

BANK OF OREGON AWAITS DECISION STATE'S VOTERS

Measure On Ballot Sponsored by Grange and Labor—Would Serve As Depository State Money

By Clayton V. Bernard. SALEM, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Do the citizens of Oregon want to establish a "Bank of Oregon" to do a general banking business and to be a depository of all moneys of the state? The question will be up for decision at the November 3 general election.

The measure, sponsored by the state grange and the Federation of Labor, calls for a statute creating such a bank with the board of directors made up of the state treasurer, as chairman; the governor, secretary of state, the attorney general, and the labor commissioner—all of them elective officials.

Under State Control. The bank would be operated, the proposal provides, under the state banking laws, set its own rate of interest, guarantee all deposits, and make loans to government and private agencies. The law provides preference of loans shall be made as follows: 1, the state; 2, counties; 3, cities and districts; 4, non-profit corporations or associations; 5, individuals; 6, corporations for profit.

A manager for the bank would be named by the board of directors. Loans on real property and warehouse receipts would be limited as well as loans to individuals, with preference given to loans under $1,000.

Other Banks Cited. Proponents of the measure point to the state bank of North Dakota as an example of a "sound institution," stating better interest rates for state funds could be obtained while at the same time lower rate of interest would be charged borrowers.

The Taxpayers Protective Association, a state-wide organization, takes issue with the North Dakota experience, stating it "has not been a financial success" that the Oregon proposal would not be similar. The negative arguments declare the bill is "loosely drawn, that it will, if passed, defeat the very ends its proponents claim for it." They point to failures of similar state banks in 13 other states where they have been tried.

COOPERATION HERE LAUDED BY COACH

In no other city with which he is familiar is there such a splendid spirit of co-operation as exists here among the faculty, the student body and the business men, William Bowerman, Medford high school athletic director, told the Kiwanis club at its weekly luncheon-meeting yesterday in the Hotel Medford.

Mr. Bowerman gave a talk on football, explaining offensive and defensive play. He praised Edward Kirtley Breynton Finch, assistant high school football coach, and Russell Acheson, junior high football mentor.

L. B. Smith, Portland attorney and secretary of the Taxpayers' league, spoke against the power and banking proposals on the November 3 election ballot. Anthony May of Portland was also a guest of the club.

Church Divided
BEND, Ore., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Two separate churches, apparently on friendly terms, served Presbyterians today. Part of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church met at the Westminster church at the county court house yesterday. Members who did not withdraw from the older organization retained their own edifice.

HIGHER EDUCATION TEACHING STAFFS TO BE INCREASED

State Board Action Necessitated by Heavy Growth in Student Attendance—All Time Record Established

MONMOUTH, Ore., Oct. 27.—(AP)—A student body increase of 8.3 per cent in the Oregon system of higher education led the state education board to authorize budgetary additions of $220,888 Monday to add the equivalent of 17 full-time instructors and graduate assistants.

Of the total, $17,308 went to Oregon State college and $3580 to the University of Oregon. The board also approved the establishment of a new division of experimental medicine at the university medical school, with Dr. Edwin E. Osgood, assistant professor of biochemistry, in charge, and named Dr. J. Guy Strubbe, assistant clinical instructor in urology, acting head of the medical school's urology department.

Attendance Sets Record
Dr. Howard Taylor, head of the university's psychology department, was named assistant dean of the graduate division.

Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter, in his report, said present local enrollment of the five state schools was at an all-time peak of 8103 students—46.3 per cent larger than in 1933. He said the college gained 20.5 per cent and the university 5.8 per cent. Decreases in the normal schools were listed as follows: Monmouth, 11 per cent; Ashland, 2.1 per cent; La Grande, 0.4 per cent.

Dedicate Building
The board took part in the formal dedication of the Oregon Normal school's $109,000 administration building and the $63,000 physical education plant.

Acting on a previous motion of B. P. Irvine, board member, that meetings of the board be held on Tuesdays instead of Mondays, so that committee sessions would not have to be held on Sundays, the board voted to make Tuesday the regular meeting day.

The present schedule calls for board sessions on the second Tuesday in March, June, September and December and the fourth Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

PREACHING CHANGE NEEDED TO RETURN POWER OF CHURCH

Fred M. Weatherford, pastor evangelist, was heard in the interest of the National Preaching Mission, Sunday night, using as his topic, "A Re-Christianization in the Making." He said as follows:

"The National Preaching Mission now in progress under the leadership of Dr. E. Stanley Jones, is destined for a revival reformation of Christianity, as wide-spread as that which marks the present decay of the church. However, such a reformation is wholly dependent upon the ready cooperation of the churches of America. It will be enlightening to review the Book of Acts and analyze by comparison, the drift of the modern church.

"The present order has broken down, Dr. Jones said: 'We stand amid their ruins. We have come to the end of an era. Whether we shall take God's way and begin a new era remains to be seen.'

"The pulpit for the past quarter century has been restricted and circumscribed in its message, because it has so largely accepted the philosophy, that the proper field of preaching culminates in projecting the decorous, the good, and the beautiful, in their more dignified and non-disturbing aspects. Preaching went too far, in the realm of esthetic idealism, and too remote from the heart and conscious relationship of man with God.

"Preaching then went up into a stratosphere, where materialistic theological fog was encountered and the rare atmosphere of that detachment precipitated a crash upon Christianity, that nearly wrecked the world.

"Unless the present church world, with its past ill-fated ideas and defeated goals joins with the National Preaching Mission, in its methods to rechristianize Christianity, America will go on in her rapid stride of moral decadence to wreck the heritage of a Christian birthright."

BOURBON LEADERS ASK FOR SUPPORT OF WHOLE TICKET

Only New Deal Candidates Should Be Elected, Rally Is Told—Big Plurality Seen for F. D. R. On Coast

With the assertion that Oregon was safe for President Roosevelt, speakers at the Democratic rally here last night made a plea for the election of national and state candidates who would support the administration so that the New Deal might be carried out to a successful conclusion.

The speakers included Howard Latourette, national committeeman, Claude McCulloch, state chairman, Harry Bolvin, unopposed candidate for re-election to the state legislature from Klamath Falls, and E. W. Kirkpatrick, candidate for United States representative from this district. A. E. Reames, Medford attorney and member of the state executive committee, presided after being presented by J. R. Marshall, Jackson county chairman.

Mr. Latourette and Mr. Bolvin made a special plea for the election of Willis Mahoney, Klamath Falls mayor who is opposing the veteran Senator Charles L. McNary for a seat in the United States senate. As mayor of Klamath Falls Mr. Mahoney has worked for the wage-earning class. He is an ardent supporter of President Roosevelt and the New Deal and therefore should have the vote of every Democrat in the state, Mr. Bolvin declared.

Sees Decisive Victory.
Mr. Latourette asserted that President Roosevelt would carry Oregon by a plurality of 75,000 to 100,000 votes.

"But let us not become over-confident," Mr. Latourette counseled. "Now that we have elected President Roosevelt in this state, let us look to our state and county candidates. They must be elected so that the president will have the whole-hearted support necessary to complete his recovery and humanitarian program."

Mr. Latourette then cited figures to contrast economic and social conditions of four years ago with those of today, thus stressing the accomplishments of the New Deal.

Mr. McCulloch expressed the hope that the campaign would end in an attitude of tolerance by both parties. Counts On West Coast.

All indications, Mr. McCulloch stated, point to the re-election of

HOPES OF LONDON IN FAR WEST REST ON TOWNSENDITES

Willis Mahoney, Democrat who has the asserted Townsend support. Washington's Democratic governor, Clarence D. Martin, wealthy flour miller, seeks re-election. Opposing him is ex-Governor Roland H. Hartley, Everett lumberman, who is campaigning against what he calls "labor racketeering," particularly in the Seattle area, where a newspaper strike led to suspension of the Post-Intelligencer, a Hearst property.

Idaho OARF for Lemke.
Idaho Townsendites generally are supporting Lemke for president. Senator William E. Borah, seeking a sixth term, is opposed by Democratic Governor C. Ben Ross, chief executive for three consecutive two-year terms. Borah has mentioned Roosevelt favorably in addresses but has not urged his re-election; He likewise has commented favorably on Lemke, but has made little reference to Landon.

Nevada's registration includes 36,207 Democrats to 19,971 Republicans. The Republican campaign has opposed the administration's range policy, fought the security exchange commission as a hindrance to mining, and challenged federal expenditures in general.

Arizona has approximately 83 per cent of his 167,000 voters registered as Democrats. Landon, Colonel Frank Knox and John D. M. Hamilton all have visited during the campaign. The Democrats have depended upon local leaders.

Utah Campaign Quiet.
Utah has had a quiet campaign. Neither senate seat is open. Republican, Democratic, Union, Socialist, Prohibition and Communist electors qualified for the presidential ballot. The gubernatorial fight lies largely among Governor Henry H. Blood, Democrat; Ray E. Dillman, Republican attorney, and Mayor Herman W. Peery of Ogden, Progressive-Independent.

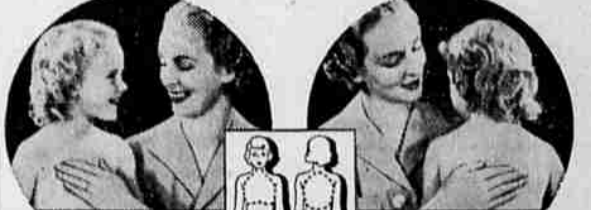

Montana has been nearly submerged in a flood of words about water. One phase of the fight over agricultural policies, and the Canadian reciprocal treaty. Senator James E. Murray, Democrat seeking re-election, is opposed by T. O. Larson, Republican, and Joseph P. Monahan, Independent-Progressive and Townsendite. Representative Roy E. Ayers, Democrat, and Frank A. Hazelbaker, Republican, seek the governorship.

Wyoming Mostly G. O. P.
Wyoming registration favors the Republicans, 36,350 to 33,977, but late registrations do not state party leanings so the figures are incomplete. The current campaign has been quiet. Senator Robert D. Carey, Republican, is opposed for re-election by H. M. Schwartz, Democrat.

Colorado registration totals are not compiled officially, but Democratic candidates were elected in 1932 and 1934. Senatorial candidates are Governor Ed C. Johnson, Democrat, and Raymond L. Sauter, Republican. The latter has been embarrassed by action of state candidates in eliminating from the state platform a specific endorsement of a constitutional amendment providing $45 a month minimum old age pensions, and indirectly endorsing the Townsend plan. This Safe, External Treatment Helps END A COLD Quicker

The 3-Minute VapoRub Massage

Massage VapoRub briskly on the throat, chest and back (between and below the shoulder blades). Then spread it thick over the chest and cover with warm cloth. Almost before you finish rubbing, VapoRub starts to bring relief two ways at once—two direct ways:

1. Through the Skin. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster.
2. Medicated Vapors. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 18 times a minute—direct to the irritated air-passages. This combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation—helps break congestion.

During the night, VapoRub keeps right on working. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over. Avoids Risk of Stomach Upsets. This safe, external treatment cannot possibly upset the stomach, as constant internal "dosing" is so apt to do. It can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.
