

NUMEROUS EVENTS FEATURE PROGRAM ON ARMISTICE DAY

Big Parade, Ball, Show, Dug-out Lunch, Football Tilt, Skate Races And Movies To Mark Fete By Legion.

Stores To Close
Medford stores and banks, city hall, county courthouse, and state liquor shop will be closed all day Wednesday in observance of Armistice Day. The postoffice will remain open and mail will be delivered as usual. The liquor store will stay open until 11 o'clock Tuesday night.

Annual Armistice Day parade will start from city park promptly at 11:03 Wednesday morning, five minutes after the hour of signing the truce that brought an end to the World war on November 11 eighteen years ago. During the five-minute period all forms of noise will be permitted to recall the jubilation that followed announcement of the armistice in 1918.

The parade will be only one feature of the day-long celebration to be held under sponsorship of Medford post of the American Legion. There will be numerous activities throughout the day from 10:30 in the morning to far into the night.

The parade will move from city park along Main street to Riverside avenue, thence to Sixth street, thence to Bartlett and back along Main street to the starting point.

All patriotic, religious, educational, fraternal, social, service and civic organizations have been invited to participate in the parade. Col. W. H. Paine is in charge of the procession and all participating groups will report to him.

Assembly Places
Col. Paine yesterday requested that parade units report for assembly at these points:

Bands, public library lawn; military and veteran organizations and affiliates, city park; religious and relief groups, North Ivy street near Main street; fraternal and social societies, South Oakdale avenue; Grange and school entries, North Oakdale; civic, service and unclassified organizations, Main street west of Oakdale avenue. American Legion representatives will be present to assist in the formations.

All World war veterans will march together with their flags and organization banners massed at the head of the column. They will be followed by their auxiliaries and other affiliates which will be formed in the same manner. Col. Paine said.

Ashland To Assist
Ashland post of the American Legion will join with the Medford unit this year in staging one big celebration. The Ashland Legionnaires will bring their colorful Klitte band for participation in the parade.

A major event of the day will be the American Legion ball and floor show at Oriental gardens which will serve as a finale to the celebration. A 14-piece orchestra will provide dance music and the floor show program contains several outstanding entertainment numbers.

After the parade the Legionnaires will serve their usual free lunch at their dugout in the old Dreamland theatre on East Main street near the Bear creek bridge. Various forms of entertainment will be provided in the dugout during the afternoon, with several acts from the floor show to be presented between 12 and 1 and 4 and 5.

The annual football contest between Medford and Ashland high schools will be held as part of the celebration on the new turf field here at 2 p. m. With a holiday throng in town, it is expected that a new attendance record will be established.

Prizes For Skaters
The celebration will start at 1:30 a. m. with roller skate races for boys and girls ten years of age or over. Competitors are to assemble at Main street and Oakdale avenue before 10:30.

Arthur F. Reinking, new proprietor of the roller skating rink at the Medford armory, is sponsoring the races in association with the American Legion. He is offering a cash prize for winners in each classification and four skate tickets good at the rink as second prizes. The rink will be open from 1:30 to 4:30 Wednesday afternoon and 7:30 to 10:30 in the evening.

All Medford theaters will cooperate with the American Legion in observance of Armistice Day by showing special films at both matinee and evening performances, post officials said.

22 MILE BREEZE SWEEPS O'ER CITY

Strong winds blew through the Rogue valley yesterday, swirling dust, leaves and bits of paper around the city and piling up debris on sidewalks and streets.

Maximum velocity registered at municipal airport by the weather bureau was 22 miles an hour between 1:30 and 2:30 p. m. but it was pointed out that the wind usually blows harder in town than at the airport bowl.

The wind, from the south and southeast, was warm and dry and therefore increased fire hazards in the forests again. Humidity dropped noticeably, declining to 20 per cent, lowest in days.

Official forecast was for fair weather today, with increasing cloudiness tomorrow, not much change in temperature. Maximum temperature yesterday was 66, lowest 23.

SCORES OF WOMEN VISIT BURELSONS

Hundreds of southern Oregon women visited Burelson's new enlarged downtown store Friday and Saturday to take advantage of the opening specials offered in conjunction with Medford's city-wide Dollar Days.

Burelson's now have one of the most distinctive economy departments between Portland and Sacramento.

More than 700 square feet of floor space were added to the downtown store and an innovation has been introduced in apparel displays. Along the sides of the department gay canvas awnings have been installed over the wall racks to give a lively tone of smartness and individuality. A similar decorative scheme combining gay colors was used in finishing show tables, floor and ceilings. All fitting rooms downstairs have also been enlarged for the convenience of patrons.

Bright canvas curtains on the fitting rooms match the other decorations.

Burelson's spacious downstairs store features a complete line of popular priced apparel for girls and women and an extensive stock of smart new fall and winter millinery. Mrs. Margaret Seyler is in charge of the company's ready-to-wear department which includes a large selection of hostery, lingerie, corsets, skirts, slacks, waan frocks, rayon and silk dresses. Mrs. J. H. Sugar, well-known milliner, is manager of the hat department.

Mr. and Mrs. Burelson left here Saturday night for San Francisco where they will purchase additional stock merchandise for their store. They will attend the grand opening of the San Francisco bay bridge before returning to Medford.

Obituary

Eliza U. Howard
Eliza Unis Howard, aged 84, a resident of Eagle Point for the past 8 years, passed away at a local hospital Friday noon, after an illness of a few days.

Eliza Unis Knox was born July 24, 1878 in Gaylord, Michigan and was united in marriage to Henry C. MYSTERY FIRE AND HIGH WIND PERIL BAPTIST CHURCH

Quick action by the fire department saved the Baptist church from serious damage or possible destruction yesterday morning when woodwork in the attic was ignited in some odd manner by the vent leading from a gas heater in the pastor's study.

A strong wind was blowing at the time and a few minutes' delay might have found the church a blazing inferno, firemen said. As it was, the fire was extinguished with only nominal damage. The church is situated on the east side of North Central avenue at Fifth street.

The fire was discovered by the Rev. Wolford A. Dawes, pastor, when he was working in his study at 10:35 yesterday morning. A gas grate in the study was burning at the time and the fire was attributed to a vent pipe leading from the heater to the attic. Firemen thought some gas had accumulated in the vent and ignited when the heater was lighted.

The vent ended in the attic between the roof and the ceiling of the study. The arrangement is to be changed so that the vent will be carried either into the nearby main chimney or out through the roof as firemen said, should have been done in the first place.

"Quick response by the firemen certainly saved our church," the Rev. Mr. Dawes said. "It seemed to me they got here in no time at all."

Mrs. Dorothy Ham Manager Of Mann's Needlework Dept.

Knitting maintains its popularity with girls and women because it is an interesting and useful pastime. Mrs. Dorothy Ham, new manager of Mann's Art Needlework department, stated yesterday. Two-piece garments which may be worn as dresses or suits are the favorites this season.

Mrs. Ham came to Medford last week from Yakima, Wn., to accept the position with Mann's department store. Previous to that time she was associated with William Barnes Woodin company's department store, Yakima, as instructor of knitting and all types of fancywork.

Knitters are making socks and gloves for hunting and skiing as well as apparel for all occasions. Mrs. Ham said. Mann's needlework section features Bear Brand yarns in all of the new fall and winter colors in a variety of weights. In addition to giving free instructions in knitting to patrons of Mann's, Mrs. Ham will offer instructions in all types of handwork.

Twenty Tots Hurt
GASSAWAY, W. Va., Nov. 7.—(AP)—A flaming cloud of tar exploded today, burning 20 school children, two of them critically.

PROJECT HEARING HERE THIS WEEK

Procedure and means of procuring federal aid on needed projects will be discussed with representatives of eligible agencies by C. C. Hookley, Oregon state PWA director at a conference to be held in city hall on Thursday, November 12, it was stated in an announcement issued from the Portland office yesterday.

Project applications, the notice pointed out, may be made by any non-federal public body such as a city, school board, water district, irrigation district, etc.

"The requirements are that the public body shall finance 85 percent of the project through cash or bonds while the public works administration, if all conditions are met, will make an outright grant of 45 percent of the cost of the project," the announcement said.

L'CLERC TOGGERY DISPLAY MANAGER

Howard Leclerc, efficient window decorator and salesman, has been appointed display promotion manager for the Toggery, according to announcement made Saturday by William P. Isaacs.

Eleven years experience in selling men's clothing enables Mr. Leclerc to display apparel throughout the store and in the Toggery show windows to the best advantage, and to assist southern Oregon men in correct selections. An unusually complete stock of men's high class ready-to-wear and accessories for fall and winter is now available at the Toggery, outstanding ensembles being featured in the windows.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our friends for the many acts of kindness and sympathy extended us during the long illness and death of our dear sister, Mrs. Laura E. Dina. Riley Myers.
