

GROWTH OF SMASHUPS MAY CAUSE INCREASE AUTO INSURANCE COST

The motorist today is making the automobile insurance rates of tomorrow, and the greater the number of accidents the higher the rates will go, according to W. R. McDonald, insurance expert and director of the Oregon State Motor Association in charge of safety.

"No insurance company makes rates," said McDonald. "That is a most important fact for every motorist to remember. The stock companies merely combine their experience; that is, the results of their business dealings with their policy holders and from these statistics the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters scientifically figures out the rate for each section of the country and every type of car."

BELLIGERENT DEER BECOMES VENISON

BAKER, Oct. 14.—(AP)—A buck deer, apparently oblivious of the fact that the open season on deer this year will run until October 25, opened the season on its own account this morning and with well-directed aim of its antlers brought down a man at Ironside.

The pet deer started chasing a number of school children Monday and Oscar Presley of Brogan, fearing the animal's activities might result in injury to the youngsters, drove it away. This morning when Presley stepped from his automobile the deer attacked him with a vengeance. In the attack, Presley sustained injuries to his hip and body and a laceration of the scalp.

A young man, whose name was not learned, grasped a piece of iron pipe and entered the fray. He knocked the deer down with the pipe and then cut the animal's throat.

CHICKEN VACCINATION MAY AID HUMANITY IN FIGHT ON INFLUENZA

CORVALLIS, Oct. 14.—(AP)—An Oregon scientist who discovered a method of vaccination for control of a chicken disease may have started something which will lead to far-reaching developments in human medicine.

Dr. B. T. Sims, head of the veterinary medicine department at Oregon State college, called attention to the fact that the recent experiments in bringing about immunity against human influenza are based on the vaccination method developed here by his colleague, Dr. W. T. Johnson, poultry pathologist.

HUSBAND THREATENED KILL WIFE IS CLAIM

SALEM, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Huston A. Grant, 46, San Francisco coast guardman, was held in the city jail here in lieu of $2500 bail after he had pleaded not guilty to charges threatening to commit a felony. His preliminary hearing will be held later.
