

COUNCIL IS ASKED FOR SPECIAL FUND TO SUPPORT BAND

City Is Requested To Take Over Elks Organization — Tax Levy Is Proposed Under Change In Charter.

The city council last night was requested to take over the Elks band as a municipal organization providing for its support through a special fund raised by a small tax levy.

The proposition was referred by Mayor George W. Porter to the committee on finance and parks and playgrounds for study and report.

Attorney Don Newbury, E. C. Jerome and E. W. Winkle presented the proposal to the council, filing a brief history of the Elks band and a petition bearing the names of 200 citizens favoring a municipal organization of musicians.

Vote Is Sought

Mr. Newbury asked that the proposition be placed on the ballot at the next special city election. The proposal, as he explained it, would provide for a charter amendment permitting establishment of a special fund through a tax levy of four-tenths of a cent.

The levy, he calculated, would raise between $2,700 and $2,800 annually, a sum he deemed sufficient to support the band.

A tentative program and budget for the band provided: 50 weekly rehearsals at 75 cents for each musician present; 16 public concerts at $2 for each player; $25 a month for the director; $275 for music; and $140 for miscellaneous expense.

The band, Mr. Newbury said, would be available for all municipal events and would be effective in advertising Medford. He declared that many other Oregon cities, including those surrounding Medford, now have municipal bands and asserted that this city should not lag behind its neighbors.

Outlet For Students

Mr. Newbury said that considerable money is expended for instruments and training students at Medford high school but after graduation the young musicians have no outlet for their talent unless they find employment in professional dance orchestras. He asserted that a municipal band is needed so that the students might continue their musicianship.

Mr. Newbury said that the municipal band and the special band fund would come under the administration and supervision of the council or a committee named by the council.

Councilman M. N. Hogan inquired about extra expense in case the band went to some other city to participate in a civic event as a representative of Medford and Mayor Porter asked about the city's liability in case any musician should be injured.

Mr. Newbury said these matters were details that could be taken care of satisfactorily without difficulty.

MERCURY FALLS TO SEASONS LOW

Valley residents shivered last night as a falling mercury reached a season low, weather bureau figures revealing a minimum temperature this morning of 31 degrees, one point below zero.

Officials stated that it was probably a few degrees below that in lower levels of the valley. A heavy frost accompanied the drop and it is expected that all vegetation not already killed by previous frosts was severely nipped.

Last night was the first time this fall that thermometers have registered below freezing. At the time of the heavy frost of September 16, 34 degrees was the lowest registered and yesterday morning the bureau reported a low of approximately 38 degrees.

High temperature yesterday was 67 degrees, but the forecast gives fair and warmer weather for tomorrow.

MEDFORD ELKS GOING TO K. F. CELEBRATION

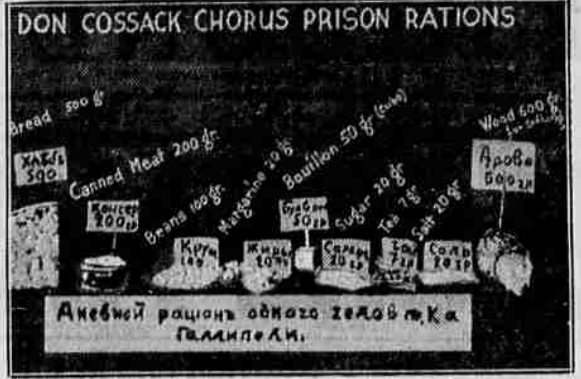

A delegation of Medford Elks will leave by bus Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Klamath Falls, where they will help the Pelican City brothers put on their 25th anniversary.

Exalted Ruler Walter Olmscheid today announced that 24 persons would be needed to fill the bus, and asked that all Elks who found it possible make the trip. The round trip fare on the bus has been set at $1.00. Klamath Falls has promised a real party for the occasion, Olmscheid declared.

The bus will start the return journey at 1 a. m. Saturday.

On Homecoming Program

For fifteen months in a prison camp, the members of the Don Cossack chorus who will appear in the opening concert on the University of Oregon series Sunday afternoon, October 25, were forced to live on this scant diet.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 21.—(Sp.)—"The Cossacks are coming"—the cry that once struck terror in the hearts of Russians but now bring delight to music lovers the world over—will again be heard when the Don Cossack Russian male chorus opens the University of Oregon concert series Sunday afternoon, October 25.

The group of 36 stalwart Cossack army officers, under direction of tiny Serge Jaroff, visiting Eugene for the third time, will present an entirely new musical program. Three years ago the Don Cossacks established an unbeaten attendance record in the university's huge McArthur court. With unprecedented applause they won their way into the hearts of the audience.

Ever popular with local audiences, the Don Cossack concert is being combined in the annual homecoming program for Oregon alumni to make the event one of the biggest on the campus this year.

Reserved and general admission tickets for the colorful performance are on sale by the University Greater Artists series in Eugene.

JACKSONVILLE High School News by STUDENT REPORTERS

Is the hired man for sale? This is the greatest problem of the Swedish maid in the Jacksonville high school senior play, "Deacon Dubbs." The cast is:

1. Deacon Dubbs—an old acquaintance from Sogorum Center, West Virgini—Don Godley.
2. Miss Phillippa Popover—who sometimes lets her temper get ahead of her good judgment—Lucille Plitt.
3. Amos Coleman—a romantic young gentleman—Gage Sanden.
4. Rose Raleigh—a brave little school marm—Valerie Pearce.
5. Deuteronomy Jones—hired man—Lorne Bowman.
6. Yernie Yenson—the Swedish maid—Avanda Ayres.
7. Trixie Coleman—the kid sister—Eileen Barry.
8. Mayor Moses McNutt—the auctioneer—John Nunn.
9. Emily Blake—the "society" girl—Velma Thomason.
10. Rawdon Crawley—the villain—Homer Smette.

Although the plot is a simple one the clever lines and the vivid character portrayal should make this three-act comedy a real treat.

Miss Elizabeth Grover, director, has announced November 20th as the date set for the performance.

Ray Hunsaker's grade school baseball league has completed its fall games for this season. Last Thursday's victory over Central Point leaves them but Central Point to defeat once more before taking the county championship. This game will be held over until spring. More schools of the county expect to organize baseball teams in the spring which may affect J'ville's standing. Until this year the team has lost but five games in five years. "One a year" has been the word until this year. But tough competition cost the graders two games this season making a total of 7 losses slacked against 55 wins.

HERBS ADVANCED AS WAY TO MAKE FOOD MORE TASTY

New Palate Sensations Are Afforded By Chives, Mint, Chervil, Thyme And Sage, Says State Nutritionist.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—Herbs brewing in a black pot fit in with tales of witchcraft and brown October weather.

But Miss Gertrude Conant, Arkansas extension service nutritionist, insists the real magic of herbs lies in the palate-bewitching effects of savory dishes.

Housewives take notice when she says: "The judicious use of herbs will turn many indifferent dishes into food over which the epicure will rave."

Easy to Raise

Most of these taste-titillators can be grown in the backyard garden. Common are dill, mint, parsley and sage. Just as easily cultivated are the more uncommon chives, chervil, sweet basil, sweet marjoram, summer savory and thyme.

Miss Conant explained that two tablespoons of chopped parsley and sweet basil in equal parts make prosecco scrambled eggs something to write home about.

An omelet begins to go places when it includes a mixture of finely chopped basil, chives, savory and thyme. String beans are hardly recognizable when two tablespoons of chopped basil drop in the pot.

Gives Palate Thrill

Dill inevitably is associated with pickles. The nutritionist agreed this was proper but lamented that few people knew its finely chopped leaves will make creamed chicken, shrimp or lobster taste like something important.

"Broiled lamb chops, or fried fish, with a sprinkling of chopped dill leaves on each piece and a little hot melted butter poured over it to bring out the flavor, will hardly be recognized as common foods," Miss Conant added.

The herbs also may be dried for winter use.

MODERATOR TO RULE BEND CONGREGATION

SALEM, Oct. 21.—(Sp.)—A moderator will be appointed pending the selection of a pastor for the First Presbyterian church of Bend at the meeting of the Oregon Presbytery at Eugene next Monday, Dr. Grover C. Birtchet of Salem, chairman of the Willamette Presbytery for foreign missions, predicted here today.

Dr. Birtchet said the meeting at Eugene was called for the purpose of installing Dr. Norman K. Tully as pastor there, but since the division of the Bend church that matter likewise will be taken up. The naming of a moderator appears the only step that can be taken at this time for the parent church, he said.

Four Initiated By DeMolay Chapter

At its regular meeting last night Medford Chapter, Order of DeMolay, carried Bob Jones, Randall Gifford, Ray Cronkite, and Richard Nelson, over the sands into the folds of its membership. Confering of the initiation degree was under the supervision of Master Conductor Dale Roberts. The degree was preceded by a short business meeting.

After the neophytes received their degree, a lunch furnished by the Mothers' club was served. During the luncheon the chapter was entertained by informal talks and singing by the new members, and all cleaning up details were accomplished by them.

Riddell Shop Has Style Revue For Women Who Knit

Medford knitters were entertained yesterday afternoon with a style revue at Jennie Riddell's Shop, 105 East Main street, where stunning new fall apparel was modeled under the direction of Miss Hazel Bozeman, Fleisher yarn representative.

Attractive young Medford girls displayed hand knitted suits, coats and dresses for all occasions. Intricate lace knits made of fine yarns were included in the style show. Pleasing contrasting colors were featured in trim fitting two-piece suits. Knitting continues to increase in popularity with women and girls of all ages, according to Miss Bozeman whose headquarters are in New York and San Francisco.

PORT ORFORD BURN TO BECOME VAST RANCH

PORT ORFORD, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The 100-acre burn on the Brush Prairie section owned by McDuffee and Gorman, California investors, will be re-seeded as the first step in the development of an extensive ranch.

The investors, who recently purchased Gable company dock and lumber interests, expect to place cattle on the new pasturage next spring. A cranberry bog probably will be cultivated.

The entire McDuffee and Gorman tract is 2300 acres.
