Club Hears Talk on Constitution

Mrs. Claud M. Hurd, Pro-America chairman for Jackson county, addressed the Business and Professional Women's club when they met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Maude Snider. Her topic was the Constitution, in observance of Constitution Day.

Miss Mary Louise Foster had charge of the music for the evening and Mrs. H. M. Welshar spoke briefly on the aims and purposes of the organization. Mrs. Mabel Mack, president, presided at the session.

Among guests of the club were Miss Laura York, Mrs. H. D. Byington and Miss Rene Jarman.

Next meeting was announced for October 5 and will be a dinner meeting at Valentine's cafe.

Glendale Visitors Leave for South

Leaving by motor for the south today were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Peacock, who are returning to their home at Glendale, Calif., after spending the past several days visiting in the valley.

While here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Niedermeyer, Mrs. Niedermeyer and Mrs. Peacock being sisters. The visitors also spent some time in Ashland at the home of Mrs. Peacock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hake. Mrs. Peacock was formerly Rose Hake.

Depart to Continue Studies at Eugene

Miss Rosa Gore and Miss Alice Holmbeck left on the morning train for the north yesterday for the University of Oregon campus at Eugene, where they will continue studies. Miss Holmbeck is a graduate student and Miss Gore will enter her senior year.

Students Away to School in North

Leaving by motor yesterday were Bill Barnum and Russell Ulrich, who are among Medford students continuing studies away from home this year. Barnum will study further at the Northern Pacific Dental college in Portland and Ulrich will enter his second year at the University of Washington.

Notice

Press correspondents or publicity chairmen of all clubs, lodges, church circles and other organizations are requested to call the society editor at 75 during afternoon hours as soon as possible. Co-operation in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Kiwanian Dames To Meet Monday

Mrs. J. F. Reynolds will be hostess to ladies of the Kiwanian Dames next Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at her home, 836 Minnesota avenue. The affair is to be a dessert-bridge, with a business session, the first of the fall season, to precede a program and cards.

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. J. G. Fowler and Mrs. Everett Faber. Members of the executive committee met at Mrs. Faber's home yesterday to outline plans for Monday's meeting and discuss activities for the year.

Officers to Meet For Period Reports

Announcement has been made that officers of the Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, will meet at the church next Wednesday to make out quarterly reports. Mrs. Tom Peterson was hostess to the society for the last session. It was also announced that those having proceeds from the recent contest are to return them in to the leaders Sunday.

Salem Visitor at Anderson Residence

Among out of town visitors in Medford this week is Miss Ethel Frazier of Salem, who arrived from the north Monday morning. She is the guest of her sister and brother-in-law Capt. and Mrs. Albert T. Anderson. Miss Frazier plans to return to her home tomorrow.

Club to Begin Fall Activity

Beginning activities for the fall and winter season, the Sacred Heart Mothers' club will meet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the parish hall. Officers will be elected and numerous plans for the year formulated. All members are particularly urged to be present in view of the business to be transacted.

of the party. The givers of the $5,000 thus were not identified. The Anti-Saloon league used the same device, keeping its organization and its campaign committee separate.

Incidentally, the communists say they are going to spend a quarter of a million of capitalistic dollars in their campaign, but do not say where that is coming from either.

The state department can prove it did everything possible for imprisoned Lawrence Simpson in Germany, but its activities would have been more effective if there were not an inner suspicion that he is not entirely guiltless, or if he were not a communist.

A good inside story of legislative ways and means is told around the robust political character of Senator Joe Robinson by two outstanding Washington news getters, Turner Catledge and Joseph Alsop, Jr., in the current Saturday Evening Post.

Lost soul of the campaign is Democratic Senator Copeland. He has not been asked to say anything and won't be. His description of himself is that he is "not a Republican, not a new dealer, still a Democrat, and very still."

consider it inevitable. The progress of American communism would be a minor consideration if Russian communism, or what is left of it, faces Japanese and Russian bayonets.

The reds need allies, and apparently are playing Mr. Roosevelt for a sucker.

A boiling series of personal and personnel situations exists within the commerce department, and there seems to be some question whether the lid can be kept on until election. A reorganization of two or more bureaus in that department is considered inevitable.

Certain senators are aroused because no shake-up has developed in the air division, and also because Mr. Roosevelt delayed appointment of the maritime commission, with trouble developing again on the Pacific waterfront.

The communists may have a lot to learn about American politics, but they have already found out how to comply with the campaign expenditures act, without telling whence their money comes.

Their last accounting showed receipts of $7,000, of which $5,000 was a loan from the central committee.

Old Timer

(For the Pioneers, by the Banker Poet)

One time in my boyhood
I cared not to play,
But came an Old Timer,
Delightful and gay.

Who said to me kindly,
O play while you may,
Enjoy all seasons,
Or blooming or gray.

I told the Old Timer,
Endearing my day,
Like him I'd be cheery,
As he told the way.

Said he, eyes a-twinkle,
I tell all I can,
Contriving and trying,
To build a full man.

Immuring the gloomy,
The moody, the sad,
In dear, happy sunlight
Of dreams that are glad.

He smiled with love's largess,
Though wrinkled and old,
And still I am warmer
Through tale that he told.

Yet learning how loving
Enlivened his heart,
Transforming his features
As love played a part:

While now as I follow
Where Old Timer led,
I smile at the shadows
That fall on my head.

I flee from depression,
Filled up by despair,
To roam where the vistas
Are pleasing and fair.

Again in the purple
Of life's mental power,
Again in the glory
Of love's healing hour.

Again in a region
Where giving is gain,
In light of the valley,
The peak and the plain.

So when you have trouble,
Forget it awhile;
In flight of your fancy,
Forget it and smile.

SWEENEY STARTS ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

Ralph Sweeney, Democratic nominee for county treasurer, has started his active campaign for the November election. He expects to visit all precincts of Jackson county in the next five weeks in behalf of his candidacy.

Sweeney resigned from the First National bank, effective July 1, but has been employed there since more or less regularly, at the request of bank officials.

Sweeney will be opposed in the fall election by A. C. Walker, incumbent and Republican nominee.

The Jackson county political pot is just beginning to simmer and candidates the past week have been doing some quiet missionary work among the voters such as shaking hands and passing out cards. The county campaign is expected to steam up about the middle of October. Townsend club aides have distributed handbills through the city the past week, urging voters to support candidates endorsing the Townsend plan and naming Congressman James A. Mott, Republican, and Willis E. Mahoney of Klamath Falls, Democratic primary nominee, for United States senator against the veteran Senator McNary.

'Mercy Death' Comes To Malformed Babe

OPERATION FAILS TO PROLONG LIFE OF TAFEL INFANT

By Earl Aykrold
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Baby Julian Tafel found mercy today in death. The fate he had had since birth—and once escaped—last night stopped the heart that kept his malformed body alive for six days of harried existence.

It was a painless end, the kind of "mercy death" his father had hoped for, against his mother's wishes. Starvation had been decreed by a "bottomless" colon, and from the start the father favored letting "nature take its course."

The mother's pleas won out, and an operation on Tuesday stayed off death. But the child was doomed. He had no chance from the beginning. It was disclosed by an autopsy performed two hours after three physicians gave up the battle at the baby's oxygen tent. Had he not died of uremic poisoning after the operation, a necessary secondary operation would have killed him, they declared.

The tragic death of their second child—they have a beautiful girl a few years old—brought 22-year-old Mrs. Eva Tafel and her 24-year-old husband Julian, a garage mechanic, closer than they had been since little Julian was born last Thursday.

During the last stages of the fight to save the baby's life when the doctors were administering adrenalin, caffeine sodium benzoate and giving artificial respiration, the father stood by his child's crib. He whispered: "How is he?"

"He's officially alive," Dr. M. L. Kinney replied, "but you understand this baby has no chance to live. He is going to die. And his death may occur any moment."

"I hope so," Tafel answered. "That's what I've been praying for all day."

When Dr. Kinney broke the news to Mrs. Tafel, she said tearfully: "It's still hard to take. Perhaps it was for the best. It was God's will."

SEEK PARDON FOR LAVERNE HAMLIN

Gov. Charles H. Martin will be requested to grant a pardon to Laverne Hamlin who has served eight years of a 15 years' sentence for robbery committed in this county. The plea will be presented to the chief executive at Salem the coming week-end.

Hamlin was sentenced for the attempted hold-up of a card game at Westerlund orchards in 1927. Two companions were paroled and Hamlin, then 19, received the long term sentence.

Recommendations that Hamlin be granted clemency have been made by former sheriff Ralph G. Jennings, District Attorney George A. Coddling, Sheriff Syd L. Brown, prison officials and a number of valley residents. The mother has been endeavoring to procure her son's release for several months.

Hamlin, under the "good time" credits rule would now be entitled to freedom. A court ruling this year held that this practice was not mandatory and state prison inmates could only be released upon a pardon from the governor.

Hamlin has been assured employment if pardoned.

Pendleton Star Hurt
PENDLETON, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Pendleton high school's already slim chances in the race for eastern Oregon football honors suffered a severe blow here today when it was officially announced that Bob Smith, 200-pound first-string center would play no more football this season. Smith fractured his right arm in yesterday's scrimmage session.

$5000 BOND SET FOR DRIVER OF DEATH CAR

Bonds for Maurice James (Jimmy) French, charged with involuntary manslaughter for the death of Miss Edith Barry of Adel, Ore., in an auto crash of the Pacific highway last Saturday night, were fixed yesterday at $5000. Relatives were today seeking them to secure French's release from the county jail.

A coroner's jury at Ashland reported that the death of the girl was due to liquor and speeding and that French was the driver of the auto.

Date of the preliminary hearing for French has not been set. Attorney Charles E. Beames of this city has been retained as counsel for French.
