FORESTS CLOSED BY PROCLAMATION GOVERNOR MARTIN

Hunters, Campers Ordered Out of Woods—Southern Oregon Fires All Under Control in This Region
With locking flames threatening to destroy most of Oregon's standing timber, Governor Charles H. Martin yesterday issued a proclamation to close all forests in the Cascade range here, and other wardens throughout the state, that all forests west of the summit of the Cascade mountain range be closed. Hunters, campers, and those ranging the forests were ordered out yesterday and Warden Phipps reported this morning that the forests had been vacated almost completely by last night.

KLAMATH FOREST ORDERED CLOSED

KLAMATH FALLS, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Klamath forest protective officials announced today that they had been notified by the state forester's office that Klamath county forested areas have been closed.
The ruling virtually suspends the hunting season.
The action was taken because of the dry conditions in the woods and fires already burning in this region.
SALEM, Ore., Sept. 28.—(AP) Governor Martin, by proclamation, closed all forests in Klamath county to entry except by permit, due to forest fire conditions, he announced today. The county was additional to the territory west of the Cascade summit which was closed Saturday.
The only exception within the county, the proclamation showed, was the Indian reservation.

Great Ziegfeld At Craterian Theatre Delights Audience

It takes a lot of stuff to make a picture run three hours. A lot of entertainment material is required to make each of those 180 minutes a sensational experience for a theater audience. But "The Great Ziegfeld," which opened yesterday at the Craterian theater, has all the ingredients to make that long time altogether too short. For that extended time the audience, caught in the heart appeal of the motivating romantic and dramatic stories, was wrapped in hushed silence—gave marked approval to the beauty, grandeur and grandeur of the spectacle—started its toes to tapping with the many song numbers, old and new. The comedy whirled it into spasms of glee. As the film paraded picture stars of today—William Powell, Myrna Loy, Louise Rainer, Frank Morgan, Virginia Bruce, Reginald Owen, Nat Pendleton and a host more; as it presented Panny Price, Ray Bolger and Harriet Hector in their specialties, as it re-created Ziegfeld's old favorites, Anna Held, Will Rogers, Eddie Cantor, Billie Burke, Ann Pennington, Sandow, Marilyn Miller and scores of others—then the crowd's understanding and appreciation was reflected in its marked enthusiasm.
Columns would be needed to adequately describe "The Great Ziegfeld" in its entirety. In comparison, no previous music dance spectacle, no matter how elaborately produced, approaches it from a standpoint of sheer grandeur and beauty. Impressive as these qualities are, however, they actually are of secondary importance to the appeal of the motivating story. In this there are drama, love interest, triumph, sacrifice and tragedy, so that for every thrill the spectacle brings, for all the happiness the music inspires and every laugh the comedy provokes, the lure of human interest scores a direct hit upon the heart strings.
It is the story of a great showman, all his dreams and accomplishments. It relates his winning of Anna Held and their great happiness together. It portrays the drama of the incident that caused their parting, the pathos in Anna's heart when she phones to congratulate him upon his marriage to Billie Burke. It tells of Billie's loyalty and sacrifice that her husband might again be free. It shows a triumphant Ziegfeld, with four shows on Broadway in one season. It shows a heart-broken Ziegfeld, caught in the market crash, calling for Rogers, Cantor, W. C. Fields and all the rest to come back to him.
It is truly one of the finest film entertainments to have ever come out of Hollywood, and certainly one of the greatest attractions any one person could ever hope to see.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS TO MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

The Young Democratic club will hold a meeting tomorrow night at Democratic headquarters. It was announced today by President Jack Murray, who stated that a speaker from the Democratic central committee would speak.
The speaker, yet to be selected, will advise the Young Democrats as to what will be expected of them in the coming campaign, and will outline plans for the remainder of the race.
Murray issued an invitation to all those interested, between the ages of 18 and 40, to be present.

G-Men Portrayed in Rialto Drama

No more dramatic thrills ever shown in a picture embracing the activities of G-Men than in "Public Enemy's Wife," which was flashed across the screen of the Rialto theatre yesterday for the first time locally.
Yet the picture has a unique and unusual flavor, as in addition to the exciting episodes, there is a fascinating romance between the ace G-Man and the woman in the title role, the wife of a public enemy, although at the time she is the co-wife, her wife includes Pat O'Brien, Margaret Lindsay, and Robert Armstrong.
The second feature on the program which opened yesterday is "Navy Born," starring William Gargan and Claire Dodd.
Revolving around naval aviators in San Diego, it puts Gargan in the tough spot of trying to bring up the two-week-old son of a dead buddy in his bachelor quarters. Claire Dodd, as the haughty and wealthy young aunt of the infant, plays her wits against Gargan in a series of clever maneuvers and amusing complications in an effort to locate and obtain the nephew.
"Public Enemy's Wife" and "Navy Born" play at the Rialto through tomorrow night.

RUBBISH FIRES BANNED WITHIN CITY LIMITS

Fire Chief Roy Elliott announced today that no more permits for burning trash and rubbish would be issued until after the first substantial rain. Dry grass in the city burns like gunpowder, and the danger is increasing rapidly. The humidity is so low at the present time, chief Elliott stated, that any fires are likely to get out of control and threaten whole neighborhoods.
