

TEXAS CLASSIFIES DRIVING MISTAKES UNDER NEW PLAN

AUSTIN, Tex.—(UP)—First five months operation of the Texas driver's license law has resulted in suspension of driving rights of only 70 of the 1,500,000 persons issued driving cards on April 1.

Cards were issued to all drivers without tests. The licenses are suspended for three violations of specified traffic rules within a year. Suspensions or license revocations also follow negligent homicide while driving; conviction of an offense made a felony in the motor laws; driving while intoxicated; failure to stop and aid after an accident; two convictions of striking a person while driving.

Two hundred drivers have had a third of the license turned into the state safety department under the provision that three minor traffic law violations cause suspension.

To facilitate the record of such offenses, the licenses were issued in three sections with perforations between them. A convicting judge or justice of the peace tears off one section and sends it to the safety department. When the three have been sent in, the driver has no license.

One justice of the peace made quick work of the case of one offender. He convicted the driver on each of three separate counts, tore off a section of his license for each, mailing all at once to the state office.

The sectional licenses have caused confusion in other states. Texas motorists on tour have had part of the Texas license torn off and sent back to Austin for traffic violations in other states.

One Arizona justice of the peace was obviously active. He has mailed three first offense tickets within a month. In Omaha, one justice revoked a Texan's license. He wrote "revoked" across the face of the license and mailed it to Austin.

Most of the 70 suspensions have been caused by intoxication. There are less revocations for "assault" and a few for negligent homicide.

First suspensions are for six months. If the driver is caught driving during the suspension period, the time automatically is extended for a year.

Licenses issued last April will be good for three years, unless revoked or suspended.

Heretofore all six-week terms will be regular.

Girls' Athletic association held a meeting fifth period in the auditorium. The meeting was called to order by the president, Flora Scheel.

G. A. A. song sheets were passed out to the girls. The association appreciated Miss Young's assistance. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Virginia Rians, who acted as assistant because of the absence of Lucille Wymore.

Miss Degermark explained the methods of earning ten points to become a regular G. A. A. member. If one wishes to become a member this semester she must have earned ten points by the next meeting. The president appointed two committees, on constitution and ways and means.

Chairman of the constitution committee is Jean Platt and other members are Josephine Bullis and Gerlin Platt. The ways and means committee is composed of Chairman Jeanette Field, Catherine Conroy and Della Mae Dale. The club is sending a note of thanks to the Fabrica for lending them the truck for the noise parade.

A table tennis game was played by Josephine Bullis, Catherine Conroy, Ruth Garlock acted as scorekeeper.

Following that Kenneth Scott, Wood, instructor in speech, made a speech in which he told of the origin, reasons for and results of Navy Day. Then, after a song from the boys' glee club and another by the whole group, the assembly was dismissed about 10:25 by Ardo Stocks, student body president.

Being supposedly of sound mind and body, the 600-odd students of the high school grasped their pens and pencils Tuesday of this week and sat themselves down to the exquisite torture of the semi-annual efficiency tests. The tests were administered in the roll room during a special fifth period called for this specific purpose.

Although the sophomores and the juniors took the tests also, it was understood that these exams applied mostly to the seniors who will graduate either in June, 1937, or January 1937. The questions covered such subjects as mathematics, social science and English, and any senior found to be basically unsound in these subjects will be required to do remedial work until he or she is up with the usual standards.

The office will announce senior results soon and remedial classes will start immediately afterward.

Monday, October 26, saw the second and sixth weeks of the fall term of the year 1936 ushered in through the portals of the Medford senior high school.

On October 28, report cards were given out and honor roll lists were posted. School began September 8, making the first short term seven weeks long instead of the usual six. This was due to the fact that not much real class work was done the first week of school and it also gave the pupils who worked the first few weeks a better chance to catch up.
