days during the fascist siege of the Baquea resort. Supplies of food were rushed to the city from which officials estimated approximately 10,000 civilians and foreigners have fled. Col. Jose Borlegui, commander of the fascist forces, claimed possession of the city formally at 6 p. m. yesterday as he rode into the community at the head of a procession of soldiers.

MAGNUS JOHNSON PNEUMONIA VICTIM

LITCHFIELD, Minn., Sept. 14.—(UP)—Magnus Johnson, housepung former United States senator, who carried his grassroots philosophy to the halls of congress, died here Sunday. Death of the 64-year-old pioneer of the Minnesota Farm-Labor party movement resulted from pneumonia. He was stricken ill August 22, a few hours before the death of his friend and fellow Farmer-Laborite, Gov. Floyd B. Olson. The burly, good-natured Johnson garnered national and state politics for a decade with his notoriously witty grammar and his ready wit. He preferred dirt splattered overalls to dignified senatorial garb and once started fellow senators by boasting in congress that he was "the best gold-darned cow milker in Minnesota." Johnson's last political fight was staged only a few months ago when he lost to Senator Elmer Benson in a race for the Farmer-Labor nomination for governor. His fight against Benson, who bore Governor Olson's endorsement, made him a factional foe of the late chief executive, but they remained personal friends.

ZOE K. NOUD, 41, TO FINAL REST

Mrs. Z. K. Noud, 41, passed away at a local hospital early Monday morning of heart ailment. She was born at Clearfield, Pa., July 25, 1895, and was married to John Byrne Noud, August 5, 1917, at Salem, Ore. Three children were born to the union. She is survived by her husband and two sons and one daughter, Carolyn, John and Richard Noud, all of Klamath Falls. She is also survived by her father, Emmett Hinkle, Klamath Falls, Ore. Mrs. Noud was a member of Sacred Heart Church of Klamath Falls. Funeral services will be held at Klamath Falls and will be announced later.

POPE PIUS CALLS WORLD TO OPPOSE COMMUNISM EVIL

Pontiff Declares Foundation of All Order, Culture and Civilization Menaced by Continued Propaganda

By ANDRUE BERDING (Copyright, 1936, by the Associated Press) CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Sept. 14.—Pope Pius XI, in strong, passionate tones, gave his blessing before the whole world today to a militant defense against the "mad" forces of communism. Declaring these forces menacing, in tragic Spain and elsewhere, "the very foundation of all order, all culture and all civilization" the holy father, nevertheless, invoked a special love born of mercy and compassion for Spanish refugees and bishops and priests and called upon the constituted authorities of all nations to "oppose these great evils with every remedy and barrier that is possible." Utter Chaos Looms Sadly, he foresaw utter chaos if "those who have a duty in the matter do not hasten to repair the breach—if, indeed, it is not already too late." Five hundred of the Spanish refugees to whom the pontiff tendered his heart felt greetings and admiration were in the throne room of the papal villa when the pope entered. His first few words were faltering but his voice gradually grew strong. As a few of the more intense moments it broke with emotion, but the (Continued on Page Two.)

ADELE BLOOD HOPE, ONCE NOTED BEAUTY, SUICIDES WITH GUN

HARRISON, N. Y., Sept. 14.—(UP)—Mrs. Adele Blood Hope, 50, once famous actress who was regarded as the most beautiful blonde on the stage, shot herself fatally last night. She was taken from her English tudor mansion to United hospital in Port Chester where she died. Mrs. Hope had been a writer and a stock company promoter since her retirement from the stage. She was widow and had a 17 year old daughter, Dawn, who recently made her stage debut as a violinist. Police said Mrs. Hope was worried over financial reverses. Last night Dawn left her mother's home on the fashionable grounds of the Westchester Country club to take two friends to the Rye railroad station. When she returned her mother and two other men friends were in the living room. Mrs. Hope excused herself, saying she was going to retire. A few minutes later Dawn went upstairs to her own bedroom. She heard a shot and rushing into her mother's room, found her lying on the floor, fully dressed. Mrs. Hope had shot herself in the right side of the head, just above the ear with a .32 caliber revolver, police said.

HITLER REVIEWS MILITARY SHOW

Berlin, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Hitler reviewed a military show today "serious times may come but they will never find us wavering, disheartened or cowardly." Der Fuehrer, in a brief ten-minute address at the fourth annual Nazi convention, told his troops "the future belongs solely to the brave." He promised them: "For two years I demand of you I will return ten years of better health. What you give the fatherland in your youth will be repaid to you in old age." Hitler reiterated his profession of peaceful intentions and said, "you, my soldiers, have been called by the nation not to serve a fanatical attempt by exaggerated chauvinism but to keep watch over our labor, our people and our Deutschland." The armed might of Germany marched and thundered past Hitler to close the day packed with the sound and fury of sham battle.

AMATEURS START GOLF TITLE QUEST

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 14.—(UP)—The battle for the 40th United States amateur golf championship opened over the treacherous Garden City club course today with a record field of 210 British and American club winners clashing for the title vacated when Lawson Little of San Francisco, winner in 1934 and 1935, turned professional last April. Two players—Johnny Goodman of Omaha, U. S. open champion in 1933, and Albert (Scotty) Campbell, smooth stroking Seattle star—were named by most of the competitors as the pair who will survive their punishing match play elimination rounds and fight for the trophy on Saturday. But, with neither a Little nor a Bobby Jones spread eagling the field before plays starts, the chances are that any of the 60 odd outstanding men—veterans and youngsters—will smash into the finals.

HOLDING COMPANY ACT UP FOR MAJOR TEST

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The first major test to determine the constitutionality of the holding company act got under way today as the securities and exchange commission filed its brief against the Electric Bond and Share company in the southern district federal court in New York. This company, which serves 10 per cent of the total electric customers in the United States, was one of the firms which declined to register under the holding company act, declaring the statute unconstitutional. Suit to compel it to register was brought by the commission last November. DRIVER NEAR DROWNING BY BROKEN FIRE PLUG SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Leon Hoppe, 45, was drowned yesterday when his automobile crashed into a fire hydrant, jamming him behind the steering wheel, and losing a fountain of water. He was treated at an emergency hospital for submersion and a slight head injury.
