PETE AND MOORE WILL DON MITTS IN GRUDGE BOUT

Pete Belcastro, Pacific coast junior heavyweight wrestling champion, who incurred the wrath of Gene Moore Monday when he won his match with the sensational new drop-kicker after knocking out both Moore and the referee, has accepted the Arkansas flash's challenge to a 10-round boxing slugfest at the Armory next Monday night.

Moore and the Italian each hold one victory after two of the wildest wrestling matches ever seen here. When the Italian hit Moore from behind Monday, Moore didn't recover in time to do much about it or he would have started a fist fight that night, he said, adding that if Belcastro wanted to slug it was entirely all right with him, but he wanted his enemy out in front of him where he was visible, not slinking up behind him.

Tuesday night Moore was in the stands at Klamath Falls when Belcastro floored Lea Wolfe several times and knocked him out in the second. "If Belcastro can't fight any better than he did then, I can kick him with one hand," Moore said yesterday. "And Lea Wolfe didn't do as well as even Belcastro. As a matter of fact, I think I could kick them both, in the same ring, in the same night," Moore said.

Both Moore and Belcastro have had ring experience, the Arkansas kicker abandoning the matted fist three years ago in favor of the more lucrative sport after starting a sensational career. The Italian has been out of the ring longer, fighting his last regulation boxing match five years ago in favor of wrestling. Moore is believed to be faster, cleverer on his feet, and with better timing due to occasional boxing matches even yet, while Belcastro will probably have the edge on power. His match with Wolfe showed that the Weed Avenger has not lost the killing instinct that made him a good drawing card as a fighter.

The first two events will be wrestling battles under the Australian system. Wolfe will tangle with a new mauler in the middle event, giving Medford fans a chance to see two men in action against each other. The newcomer is Jimmy Goodrich, a rough gent with a surly complexion, who hails from Cincinnati.

The opener will see Joe Hubka, powerful ex-fighter from Nebraska, meeting the smoke-eating Billy Burns, mauler who has twice lathered and shaved Prince Mihalakis. Ringsiders believe Burns will leave the arena more tender than tough.

They Carry Mail For The Ashland Normal

SONS TO FACE FROSH UNDER G. PASS LIGHTS ON FRIDAY EVENING

ASHLAND, Oct. 8.—(Sp.)—Bent on avenging their heartbreaking 12-13 defeat of last year, Jean Eberhart's Southern Oregon Normal SONS face off against the University of Oregon Frosh Friday at 8 p. m. in Grants Pass, in the first college football game ever played in southern Oregon under lights.

With injuries received in their 52-0 rout of Pacific college last Saturday and in tough scrimmage sessions the past week not fully healed, the SONS will not be at their peak. Ken Schilling, first string right halfback, sprained his ankle in practice Monday, and will undoubtedly be slowed down. Justin Carey, letterman guard, suffered the same fate against Pacific, and will see no action at all. A pulled back muscle will probably remove the last hopes of Clarence Williams, reserve fullback and guard, from getting into the ball game, and a badly sprained ankle will keep Al Pispas, center, on the sidelines.

The remainder of Eberhart's team is in good condition, and the opening lineup will spread out in the following fashion: McBride and either Williamson or Rhodes, ends; Johnson and Napier, tackles; Sandberg and Carlson, guards; and Baughman, center. The backfield will be: Harlie Cornett, quarter; Schilling and Ager, halves, and Dickinson, full.

Honest John Warren's Oregon yearlings have played one game so far this season, a bitter 6-7 defeat at the hands of Monmouth Normal at Astoria last week.

Leading the array of football talent which is said to be the finest ever to enter the University of Oregon, will be Bob Smith, last year's ball-packing flash of Medford high's state champion Tigers. Smith, from his right halfback position, carries the mail and does most of the passing.

Officials for the battle will be:

LOUD SPEAKER TO CALL GRID PLAYS

A new Victor public address system ordered some time ago by the Medford Senior high school arrived this morning and has been installed in the big new grandstand, so that a commentator can follow the line of play at football games, giving the players involved in each tackle, and other information germane to the game.

Kenneth Scott Wood, former University of Oregon public speaking star and now debate, public speaking and journalism coach at the school, will comment on the plays from the new press box. A telephone will run from his spot to the edge of the field so that penalties and other moves by the officials can be explained immediately, eliminating much of the confusion from that source.

The new address system will have but one speaker, tests in the stand this morning showing that the sounds of the stand, but over most of the field. The addition will lend a stadium air to the games played here, all of the big stadia over the country now being equipped with similar devices.

ASHLAND WILL PLAY DUNSMUIR SATURDAY

ASHLAND, Oct. 8.—(Sp.)—Ashland high's Grizzlies will play their second home game of the season here next Saturday, tangling with Dunsmuir, Cal., at 2 p. m.

FINAL SERIES GAME ON CRATERIAN SCREEN

Proving again the miracle of modern day speed and service, the final game of the world series between the New York Giants and Yankees, which wound up in a barrage of baseballs that won the championship for the Yanks, will be shown on the screen of the Craterian theater starting tonight.

Filmed in New York just day before yesterday, the pictures were hurriedly developed and rushed to the coast via plane, arriving in Medford in time for the first evening show tonight.

U.S. OPEN TOURNAMENT ASSIGNED TO MICHIGAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(UP)—The 1937 United States open golf championship will be played June 10, 11 and 12 at the Oakland Hills C. C., Birmingham, Mich., the United States Golf association announced today.

Two other major tournaments—the national amateur and public links—will be played in August on the Pacific coast. The public links will be held August 9-14 in San Francisco. No course has been selected yet. The amateur will be played August 23-28 at the Alderwood Country club, Portland, Ore.

HUNTERS BLAMELESS. DECLARES GAME DEAD

PORTLAND, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Deer hunters blamed in some quarters for starting fires in southwestern Oregon, received the staunch support of Frank Wire, supervisor for the Oregon state game commission.

Wire said he did not believe it could be proved that a hunter started a single blaze.

BOWERMAN PLANS TROJANS' SYSTEM OF DOUBLE TEAM

Southern California's Trojans will have nothing on the Medford Tigers from this point forward, in the matter of playing two teams of almost equal strength against an opponent, Coach Bill Bowerman announced today.

Believing that he has now enough men to form two teams of comparable strength, Bowerman will substitute by teams instead of by individuals in the game against the Roseburg Indians here Saturday. What is nominally known as the first string will start the game and play one quarter, with the second string taking over for the next frame with only Ettinger, first string blocking back, remaining for the solid half, Bowerman said.

The starting team will probably see Wilson and Woodcock at ends, Earhart and Offord at tackles, Baker and Morris at guards and Stocks at center, with Ettinger at quarter. Bayless at right half, Olsen at left half and Sakrada fullback. The shock troop will find Root and Richardson on the wings, Bishop and Blair at tackles, Henry and Grow at guards and Stevens at center, with Bowerman at quarter, Linnell at left half, Hill at fullback and Ettinger running at right half.

Offord, star tackle who received a broken nose against Eureka last Saturday, will start the game with a steel protector over his tender snout, Bowerman said. Santo, another regular tackle, has a badly bruised shoulder received in scrimmage, and will possibly be out of the game entirely.

Detail this week has been concentrated largely on the shock troops in an effort to perfect a second team to take over en masse, and to bring along substitutes who have looked promising. Lack of time prevented much work on the scrubs earlier, the coach said.

At noon today the high school staged a pep rally through the downtown section, exciting much interest in the game. The Roseburg team, with a heavy, experienced line but a light and green backfield, will arrive in the city tomorrow night for the game which starts at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

CATERPILLAR

Positive, easy steering... sure of traction, light of tread... built for steady, heavy-duty drawbar work... the "Caterpillar" track-type Tractor enjoys wide popularity among fruit-growers. For several years, various seat mountings, control groupings, etc., have been available... thus enabling each grower to have his "Caterpillar" Tractor equipped especially to fit his own orchard power needs and conditions.

From a nation-wide study of what orchard men want... as evidenced by tractor purchases... the "Caterpillar" Twenty-Two Orchard Models have been developed. In line with these buyers' varied requirements, a choice of three popular types of seat mountings is offered. Answering their need for a tractor to work under low-hanging branches... with full safety to trees and convenience to the driver... hood projections have been removed and full-length streamlined fenders are provided over the tracks.

Except for the special provisions for orchard use, the "Caterpillar" Orchard Models are identical with the Standard Twenty-Two... and can be furnished to run on either low-cost "tractor fuels" or gasoline (at the buyer's option)
