BESIEGED ALCAZAR FINALLY FALLS, IS REPORT IN MADRID

La Reina, Sept. 23.—The fall of Madrid and Toledo was declared imminent today by insurgent leaders as the fascists rapidly cut the distance separating their armies from both cities.

Officers said the government forces were hurried back on both fronts after suffering severe losses in battles at Torrijos and along the Talavera-Madrid highway beyond Maqueda.

Reports were current the Madrid government was debating the advisability of surrender.

Gen. Francisco Franco, insurgent commander, however, prepared to take Madrid by storm, probably in a joint attack with forces of Gen. Emilio Mola, advancing out of the Guadarrama mountains northwest of the capital.

THREE ACE HUNTERS DIVERTED BY BRUIN AS DEER ESCAPES

Silence Is Golden, the Truth Will Out—and other cliches of like nature undoubtedly have their place, but one is needed to explain the reticence of Bob and Larry Duff of Medford and Clyde Smith of Butte Falls in keeping a good story under their hats.

The Mail Tribune Shadow, who keeps these matters under constant surveillance, reports the three were in a honey of a tableau on the greenward of Buck Basin Sunday. Smith was watching a big bear that was wandering around Bob, the oldest of the two red-headed Duffs. The party was deer hunting and had no interest in bears, other than a natural curiosity.

While Smith was gazing at the bear a gigantic buck deer came thundering out of the underbrush straight for him, crashed knife-like forefeet viciously into the spot from which the startled hunter had just leaped and continued its flight into the woods.

The deer approached so rapidly that Smith didn't have a chance to throw a shell into his gun. Bob Duff gazed vacantly at the deer, thinking it must have been a doe or his companion would have plugged it. Larry Duff examined the proceedings interestedly and finally emerged from his absent-mindedness long enough to get in a couple of shots at too long range to do any good.

The three are eating roast beef, veiners and other staple meats, and have no complaints when queried as to the venison they didn't get.

allays of the Japanese-populated district.

The two surviving marines, it was announced, probably would recover, but the death of the one brought to five the number of Japanese nationalists slain in scattered Sino-Japanese incidents in the last 30 days.

Japanese authorities, reinforcing their permanent landing party of 2000 with additional marines from the flagship Itazumo, now in the Whang-poo river, sent bluejackets also into the Chinese area adjacent to that part of the international settlement where the shooting occurred.

Authorities of the international settlement immediately called out a Russian company of 600 men, part of the settlement defense corps. They were standing by, ready for instant duty in the event of an emergency.

All police reserves also were called for duty.

verdict of accidental death but stated that the accident could have been avoided had more care been used. Dr. F. G. Bunch, Medford, and Lieut. T. P. Coates were detained temporarily.

While Meyers lay dead at Lakeview, the Prineville moose leg another deer hunting victim. Max Ruef, 27, of Stayton, at least three other hunters were wounded, with but three days of the 35-day season passed.

Ruef was killed in the woods near Prineville when he and a companion, E. L. Castle, were running a wounded deer. A shot from Castle's rifle was believed to have bored through the deer, glanced off a bone, and wounded Ruef fatally. An inquest was to have been held today, according to coroner G. M. Meyers of Crook county.

None of the injured were believed

RETER IS ELECTED EXECUTIVE SECY. ADVISORY BOARD

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 23.—(AP)—L. C. Newlands of Portland was elevated today to the presidency of the Pacific northwest advisory board. For two years he had been vice president.

Newlands succeeds I. F. Dix of Seattle, who will become a member of the executive committee.

W. P. Perrow, Spokane, was elected vice president to succeed Newlands, and R. R. Reter, Medford, Ore., was elected executive secretary, the post held by Perrow for the past two years.

The executive board reappointed R. E. Clark and E. L. Rowan of Seattle, secretary and assistant secretary, respectively.

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Not only is business in the Pacific northwest the best of any year since 1930, the Pacific northwest advisory board was told today, but it probably will improve during the winter and possibly see "sharp improvement" next summer.

Nearly 700 railway executives, business men and shippers are here for the 11th annual meeting of the board. Before them were reports from committees covering almost the entire field of business in the area, including for the first time reports from trade organizations.

"Not only are business conditions better, but the trends are upward, confidence prevails and indications point to permanency," the committee on trade organizations reported.

Bank deposits have increased, checking accounts are larger, indicating more activity along commercial lines, the report continued.

Individual reports to the commercial and trade committee from trade organizations showed increases in employment and business ranging from 10 to 100 per cent.

"It would be worthy to note," this committee reported, "that the unusually large tourist traffic appears to have a marked influence on increasing business activity."
