

FAUGHTY RECEIVES 20 YEAR STRETCH IN STATE PRISON

passage of sentence, Faughty replied, "I'd like to get it now."

At one stage of the proceedings Faughty wept bitterly.

Faughty willingly entered pleas of guilty to two counts, but denied that any weapon had been used in the Phoenix crime. He declared his victims had mistaken a handkerchief for a piece of pipe for a gun. When he failed to plead upon the dangerous weapon count, the court named Attorney Don Newbury to consult with the wounded prisoner, following a brief consultation in chambers sentence was pronounced.

Faughty will be taken to the state prison at Salem Friday morning. County Physician C. I. Drummond reports that Faughty may never walk again, though the sense of feeling is returning to his legs, giving a slim chance he may regain partial use. His first years in the penitentiary will be spent in the prison hospital in a wheel chair.

Faughty was wounded, when with Marshall last September, he staged a battle in the county jail to escape, since he was 18 years old, that his mother was dead, the whereabouts of his father unknown, and that he had served a short time in a Washington state reformatory.

Cheered by Throngs.

The president drove to the park through streets lined with cheering citizens. Governor Wilbur L. Cross rode with him and Mrs. Roosevelt.

In his half-hour nationally-broadcast speech in Worcester's jammed little auditorium last night, the president spoke of much "misinformation" and "propaganda" about administration taxes and asserted:

"The seeds of fear cannot bear fruit in the polling booth."

"Are you willing to turn the control of the nation's taxes back to special privilege?" he asked. "I know the American answer to that question. Your pay envelope may be loaded with suggestions of fear and your dividend letter may be filled with propaganda. But the American people will neither be bluffed nor bludgeoned."

COMPANY SELLS $142,403 REALTY IN NINE MONTHS

Continued upward trend in real estate was foreseen today by J. H. Fletcher as he announced a material liquidation of properties owned by the Jackson County Building & Loan association of which he is secretary and manager.

From January 1 to June 30 the association disposed of 21 of its properties for $54,803.79. Mr. Fletcher said. Sales have been made at an accelerated pace, he emphasized, as shown by transactions since the first of the year. From July 1 to September 30, the association sold 32 properties for $57,600 he stated.

On December 31, 1935, the association had on hand 119 properties with a book value of $224,669.85. Mr. Fletcher related. On September 30 it had on hand 53 properties with a book value of $78,930.82, he added. Transactions other than sales also having been consummated during the period. This represented a liquidation of $145,729.03 in the association's realty holdings in nine months, he pointed out.

"Sales have been good and are continuing so," Mr. Fletcher said. "Those buying properties are paying a large percentage of the purchase price in cash."

"We haven't a vacant property on our books. Rents are definitely up and are now established on a higher level. We haven't had any small acreage tracts on our books for some time. There continues to be a strong demand for such properties."
