About 300 tons of the fruit was stored. The season is expected to end in another week, according to Ralph Boutelle, manager. The pear season has been so good that only part of one day has been devoted to the canning of tomatoes, it was stated.

CREW TAKEN OFF STRANDED SHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The crew of the freighter Ochoan, wedged on the beach near Seal Rocks was removed by coast guard surf boats today while hundreds of spectators watched the rescue.

Only licensed officers and two cooks were left on the stricken vessel, piloted amidships by a jagged rock. The powerful coast guard boats approached the Ochoan through heavy seas to remove the sailors and their baggage.

George E. Wilcox, chief engineer of the freighter, was suffering severely from rheumatism and was taken to a hospital.

Salvage operations were to start in an attempt to save the vessel's 1,500-ton cargo before the craft is pounded to pieces by heavy waves.

Reliable Fall Food Sale Opens Saturday

Free Ladino cheese sandwiches and coffee will be served all day tomorrow at Holloway's Reliable grocery, marking the opening of their annual fall canned foods sale. Attractive prices have been marked on Royal Club canned goods, especially in dozen and case lots, which makes this sale doubly important in the face of rising prices due to the fruit and vegetable shortage this fall, according to W. A. Holloway.

Factory representatives will be there Saturday with special demonstrations and canned foods will be opened for inspection and sampling.

OREGON PHYSICIANS DISCUSS NEW PHASES AT DALLES MEETING

THE DALLES, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Distinguished speakers in medicine, surgery and the allied sciences addressed scores of Oregon doctors here at the opening of the 62nd annual convention of the State Medical society.

The attendance was expected to reach 200 before the sessions close Saturday.

Discussions of new types of non-narcotizing anesthesia, treatment of lymphatic affections and a warning against alkalines when stomach ulcers are suspected were among the highlights of the first-day program.

Dr. Joseph Tamura, University of Cincinnati, presented information on a serum developed for the treatment of lymphogranuloma inquinae, a lymphatic malady.

Dr. George Pease, Portland, told delegates of intra-venous injections of pentothal-sodium had proved valuable in anesthetizing patients up to ten minutes for minor operations and the treatment of fractures.

Dr. Edmund Berger said the self-treatment of alkaline for stomach disorders was dangerous when there was a possibility of ulcers.

SCHOOL AMPLIFIER FILLS MANY NEEDS

The new Victor public speaking amplifier which will be used at the Roseburg-Medford football game tomorrow afternoon for the first time, is not a stationary unit to be used only for the broadcasting of athletic events, but is a portable speaker originally purchased to reproduce sound pictures in the school auditorium, it was revealed today by C. G. Smith, principal of the Medford high school.

The amplifier will make possible the use of sound films in the regular course of study at the school, with educational pictures to be shown from time to time, Smith said. The talking pictures will not be for amusement alone, but will fill a definite need in the school curricula.

Broadcasts at the football and basketball games, in pep rallies and other student functions is made possible by a plug-in device that allows the use of a microphone exclusive of the regular sound track for picture work.

When the new senior high school was built in 1931 a projection room was installed in the rear of the big auditorium with the intention of later putting in sound equipment. The securing of the Victor unit is the latest step towards the completion of a modern little theatre to be used in school work. Principal Smith pointed out.
