What the Girl Scouts Are Doing
Troop 5 began its active meetings of the year Sept. 14. The meeting night has been changed to Wednesday to accommodate a greater number of scouts. The troop will meet each Wednesday after school in the lunch room at the Jackson school.
Patrol leaders elected were: Water Lily patrol, Beverly Brooks, leader; Joan Burk, asst. leader; Cat Tail patrol—Mildred McKennie, leader; Lorna Haymen, asst. leader; Trillium patrol—Beverly Pearson, leader; Janet Rush, asst. leader. Ann VanValzah was elected treasurer of the troop with Mrs. W. P. Brooks serving as banker.
The troop met at the foot of the hill back of the Wing orchards Sept. 26. Loaded with lunch and canteens, they prepared to climb the hill and explore the fields beyond. Lunch was eaten on the hill-top. Camp songs were sung and plans made for troop activities throughout the fall months. After several hours of exploring, the troop met at the foot of the hill to return to town.

Medford Pastor Finds Bandonites In Good Spirits
Dating his letter from "Bandon-That-Was," Leonard Weston, pastor of the Full Gospel church of Medford wrote the Mail Tribune Saturday that he expected to return home from the ruined city for today's service at his church.
"Bandon," said Pastor Weston's letter, "is surely built clean. Only bricks and twisted steel remain. In spite of it all, everyone seems to be in good spirits and anxious to rebuild. The relief agencies are doing a wonderful work, and one hears only praise for them from the refugees. My particular interest has been to care for the affairs of our own church and minister here. They, with everyone else lost everything. If interest in other sections holds its present high level—and I think it will—we should be able to complete a pretty good rebuilding program very soon."

Timber Products Co. Opens New Service
To take care of steadily increasing demands for home construction aid and information, the Timber Products company is making arrangements to open a new department, according to Bruce Bauer.
A man who has had experience in architectural design and home financing will be available at all times. He will arrange for the F. I. A. loan, recommend the architect, the contractor, the proper materials and work with the builder from the first plans to the finished home, according to Mr. Bauer.
SAINT ANN'S ALTAR SOCIETY will give a Chicken Dinner Sunday afternoon, serving from 1 to 6 at Parish hall. Dinner 50c.

Conclave Reports To Be Presented At Union Session
Reports of the state convention held during the past week at The Dalles will be the principal feature of the program to be presented at the meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance union scheduled for Thursday at the First Christian church. Ladies of the hostess church are to be in charge of the devotional period and of the music and will serve refreshments. Mrs. Minnie Bryant, new president, will preside.
Mrs. Ellen Thrasher, of Grants Pass, newly elected president of the Josephine and Jackson bi-county union, who attended the state convocation, will be guest speaker. She is to discuss main topics brought out at the convention and outline plans made there for the new year's work.
Other delegates from the bi-county union were Mrs. Rosella Douglas, of Grants Pass and Mesdames Minnie Bryant, M. Russell and Guy Cox, of Medford, who will also report on The Dalles meeting.
Several new members have become associated with the group recently and others plan to do so in the near future. It has been announced. Anyone interested is cordially invited to Thursday's session. A complete program will be announced later.

Talk Presented At Wednesday Session
Opening the program for the coming year, members of the Wednesday Study club met for the first time this fall Wednesday afternoon for luncheon at the Hotel Holland. Mrs. C. A. Meeke, new president, presided for the first time.
Featured on the afternoon's program was Miss Emily Brown, who talked to the group on her recent travels in Europe. Her discussion was illustrated with pictures and costume dolls showing native dress for a number of European countries.
Among reports and announcements was that of the program committee which outlined projects and plans of the group for the coming year.

Mothers To Sing Under Direction Of School Leader
First rehearsals of the Mother-singer groups which have been organized in the four elementary schools and the Junior high school are called for the coming week. These groups of singing mothers from the five schools have been organized under the direction of Mrs. Esther Leake, director of music in the city schools, and are a result of many requests from parents who desire to sing but because of lack of training or knowledge of music, do not have the opportunity of belonging to a chorus.

The schedule of rehearsals is as follows: Washington and Jackson schools, October 6, at 2 p. m. in the auditorium of the Washington school, Roosevelt and Lincoln schools, October 8, at 2 p. m. in the auditorium of the Roosevelt school, Junior high school, October 6, at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Junior high school.
Present plans of the groups include a program during the holiday season using the combined choruses.

Lawrence Sponsors Chinaware Exhibit
Lawrence's are sponsoring an elaborate exhibit of fine chinaware which will be displayed at the Jackson hotel all day Wednesday, October 7, by a special representative of the Spoda ware, sold exclusively in Medford by Lawrence's.
"This will be a rare opportunity for those interested in Spoda to view a large selection of the most beautiful patterns in dinnerware," Mrs. John Lawrence stated yesterday.
