

Tigers Tangle With Roseburg In First Conference Tilt Saturday

BOWERMAN WARNS TEAM TO EXPECT NO EASY VICTORY

Scholastic Difficulties Put Crimp in Dual Team Plan — New Public Address System Will Be Used

With the kickoff set for 2 o'clock, the Medford Tigers tomorrow afternoon tangle with the Roseburg Indians on the new Senior high school turf field in the first conference struggle for both squads. Coach Bowerman last night saw his hopes of two complete teams go glimmering with the announcement from the office that Jim Bayliss, starting right half, had run afoul of scholastic requirements and would be ineligible for the struggle.

The loss of Bayliss puts a kink in backfield assignments, and Bowerman said today that he would be unable to substitute by teams as he had planned, although he will be able to show two different lines into the game by quarters.

Stinger, originally slated for the quarterback-backing job, will be switched to right half to fill Bayliss' shoes and Bowman or Maruyama will draw down the quarter assignment for the start of the game, Bowerman said.

The coach said that his team is looking on the Roseburg game with a tolerant eye, expecting no great struggle in emerging victorious over the team that last year went down on their own gridiron. Bowerman pointed out a few examples of upsets, and predicted that his charges were due for a rude awakening, hoping they would awake before the game was over and not after the ending gun found them on the short end of another such upset.

A Roseburg victory would be an upset, Bowerman admitted, despite the fact that the visitors boast a forward wall that will outweigh the Tiger line. Coach Hod Turner has had trouble with his backfield all year, and that department is expected to be the weak link in the team. The Indians are still to be regarded as a stronger outfit than last year's squad, however, Turner stated.

The visitors will find two familiar faces on the Medford lineup, with Morris starting guard, a transfer from last year's Roseburg team. Archibald, third string Medford center, who has been showing steady improvement for the past two weeks, Bowerman said. Archibald is another Roseburg transfer. Both men played against Medford in the night game in the northern city last week.

As last week, the Senior high girls drum and bugle corps, in their smart uniforms, will aid the band in furnishing music at the game, and will put on a special stunt at the half. The well-dressed squad that has added much to the school spirit is under the direction of F. Wilson Watt, music instructor, with Miss Alice Spurgeon, English instructor at the school, aiding in the work along with two student instructors, Bob Morris and Paul Hughes.

Next On Joe's List

BIG ARGENTINE NOVICE GIVES LOUIS WORKOUT IN NEW YORK TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Joe Louis, who has gone back to his old theory that a fight every few weeks is just what he needs, takes on big Jorge Brescia of Argentina at the Hippodrome tonight in his third bout since he was beaten by Max Schmeling last June.

The flaccid fraternity hardly expects Brescia to give the brown bomber any more trouble than Jack Sharkey or Al Ettore did, but, since Schmeling proved Joe can be hit and can be beaten, they figure there's always a chance.

The odds are 2 to 1 that Louis will win by a knockout.

Brescia, a big youngster with a good wallop but practically no experience, plans to stake everything on his punch. The Argentine has only had eight bouts in the United States, mostly against "minor leaguers" of the ring, but he has won by five knockouts.

If it works, Brescia may achieve fame similar to that won by another Argentine, Luis Angel Firpo, when he knocked Jack Dempsey through the ropes. If it doesn't, Brescia's reputation won't suffer seriously anyway.

The negro weighed in today at 202 for his third comeback start since he was knocked out by Max Schmeling in June. Brescia weighed 205½.

BULLDOGS INVADE G. PASS SATURDAY

Coach Russell Adelson's Junior high Bulldogs will play their second conference football game of the season on Saturday against Grants Pass in the climate city. The game will be played at 10 o'clock in the morning, allowing the local Juniors to return to Medford in time for the Senior high team's encounter with the Roseburg Indians on the new turf field.

The Bulldogs took their first conference game 13-0 at Ashland but lost 9-0 to a heavy Jacksonville squad in a non-conference battle here last week. This afternoon the Jacksonville squad is playing a group of sophomores from the Senior high squad, at the high school practice field on South Oakdale avenue.

HUSKIES, BRUINS TAKE SPOTLIGHT ON COAST FRONT

Golden Bears Expected to Unveil Polished Attack in Clash With Oregon State at Portland Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The curtain rises tomorrow on the third act of the Pacific coast football extravaganza, with the spotlight focused on Los Angeles, where two of the conference's most promising eleven clash.

University of Washington's Huskies, their determination undimmed by losing, 14 to 7, to Minnesota in an inter-sectional game two weeks ago, battle the powerful University of California at Los Angeles Bruins. The Huskies walloped Idaho, 22 to 0, last Saturday. The Bruins opened auspiciously with a 30 to 0 win over Montana and are rated a real contender for the championship.

California's Golden Bears, downed, 10 to 0, by St. Mary's Saturday, are expected to unveil a polished attack at Portland against the Oregon Beavers, who were smothered, 38 to 7, by Southern California in their opener. California's coach, L. B. "Stub" Allison, said he'll be happy to win by one point.

Stanford's injury-hampered Indians, whose three-won conference crown was knocked off by Washington State last Saturday, 14 to 13, are given an edge over University of Oregon in a contest at Palo Alto, Oregon, set for Saturday at Southern California, 28 to 0, last week.

Washington State college is expected to follow up its victory over Stanford by trouncing University of Idaho at Moscow, while Idaho Southern Branch clashes on about even terms with Montana at Missoula.

University of Southern California's Trojans skirmish on a far front tomorrow, meeting University of Illinois at Champaign in the leading inter-sectional struggle.

BOWLING

A single pin gave the Schusa bowling team a 3-1 point count in their City League match with the Concrete last night. Jack Gill was star performer for the winners, carding a match total of 608. The Colyears took three points in their match with the Safeways on the same program.

700 PARTICIPATED IN BALEARIC ISLE CAPTURE, IS CLAIM

Further charged, took part in the attack.

Earlier, a Russian expression of "satisfaction" came from the secret session of 27 European states, pondering the grave continental crisis created by Moscow and Madrid charges of fascist assistance to Spain's insurgents.

Russian Satisfied

"I am satisfied with the proceedings," said Molskoyevich Kagan, soviet representative on European non-intervention committee, emerging from the conference room when the group adjourned for luncheon.

Already, it was learned, the Soviet, Italian, British, French, Belgian and German delegates had spoken.

In Edinburgh, meantime, the British labor party's conference approved a demand that both Britain and France open their arms markets to Madrid if it is shown the neutrality pact either is ineffective or breached.

The delegates, adding to a statement by their national executive, expressed belief fascist states already had broken the accord.

In Paris, where British foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, passed on a dash back home from an interrupted holiday, informed sources said Premier Leon Blum of France and Eden had agreed to exert every effort to prevent collapse of the non-intervention accord.

Before the delegates was the problem of determining a procedure to prevent glovering European communist and fascist camps from stepping openly into the Spanish civil war—and possibly provoking continental conflict.

Great Britain again assumed the role of European peace maker.

BUCKS STAY HIGH IN FINE WEATHER; HINDERS HUNTING

"Owing to the continued dry weather, there has been little change in hunting conditions since the early part of the season. The few more optimistic parties, who have returned to the woods since the forest was opened to hunting, have had very little success," a recreation bulletin released by the forest service reveals.

"From all indications, the bucks are still in the higher country in or near the brush patches. It is believed that they will remain in those locations until a change in weather.

"The grouse season in Klamath county closed September 30, and will not open in Jackson county until October 15. From reports, those birds do not appear to be plentiful.

"The drive from Woodruff Meadows by Buckleberry Gap and down the Bitterlick road to Elk creek is particularly attractive at this time because of brilliantly colored leaves.

"Camp-fire permits, no-smoking-while-traveling and the axe-shovel-and-bucket requirements are still in effect.

"With the continued dry weather and low humidity prevailing throughout this section, it is very appropriate that we are now observing "National Fire Prevention Week." We know that by observing certain rules and by taking certain precautions, fires in homes and business establishments and their resulting damage can be reduced. It is also true that by those same methods, the smolder and camper fires can be reduced.

"This can be done, as demonstrated, by the approximately one hundred and fifty hunters who were in the Rogue River National forest during the week-end of September 26-27. During that period, when conditions were as hazardous here as they were in the Bangon territory, not one fire was started by those hunters. In other words, those men who were hunting in this forest proved that man-caused fires were unnecessary. Those men realized not only their responsibility but what would result in an abandoned camp-fire or carelessness when smoking. Those men are to be highly complimented.

"Because the conditions in the forest are still very critical, the continued cooperation on the part of the hunters and others who use the forest is absolutely essential if disastrous forest fires are to be prevented."

BETTER HARBOR FIRST REQUISITE IS WORD TO I. C. C.

testimony already having been forwarded to the ICC by Frank C. McCulloch, public utilities commissioner, who conducted the hearing for the federal agency.

Two issues were involved in that hearing, Martin said, the joint application of Grants Pass and Crescent City for a certificate of convenience and necessity, and authority for the city of Grants Pass to acquire that portion of the California and Oregon coast railroad line, which had previously been constructed.

Two Main Markets.

In forwarding his approval Governor Martin said:

"Oregon is a state whose principal exports are agricultural and forestry products. These products have two principal markets, (1) the territory north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi, and (2) the California cities of San Francisco and Los Angeles. Oregon's products are forced to compete in the midwest and eastern markets with other producing areas situated much closer to the centers of consumption.

"The result has been that only the higher grades of lumber and specialty agricultural products, such as fruits, can be consistently and profitably marketed in that area. This results in an unbalanced production program, and the agricultural products in the lower grades are principally forced to California at "dump" prices, and the lower grades of lumber are sold in the east at low prices, or in limited quantities to the California and Oriental markets.

Handicap Seen.

"The counties of Jackson, Joseph, Curry and Douglas, being the areas principally affected by the present applications, struggle under an additional handicap not common to the other producing areas of Oregon. Because of non-competitive transportation conditions, local freight rates to and from the territory are high. As a result of this situation the lumber and agricultural products from this particular territory are handicapped in competing in the California market with similar products raised in other areas in Oregon enjoying lower competitive freight rates.

"Largely because of legal restrictions on length, width and load limits, auto trucking is not capable of solving the situation, particularly with reference to low-grade ores and lumber. As a result the tremendous stand of fir timber in Curry county, and vast undeveloped bodies of non-precious minerals in southwestern Oregon, such as chrome and copper, cannot be profitably exploited and marketed.

"I have made no examination or analysis of the financial phases of the proposed construction and am presuming that your commission, the reconstruction finance corporation and the works progress administration will each carefully examine and approve the same as being in the public interest before certificate is issued."
