Miss Edith Sage and Howard Gault Wed

With quiet ceremony, Miss Edith Sage, daughter of Charles Weldon Sage of Table Rock, became the bride of Howard Gault, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Gault of Medford, Tuesday morning.

The service was read at 11 o'clock in St. Mark's Episcopal church by Rev. E. S. Barham. Only attendants were Mrs. John Dodge of Medford, aunt of the bride, and the bride's father.

The bride wore a navy wool tulle with matching accessories and a corsage of gardenias and rosebuds.

The young couple are honeymooning in San Francisco and expect to return to Medford late in November to make their home here. Both are graduates of the Medford high school and well known in the valley.

NOVEMBER 30 IS CLOSING DATE IN SHANGLE CONTEST

Monday, November 30 is the closing date set for Shangle's baby salon, according to an announcement today by J. Verne Shangle, well known Medford photographer. On that date competition for $300 in cash and merchandise awards will close and out-of-town photographic experts will come to Medford to choose the winners. All photographs will be placed on display and the public invited to inspect them. Mr. Shangle announced. The place where this exhibit will be held will be made public near the close of the contest.

"Some exceptionally fine photographs of southern Oregon kiddies may be expected when this public exhibit is held," Verne Shangle said today. "I am gratified in the response to our baby salon contest and the youngsters I have already photographed have all been exceptional subjects. The baby salon idea, which will become an annual event in Medford under the sponsorship of this studio, offers a splendid opportunity for southern Oregon people to compete for valuable cash and merchandise awards and at the same time secure photographs as holiday gifts. With 15 prominent Medford concerns as co-sponsors of the Shangle baby salon this season, this event becomes a community affair with interest and enthusiasm increasing daily."

In the Shangle baby salon, 20 cash and merchandise prizes will be offered. There are three classes in the contest: class one for babies from three months to one year, class two for babies from one year to three years of age and class three for kiddies from three years to five years of age. Simple rules govern the competition with entry blanks available at Shangle studio in the Medford building.

The list of qualified and disinterested judges will be made public soon. Mr. Shangle announced, and an invitation will be extended to everyone in southern Oregon and northern California to attend the public showing of the competing photographs when they are placed on exhibitions. All photographs will be enlarged and placed on uniform mountings to assure a fair display in this exhibit.

CROWD EXPECTED AT HOMECOMING

Tonight will see opening of homecoming festivities at Southern Oregon Normal school in Ashland. The event is expected to attract a record number of former students.

This evening's program begins with a noise parade and rally for the football clash tomorrow with Monmouth normal, traditional enemy of the Ashland school. A huge bonfire, in which chemicals will be used to create a spectacular effect, will follow the rally. The fire will be set building. The evening will end with behind the school administration a midnight show.

Alumni will meet tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock and the game is called for 2:30 p. m. The alumni banquet is scheduled for tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Lithia hotel. Dancing will follow in the school gymnasium at 9 o'clock.

Miss Marian Ady is general chairman in charge of arrangements for the week-end.

SIFT BARN ASHES FOR DEATH CLUES

THE DALLES, Ore., Nov. 6.—(AP)—State police and Wasco county officers sifted the ashes of a barn on Tugh Ridge today in an effort to uncover further evidence surrounding the death of Owen Jones, 55, whose body was found in the ruined structure.

Preliminary evidence that Jones was shot, his head crushed and at least one leg severed led officers to call in Dr. Frank Menne, pathologist at the University of Oregon medical school, as well as fire experts from state police headquarters.

The bullet and a portion of the torso were taken to Portland by Dr. Menne last night.

The possibility that a pyromaniac may have been involved was considered when it was remembered that other barns in nearby vicinities had been destroyed by fires of unknown origin recently.

Recovers Trainers

BEAVERTON, Ore., Nov. 6.—(AP)—A. W. Gripp of the Bertha-Beaverton highway recovered two-thirds of a thief's loot but the other third probably was the most important. Gripp's trousers, a purse and $62 disappeared while he was sleeping on his porch. The trousers and purse, but not the money, were found nearby.

GOOD WEATHER LOOMS FOR PORTLAND GAME

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Football fans found plenty of satisfaction in the weatherman's report for the U. C. L. A.-Oregon grid game here tomorrow. East winds, clear skies and somewhat lower temperatures were forecast.

THINGS TO LOOK FOR WHEN YOU'RE BUYING . . .

And IN BUYING WHISKEY GIVE IT THE BEAD TEST

Once it was smart to spend money recklessly. Now it's smart again to buy carefully, to see what you're getting for your money. You can buy whiskey just as carefully as you buy fruit or vegetables or wearing apparel. That's the way old-timers always bought whiskey . . . by the "bead test." It's a natural test because the "bead" (bubbles that form when the bottle is shaken) is a natural characteristic of all whiskey. Just watch the amount and see how long it lasts. See what kind of whiskey you're getting for your money.
