Mrs. Vilas Is Expected Here
Plans are being made to greet Mrs. George Vilas, who is expected to arrive here by plane Friday from San Francisco. She is joining her husband, who has been visiting here and in the north for some time, as the guest of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Vilas, and of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Vilas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vilas have spent most of the fall in San Francisco, having arrived there from China, where they have resided for some time. Both are well-known here and will be greeted by many old friends. Entertainment for the visitors is to be principally informal and will be more or less in the nature of renewing old acquaintances.

George Vilas and his mother have only recently returned from a visit in the north.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vilas expect to return south by plane in the early part of November.

SOCIAL SECURITY AIDS LARGE SHARE OREGON POPULACE

Approximately 12,160 needy men, women and children and 200,000 industrial and commercial workers in Oregon are now covered by the public assistance and unemployment compensation provisions of the social security act. These figures were announced by Mr. Edgar Freed, state director for the national emergency council for Oregon, and are based upon a report of the social security board, summarizing the progress made under the act in the eight months since it became operative.

Oregon is participating in every feature of the social security act administered by the social security board except aid to dependent children. The state has set up an unemployment compensation system which will protect 200,000 workers against loss of income during temporary periods of unemployment. The social security board pays the costs of administering this system.

The state has established public-assistance plans for aid to the needy aged and aid to the needy blind which, with federal aid, provide regular income to individuals unable to provide for themselves. In September an estimated 11,900 aged and 260 blind individuals received assistance under these plans at a total cost of $250,250. Approximately one-half the cost of this aid to the aged and the blind was paid by the social security board.

Since the state began cooperation with the federal government under the terms of the social security act, a total of $1,324,594 of federal funds has come to Oregon to aid it in providing these benefits. It has received $70,531 for administration of its unemployment compensation, $1,226,922 for assistance to the needy aged, and $26,941 for aid to the needy blind. Federal funds have made it possible for Oregon to provide much more adequately for its needy citizens than would be possible out of state and local funds alone.

Still further benefits are open to Oregon under the social security act. If the state establishes a plan for aid to dependent children in line with the federal act it will be eligible to receive approximately one-third the cost of this aid from the social security board.

In addition to these co-operative federal-state features of the social security act, Oregon citizens also come under the federal old age benefit system provided by the act.

$147,036.98 SUM SET BY COUNCIL AS CITY BUDGET

With the 1936 budget of $155,581.48 and the 1935 budget of $185,919.11, the millage rate for 1937 Mr. Alford estimated as 19.7 mills as compared with 20.8 for the 1936 and 24.6 mills for 1935. Vastly improved tax collections account for the budget reductions, the recorder said.

Objects To Band
Mr. Pipes also objected to the establishment of a real estate department though he added that "the object sought in this department is sound and is good business." He expressed the view that if the work could not be done by other departments, the head of the real estate department should be paid not by salary but by sale commissions. It was pointed out by city officials today, however, that the real estate department does a large amount of productive work not involving realty sales.

Mr. Pipes also registered opposition to the city's financing a municipal band, saying Medford was not now in a position to assume such a responsibility. The city council recently was requested to take over the 22ks band as a municipal organization. A petition filed with the council asked that the proposition be submitted to the voters at the next special election. The matter is now being studied by council committees.

David Hume, the Scottish historian and philosopher, was born in 1711 at Edinburgh.

OCTOBER DROUGHT SETS NEW RECORD
As the weather bureau predicted another day of fair weather with no change in temperature, Oregon residents are beginning to wonder if the mid-west drought has taken up permanent quarters on the Pacific coast. Although falls as dry as this one are not so uncommon in southern Oregon as in the northern part of the state, the seasonal deficiency to date of 1.27 inches has surpassed that of 1.11 recorded in October of 1932, the only comparative figure available to date. October deficiency is reported as 1.10 inches.

Medford residents awoke today to the coldest morning of the season, the mercury having dropped to 29 degrees during the early morning hours, according to bureau officials. Previous low was 31 degrees, registered early last week. Low temperatures have skirted the freezing point for the past several days, remaining above 32 degrees for the most part.

Weather
Northern California: Fair tonight and Thursday, with occasional fogs on coast; no change in temperature; gentle northwest wind off coast.

Oregon: Fair tonight and Thursday, but foggy or overcast night and morning in west portion; little change in temperature; moderately northerly wind off coast.

Antelope Thrill Passing Autoists

BEND, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Inquisitive herds of south central Oregon antelope have provided thrills for motorists in the Pine mountain section.

About three hundred of the swift pronghorns were sighted by a traveler near Antelope Springs. They stood gazing at the moving auto for a moment, then divided, dashing across the highway and ascending a ridge to get a better view.

The beautiful animals are common along the border country of Lake county, Oregon, and Modoc county, Calif., but it is only in recent years they have moved this far north.

ter indictment against French, the grand jury recessed until after election, when, according to District Attorney George A. Coddling, it will investigate two other recent auto deaths in Jackson county.

Lester J. Messal, 28, a lumber worker, is held in the county jail for the hit-run death of Everett Thompson, 88, of Talent, a Pacific highway pedestrian, six weeks ago. An auto driven by Messal struck Thompson, mortally injuring him. Messal is now serving a 45 day sentence in the county jail for reckless driving. Messal's driving license was suspended, for reckless driving in this city. July 4 last.

Messal claims he was blinded by the glaring lights of an approaching auto, when Thompson was struck and killed. He was arrested three weeks later in this city.

Death of Avis Brook, 14, Central Point school girl and bicyclist, killed last June at the intersection of the Pacific highway and Main street in Central Point, is also due for inquiry. J. E. Riggs of Hillsboro, Ore., is at liberty on his own recognizance, as driver of the auto that struck the girl.

JACKSON COUNTY BUDGET INCREASE FOUND NECESSARY

wage boost they have had in three years. They were the first to feel the axe of economy at the start of the depression.

Members of the budget committee state the boost of the old age pension from $25,000 to $32,000 for the coming year, would not increase the pension payments, but was necessary due to the increase in age pension applications.

Appropriations for all county offices and departments are virtually the same as last year.

First publican of the 1937 budget is scheduled for this week. No definite date has been set for the public hearing on the budget, but it is expected to be called between November 20, and November 25.
