The family settled at Comptonville, Calif., and in 1871 they moved to Jackson county and for six years resided just east of the present site of Medford, then moved to Sams Valley where Mr. Fitzgerald lived the remainder of his lifetime.

ELKS WILL MOVE PICNIC INDOORS IF WEATHER BAD

Really severe weather will be the only thing that will halt the annual Elks fall picnic at the lodge grounds on Rogue river Thursday evening of this week, was the opinion of Ernest Scott, lodge secretary, this afternoon.

A special meeting has been called for tonight to discuss the advisability of preparing to move the picnic in-doors to the Elks temple here in case of rain. Last year a drizzling rain fell throughout the afternoon but an un-daunted committee announced that the picnic would go forward out-doors as planned. Beautiful weather greeted the picnicers. Two huge bon-fires warmed the crowd at the ath-letic contests, and the same plan will be followed this year.

Mack Lillard, wrestling promoter, will probably announce tonight which grapplers will perform on the outdoor card to be presented at the barbecue picnic. It was stated.

Fresh and tough after their sum-mer's layoff from fighting, CCC box-ers will pour into Medford this week to do battle on the card.

The bruised hands and other in-juries which handicapped many fighters during the spring campaign have completely healed, the facts have been training religiously for several weeks, and all are in the pink of condition.

Several new boys as well as a num-ber of old favorites will make their appearance on the card. At Call, Oak Knoll's diminutive slugger, will be here with his manager, Capt. Hank Pheasant, and will probably tangle with Julius Braun, a green but willing boy from Camp Annie Springs, whom Capt. Harold Capers has entered for the card.

From the Lava Beds will come Billy Chapman, an experienced 124-pounder, who will probably mix with Harry Hunt, another newcomer from Annie Springs. Camp Wilmer has promised to bring in a wrecking crew to uphold the company record, while Prescott's men have been in training and will come down off the hill prepared to battle for dear old Roxy Ann.

In a similar action filed in the parallel suit of the Pinnacle Packing company and five other Rogue River valley packing concerns, an affidavit of prejudice was granted by Judge Norton.

No change of venue from this county is sought by Krause, as et-

IRVINE PROTESTS EDUCATION BOARD SUNDAY SESSIONS

PORTLAND, Sept. 14—(AP)—An otherwise quiet meeting of the state board of higher education here today was enlivened near its close by a sharp objection voiced by B. F. Irvine, Portland member, to the long established practice of holding board committee meetings on Sunday as a prelude to the Monday meeting dates called for in the by-laws.

With some 50 personnel changes and the five institutions and some minor miscellaneous business cared for, Irvine voiced with some heat his feeling on Sunday committee meet-ings which he said have been used as a "cloak and a shield" for full inter-ference board meetings, and said this is partly to keep out newspaper men.

Sunday meetings, he added, place the board, presumed leader of youth, in a position of setting a bad exam-ple to youth and the state at large.

F. E. Callister, chairman of the board, and grounds committee which has carried the brunt of the campus building programs, denied that the committee meetings are "cloak and a pretense" but that ab-solutely necessary to the conduct of the board's business.

The upshot of the interchange was the proposal by E. C. Pease of an amendment to the rules and by-laws substituting Tuesday for Monday as the regular meeting dates, which would permit committee meetings on Monday. He said that arrangement would suit him better, and probably some other members. The question will be voted on at the next meeting called for Monmouth Monday Octo-ber 26, when two new Oregon Normal school buildings will be dedicated.

Other building and improvement matters, mostly connected with PWA and WPA projects, took up that part of the board's attention not given to acting on the largest list of personnel changes since the annual budget meeting.

Special duplicate plaques acknowl-edging the gift of a rare mining and geological library to Oregon State col-lege by Mrs. H. D. McCaskey of Med-ford were ordered made by the board at the suggestion of Albert Burch, Medford, former board member, and H. W. Ruhl, Medford board member. One plaque will be installed perma-nently at the library and the other will be given to the donor.

Leave of absence without pay was granted Mrs. Bertha Smith, assistant professor of health at Southern Ore-gon normal.

Applies for Enlistment—O. K. Bray left on the morning train for the north today to apply for enlistment in the United States navy at the Port-land office.

POLICE SEEKING HIT-RUN DRIVER IN TALENT DEATH

Coroner Frank Perl announced today that decision as to an inquest would await the filing of the state police report, but that there prob-ably would be one.

Thompson had been employed as a general laborer by Carl Beeson for the past two or three years. He lived alone until a short time ago when Harold Palmer and his father, Cali-fornia fruit workers, were taken in as boarders. He was unmarried, and so far as known has only one rela-tive, a sister, Mrs. Kinsman, now living in Iowa. Authorities were mak-ing an effort to contact her today as to disposition of the body.

Kenneth Howard, who makes his home in Ashland when not working at his father's little sawmill 16 miles from the Pacific highway on the Dead Indian road, was killed while returning Miss Bernice Mansfield to her home at the Knox camp in Jack-sonville.

Howard was driving his light roadster toward Jacksonville on West Main street, at what police believe must have been a fast pace. At the Colum-bus avenue intersection the right wheels of the roadster hit the two deep ruts made by cars turning onto the dirt-surfaced Columbus street. The car evidently bounced into the air and came down skidding, slanting to the left across the high-way.

It skidded to the far side of the pavement, hit the gutter and leaped into the air, according to recon-structed evidence. It landed on its radiator, leaving the radiator cap buried in the earth, leaped on over in a high arc to form a complete forward somersault, and landed on its side, rolling over four or five times before coming to rest about 75 feet from the start of the skid.

Howard was killed instantly, the entire lower half of his skull crushed by some blow, and the left chest crushed and the ribs broken. His body was thrown clear on the last turn that the car made, and was found 10 feet from the machine. Miss Mansfield was also thrown from the gyrating auto and was found un-conscious a few feet from Howard's body.

The girl was rushed to a local hos-pital where her condition was pro-nounced not serious. She received a gash over both eyes and painful bruises, but returned to her home in Jacksonville early Sunday morning.

Wine bottles found on the scene, one a fifth full in the torn wreckage of the car and one a fifth empty lying in the dirt near the scene. There were no witnesses to the crash.

The body is held at the morgue in the Perl funeral home. No in-quest will be held. The man is sur-vised by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Howard of Ashland, and one sister, Mrs. Leon Tenney, living in San Francisco.

High School News by STUDENT REPORTERS

(By Arlene Johnson) A new two-year program in phys-ical education is to be inaugurated this year, according to an announcement made by C. G. Smith, principal, in last Wednesday's general assembly. Physical education, physiology, hy-giene and health will be taught as a two-year course and may be used at the rate of one unit for two years work or one credit for one year's work toward graduation. Pupils grad-uating in January or June, 1938, will be required to have one full unit.

Pupils graduating in January or June, 1937, may count as much as one credit toward graduation, but are not required to have physical educa-tion.

(By Barbara Hampson) The first senior high school as-sembly of the fall term of 1936 was called to order by the student body president, Ardo Stocks, Wednesday at 1 o'clock in the auditorium. This assembly was for the purpose of get-ting students to buy their student body tickets and thus make possible the large program of activities plan-ning for the year.

The president called attention to the fact that last year's sales were a decided disappointment and that, in order to have all the activities planned for this year, more tickets must be sold. Richard Thieroff, busi-ness manager, informed the assembly the tickets would be sold at reduced prices. He stated that if they could sell 400 tickets in the first few weeks of the first semester, tickets would only cost dollar this semester, and 75 cents next semester. Last year student tickets cost $1.25 and by lowering prices it was hoped that sales would rise.

Boys' League president, Sam Rich-ardson, senior class president, Dick Woodcock, and Girls' League pres-ident, Della Mae Dale, talked also on the necessity of a successful ticket sale drive. C. G. Smith, principal, also stressed importance of buying the tickets, among other regulations which he made clear to sophomores and new students.

(By Martha Reynolds) At the beginning of this semester the French club members were on duty selling red and black Medford stickers. The purpose of this sale is raise money to carry on French club activities, according to the president, Caroline Cook.

BAR ASSOCIATION AIMS FOR BETTER PUBLIC RELATIONS

The question of public relations was discussed at the first fall meet-ing of the Southern Oregon Bar as-sociation in the Redwoods Hotel at Grants Pass Saturday night.

It was brought out that the public is not fully informed of the functions performed by lawyers and therefore attorneys are sometimes blamed for conditions beyond their control.

Delay in court procedure was one thing the attorneys felt brought pub-lic censure upon the profession. It was agreed to map out a program designed to aid in bringing litigation to an early determination. It was also decided to formulate a program in-tended to create a better understand-ing between the public and the legal profession.

The new officers of the association assumed their duties for the first time. They are Frank P. Farrell, pres-ident, C. F. Pruess of Grants Pass, vice-president, and F. Kramer Deuel, secretary-treasurer. Otto Frohn-mayer and W. T. Miller of Grants Pass comprise the executive committee. Twenty-two members were present.

The evening's program was in charge of Mr. Pruess. Mrs. William Robinson, daughter of Senator James Chinnock of Grants Pass sang two popular songs and Beverly Dungey entertained with an acrobatic dance. Rosa Lou and Kent White completed the entertainment with a novelty dance.

Next month's meeting will be held here, the date to be announced later. The meetings will be alternated be-tween Medford and Grants Pass, it was decided.

JOHN B. GRIFFIN, COUNTY PIONEER, MARKS BIRTHDAY

Mrs. W. C. Bailey of Merrill, Ore., accompanied by her husband and daughter, arrived in Medford yester-day to celebrate the 83rd birthday anniversary of her father, John B. Griffin.

John Griffin is the oldest native son of Jackson county. In fact, he was the third white child to be born here and is the only living mem-ber of the 30 original or charter mem-bers of the Jackson County Pioneer society.

This society exists with increasing activity and interest to keep alive the early-day history of the men and women comprising an intelligent and revered class whose experience in settling and civilizing this region were most extraordinary and whose hardihood and privations made possible the development of the beau-tiful valley that now greets the eye of the visitor.

The society meets annually for the purpose of adding new or heretofore unrelated historical events, a discus-sion of historical matters pertaining to this section and to make it an occasion for a social intercourse in which speeches are made, narratives told and the contingent business of the association transacted. It is so be commended that such an organi-zation exists having for its purpose the preservation of these historical events, the details of which are far beyond the comprehension of the present-day generation.

The next meeting of the society will be held in the historic old town of Jacksonville on September 24. President Frank Van Dyke will pre-side and Evan Reames will be the orator of the day.
