

Trojans Face Cougars Saturday In Crucial Conference Encounter

AERIAL OFFENSE INSTALLS U. S. C. PRIME FAVORITES

Huskies Expected To Dis- pose Of Beavers With Ease — Webfoots Have Soft Spot Against Idaho.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Two undefeated teams will clash tomorrow in "crucials" which will determine leaders in the Pacific coast football scramble.

University of Southern California's Trojans, whose record sparkles with victories over Oregon State, Oregon and Illinois, will meet a Washington State eleven fresh from victories over Stanford and Idaho.

Their powerful aerial attack has installed the Trojans heavy favorites. Apparently recovered from last week's 14 to 0 setback at the hands of Washington's Huskies, the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins take the field at Berkeley against University of California, which scored an unimpressive 7 to 0 victory over Oregon State last Saturday.

It will be a stern test for the Golden Bears and many look for UCLA to turn the tables and win their first game since the two branches of the State university opened football relations in 1933.

At Seattle, Washington takes it a little easier this Saturday, playing Oregon State, now in the cellar position in coast standings with losses to Southern California and California.

University of Oregon, which tied Stanford 7 to 7 last Saturday, figures to wallop Idaho, defeated by Washington State and Washington. Montana, victors 45 to 13 over Idaho Southern Branch, clashes with Gonzaga at Missoula. Willamette plays College of Idaho tonight.

Stanford has an open date. The Indians are preparing for their battle next week with Southern California.

Home Folks Honor Humble Hubbell

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Modest Carl Hubbell, lean south-paw king of the New York Giants knows today just how proud of him is his home state.

Fans, athletes, political and business leaders of Oklahoma paid him tribute at a homecoming banquet here last night and Hubbell, with a shiny gift shotgun before him, said humbly: "Folks, this is swell of you. If I thought I deserved all this tonight, I'd be a holdout the rest of my life!"

Georgia Ruffian

Above is Billy Burns, villain extraordinary of the wrestling ring, who will be one of the six men involved in hostilities in the battle royal here Monday night. Burns, a giant blonde with no more scruples than a highwayman, will be one of three meanies, including Pete Belcastro and Les Wolfe. He hails from Atlanta, Ga.

THREE WRESTLERS SUBDUED BY MAXIE

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Maxie Baer grinded today as he asserted he had proven "a fighter can lick a wrestler."

The one-time heavyweight boxing champion was an unexpected participant last night in a six-man battle royal, high spot of a local wrestling card in which he was engaged as the referee.

Maxie, as the seventh man in the ring, was knocked down and out of the ring several times, once by Ted Germaine, local bad man. Baer finally threw off restraint and swung Germaine lost interest in the contest.

Baer later went to the aid of Buck Jones, negro who was the winner as Tony Celli and Dave Mann tried to tie up the negro in the ropes. Celli tackled Maxie and Maxie knocked Tony through the ropes onto the ring apron and Tony was out.

Main then took a poke at Maxie and Maxie dropped Mann with a hard right. There was no one left then but Jones.

HEAVY SUGAR FOR PRO FOOTBALLERS IS THING OF PAST

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The era of fabulous salaries in professional football is past; linemen are paid on an average of $100 a game and backs $150, John V. Mars, president of the New York Giants, said today.

"We found out," he explained, "that it didn't work to play one star around $800 a game and the rest of his teammates about $100. The majority resented it and their resentment sometimes showed in their play."

"But it's a better profession for the majority of the players today. The money the stars were getting a year ago is now being distributed more evenly over the squad, and they know now that they'll be paid the full amount of their season's contract even if they're hurt in the first game."

The scale of wages for linemen remains below that of the backs, despite the fact that forwards capable of playing big time pro ball are harder to find than good backs.

"Of course," he added, "there are some linemen in the National league today who are making as much money as most of the backs on their squad, but they are in the minority."

Mars said that both Ken Strong and Harry Newman, who have since left the club, were paid over $10,000 by the Giants last year, but that the system of paying them so much more than the other members of the squad did not work out.

BOWLING

Pete's bowlers made a clean sweep of points in their match with the Economy quint at the Smoke House last night while the Medco was handing an equally convincing defeat to the Colyears.

The Dunsmuir All-Stars will roll Schuss Stars here Sunday in the second half of home-and-home match. The first game is called for 2 p. m.

Last night's city league scores: Pete Hardware Co.

Gridiron Guesser Says Upset Due on Saturday

By Herbert W. Barker
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP)—It's about time for a flock of upsets to floor the football guessers flat but this is no time to retreat!

Navy-Yale: The Tars are one of the east's major powers but they have looked a bit vulnerable to a good passing attack. Yale will have that as well as the same stout-hearted defense that stopped Penn's bone-crushers. We'll take the Elis.

Northwestern-Ohio State: This wavering ball goes to Ohio State. Harvard-Army: Harvard is definitely on the way up. A vote for Army however.

Southern California-Washington State: A crucial conference test for both but the clever Trojan offense looks good enough to put this in the southern California victory bag.

Duke-Georgia Tech: Georgia Tech. Colgate-Tulane: It must be something besides luck that keeps Tulane in the undefeated class and this corner is hoping on the green and white bandwagon, perhaps at the wrong moment.

Temple-Carnegie Tech: The Owls. Penn-Princeton: Despite its unrealized potentialities there's no way to pick Penn against a Tiger that has just won a few of the bigger teeth that gnawed through all opposition last year.

New York University-North Carolina: The visiting Tarheels.

GRAPPLERS CIVIL WAR SCHEDULED MONDAY IN ARMORY BATTLEFIELD

Civil war veterans who boast "I was at Shiloh" will have their counterparts after Monday night in the six wrestlers who will be able to say: "I was in the Medford battle royal."

While more men were involved in the Shiloh hostilities, the percentage of wounded will probably be heavier next week, even if no one is killed.

Two of the grapplers, Pete Belcastro and Les Wolfe, will be lucky if they get out of the melee with no broken bones, however, and the best that Billy Burns, the last member of the trio of meanies, may expect is several bad skinned places and a few knots on his head.

The three clean wrestlers on the program will see to that. They are Joe Hubka, Gene Moore and Jimmy Goodrich.

Just which mean wrestler will get the works first is a matter of some speculation. Burns may be ruled out at once, for his brand of meanness, while bad enough, is not of as long standing as is Belcastro's or Wolfe's.

Some fans believe that the Italian should receive the combined attention of the others, while some feel that Wolfe should not be neglected.

Such speculations will go for naught if the seemingly impossible happens and the villains declare a truce among themselves and all work under the same banner. The idea of Wolfe and Belcastro working together is about as easy to entertain as the notion that the League of Nations will take Ethiopia away from Mussolini, for the two cross-grained grapplers can't even speak civilly to each other, but if the unexpected does occur, it may be one of the Hubka-Moore-Goodrich combine to bite the dirt first.

The free-for-all will be the second battle royal ever held here (they are barred by law in 15 states), and the first here to have six instead of five participants. The first two heaven from the ring, or pinned for the count, will return after the main struggle to wrestle to a one-fall finish. The next two will meet later in the middle event and the final survivors will provide the main event, all finish matches.

Two mediators will be in the ring, probably Ray Frieble and Swede Anderson. Anderson owes Belcastro a knockout punch and may find a way to sneak one in on the Italian in the confusion of the struggle.

up in the Frosh battle will be completely erased against the Rooks.

The SONS' opening lineup will see McBride and Rhodes at ends; Johnson and Napier, tackles; Sanberg and Carlson, guards; and Baughman, center. In the backfield, Cornett will start at quarter; Ager and Skjerka, halves; and Dickinson, full.

GEHRIG 'MOST VALUABLE' LUKE APPLING IS SECOND

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 15.—(AP)—Lou Gehrig, the "iron man" first baseman of the world champion New York Yankees and leading home run hitter of the 1936 American league season, was named today by the Baseball Writers' Association of America as the "most valuable player" to his team.

The association announced that its official junior loop 1936 poll gave the award to "Columbia Lou" with 73 votes. His nearest rival was Luke Appling, sensational shortstop of the Chicago White Sox, who received 65 votes.

Four members of the association's committee of eight, named to conduct the poll, picked Gehrig for top ranking, while three chose Appling. Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers, out with injuries this year, received no mention. Greenberg received last year's award.

Earl Averill, Cleveland Indians' cloaking outfielder, was third with 48 votes. Charlie Gehringer, the Detroit Tigers' dependable second baseman, finished in fourth position with 39 and was the only other player besides Gehrig and Appling to receive a first place mention, which carried 10 votes.

Following Gehringer were Bill Dickcay, New York Yankees' catcher, 29 votes; Joe Kuhel of the Washington Senators and Vernon Kennedy, White Sox mound star, bracketed at 27 votes, and Joe DiMaggio, star Yankee rookie outfielder, with 26. DiMaggio received two second choice votes for nine points each.

Other American leaguers receiving five or more votes were: Tommy Bridges, Detroit Tigers' pitcher, 25; Hal Trosky, Cleveland home run hitting first bagger, 19; Jimmy Fox, Boston Red Sox first baseman, 16; Gerald Walker, Detroit outfielder, 14; Beau Bell, St. Louis Browns, 10; Wallace Moses, Philadelphia Athletics, 7; and Bob (Lefty) Grove, Boston hurler, 5.

for two weeks, is a doubtful starter. Nevertheless, Coach Eberhart has been going about his business of getting the SONS in shape, with high hopes that the weaknesses cropping

SONS AND ROOKS MEET IN KLAMATH

ASHLAND, Oct. 16.—(Sp.)—Coach Jean Eberhart's Southern Oregon Normal school SONS face their second successive battle against the first-year men from Oregon's two state universities tonight at Klamath Falls, tangling with the Oregon State Rooks in the Pelican city's only college football game of the year. Opening kickoff is slated for 8 p. m.

Rated as strong as the Oregon Frosh, winners by a 26-6 score over the SONS last week at Grants Pass the Rooks are heavy favorites to trounce a crippled SONS team.

Percy Williamson, first string end who suffered a dislocated elbow in the Frosh game, will probably be out of the SONS lineup for the rest of the year. And Ken Schilling, who has been sitting with a sprained ankle
