Lookouts Continued—With fire hazards remaining high in the timber areas, lookouts are still being kept at their posts by the Rogue river national forest service. This is the latest in the season that lookouts have been maintained for many years. Lack of moisture, low humidity and warm, dry winds combine to keep forest fire conditions hazardous, officials stated.

• • •

Furniture Burned—A davenport and living room rug in the V. Knudsen home at 418 South Oakdale avenue were destroyed by fire last evening. Loss was estimated at about $150. While cause of the blaze was undetermined, firemen said that possibly the davenport was too close to the fireplace. The fire department, answering a ward alarm, confined the blaze to the rug and davenport.

• • •

Control Chief Here—M. V. Benedict, chief of blister rust control, returned to his headquarters in Oakland, Cal., Saturday after a visit here during which he made an inspection of the work done on the upper Rogue area. Mr. Benedict was met in Salem earlier in the week by Conrad P. Wessela, head of blister rust control here, and they came to Medford together. Mr. Wessela accompanied Mr. Benedict on the Rogue inspection trip.

• • •

Enrollee Promoted—E. K. Stephenson, CCC enrollee of Camp South Fork, today began his new duties as tractor operator, a civilian position to which he was promoted by the Rogue river national forest service. Stephenson is from Butte Falls and has been with the CCC since its organization in 1933. He learned the operation of tractors, said to be a highly technical job, during his CCC service. At present he will operate a tractor on the Willow creek road building project.

Elks Officer—H. N. Butler was elected third vice president in charge of the southern Oregon district at the annual meeting of the Oregon State Elks association in Salem Saturday. Others attending from Medford were Carl Y. Tengwald, L. W. Winkle, J. F. Fliegel and Ernest Scott, secretary of the local lodge. All but Mr. Scott are past exalted rulers of the Medford lodge. The association was reorganized at Saturday's meeting and a ritualistic contest was won by Klamath Falls.

Hearing Postponed—Public hearing on harbor matters scheduled in Crescent City, Cal., for tomorrow has been postponed to Thursday, December 10, it was announced today. Interests in Crescent City requested the postponement, the announcement stated. The hearing is concerned with the review of reports on the Crescent City harbor project. Medford interests are to be represented at the hearing.

• • •

Gets Duck Limit—H. C. Obye, assistant supervisor of the Rogue river national forest, bagged the limit of ducks in a week-end of hunting on Upper Klamath lake. He said the area was dotted with hunters yesterday and while most of them bagged the limit it required all day to do so. Continued hunting and the freezing of feeding places have combined to scatter water fowl, Mr. Obye stated. Feeding marshes in the Klamath area were frozen yesterday, he related, and they did not thaw out until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Roads were all in good condition with no snow at such places as Lake of the Woods which usually are covered early in the season, Mr. Obye said.

BIRTHS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Brown of 39 Meyers Court a girl weighing six pounds and nine ounces at the Osteopathic hospital Saturday evening, November 7. The baby has been named Artha Katherine. She is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Simon M. Hawk of 701 West 11th street who recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Mother and baby were reported progressing splendidly today.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Nyberg of Midway road, a son weighing seven and a half pounds Sunday, November 8, at the Purucker Maternity home. Both mother and son are reported doing nicely.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Norris, 702 Palm street, a daughter weighing five and three quarters pounds, at the Purucker Maternity home this morning. Mother and son are both doing well.

Annual Past Masters Dinner, Ceremony Set

In honor of past masters of the Masonic lodge, the local group has scheduled the annual dinner and ceremony for the evening of November 20, when all past masters will take the chairs for the evening.

Dinner at 6:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple will precede the business session. A program is being arranged to complete the evening. Further announcements will be made later concerning the affair.

EUGENE HIGH TOPS STATE RACE WITH 59 TO 0 VICTORY

(By the Associated Press)

Eugene's Axmen topped the parade of undefeated and untied Oregon high school teams this week.

The mighty lads from the Willamette valley rang the bell hard as they marched to a lop-sided victory over University high school, 59 to 0.

Little Seaside, the team that scored 110 points in an early season game and then defeated the usually strong Tillamook Cheesemakers, dropped by the wayside, giving way to Clatskanie, 7 to 6.

Clatskanie still rated the front rank without a loss. The lower Columbia school was held to a tie several weeks ago by the Pacific university freshmen, bt the game does not figure in the interscholastic race for the state's mythical championship.

West Linn strode to another victory by smothering Molalla, 37 to 0. The winners are undisputed leaders in the Willamette valley conference and have not lost a game this season.

Bend's Lava Bears, ranked with Eugene and Hood River as the finest in the state, play Klamath Falls Wednesday. No easy time is expected for the unbeaten central Oregonians for it was Klamath which toppled the great Medford eleven, 3 to 0.

Cottage Grove, MacLaughlin of Milton-Freewater, Hood River, Bend and Oregon City, all undefeated and untied in Oregon competition, were idle last week end.

Jefferson, undefeated Portland contender, swamped Commerce, 33 to 6. The Jeffs, however, have been held to a tie and are only on the fringe of the state's best prep elevens.

FINE QUINT PROSPECT SEEN FOR SONS WITH RETURN OF VETERANS

ASHLAND, Nov. 9. —(Spl.)— With the final gun ending the annual homecoming game Saturday against Oregon Normal, the SONS of Southern Oregon Normal wrote finis to their 1936 football season the second under the coaching of Jean Eberhart. Although failing to reach the .500 mark in games won and lost, the SONS bettered considerably their record of last yaer when only one battle out of seven was chalked up in the win column.

During the season just past, Eberhart's team was victorious in two games; they lost three times and one battle ended in a tie. SONS victories were posted over Pacific college, 52-0, and Albany college, 21-0. Defeats were handed the locals by the Oregon Frosh, 26-6; Humboldt State, 40-3; and by the Oregon Normal Saturday, 7-0. The tie game was played against the Oregon State Rooks, 13-13.

Coach Eberhart today will issue his first call for basketball, with one of the finest teams in history in prospect. Augmenting the six returning lettermen from last year's SONS team will be Cliff ("Chief") McLean star of the University of Oregon quintet last year, and two lettermen from the local school; and Clyde ("Tubby") Dickinson, SONS letterman two years ago.

Returning veterans fro mlast season who will report are Arba Ager, Darrell Leavens, Bob Hardy, Billy Hoxie, Ted Schopf and Pat Patterson.

Although the completed SONS schedule is not ready, Eberhart has slated games with Howard Hobson's University of Oregon Webfoots, Albany, Linfield, Union Oil, Chico State and others.

DOLLAR DAY SALES SUCCESSFUL EVENT

In behalf of the Retail Trade division of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, I wish to thank the Medford Mail Tribune, the Medford News, KMED and the other newspapers of the county for their splendid cooperation in publicizing and advertising the Dollar Day sales event conducted in Medford and neighboring communities Friday and Saturday, November 6th and 7th. Their assistance made possible a selling event that was outstandingly successful.

SUFFERED TERRIBLY FOR FIVE YEARS

Durham, California, Farmer Calls Williams S.L.K. Formula a Real Blessing

GOOD health is indeed life's greatest blessing. Without it there can be little happiness or pleasure. Why suffer the torment of chronic ill health when the means of ending it may be at your very door, just as it was for Herbert Summers who writes:

Says Nothing gave him Relief until He Took WILLIAMS S.L.K.

"I suffered for five years, in bed at times, because of the pain. Many kinds of foods would cramp me almost double and I would have to starve myself to get over it. My kidneys were in bal condition and it seemed my back would break. I was so weak I could hardly get up and down.

"I have only taken one bottle of WILLIAMS S.L.K. FORMULA and I am back at work, eat what I please, sleep like a child, and am gaining weight every day." (HERBERT SUMMERS, Durham, California.

Try It Without Risk

WILLIAMS S.L.K. FORMULA is now on sale at Heath's. This famous preparation is compounded to the formula of a renowned doctor of the World War and it is proing its merit in many thousands of cases. Get a bottle today and give it a chance to help you. If you are not fully satisfied—vastly improved after your first bottle, just return it and your money will be refunded in full.—Adv.

Jack Benny, Allen And Burns Appear In 1937 Broadcast

A wealth of entertainment to amuse and thrill showgoers is now at the Craterian theatre where yesterday's capacity crowds gave ample expression to their delight in "The Big Broadcast of 1937."

The story throughout, moves to the tune of hilarious comedy. All of this is occasioned by Burns and Allen approaching Jeck Benny, radio station manager, to broadcast a golf ball advertising program. The fun of this situation, with both Gracie and Benny performing in characteristic style, takes a romantic conflict contrast when talent agent Ray Milland imports small town broadcaster Shirley Ross, for a spot on the program and both he and Benny fall for her. Pestered by Gracie and his comic secretary, Martha Raye, Jack goes about lining up the program, which gives a chance to preset Frank Forest in the modernistic singing, dancing, rhumba feature, and Bob Burns comes in to continue through with story-telling gags. Then comes Benny Goodman and his band, providing music for a spectacular whirlwind dance by Eleanore Whitney and Louis DaPron, a singing Benny Fields and Sam Hearn in a unique specialty.

Meanwhile, with gags falling over each other, the story continues with Shirley Ross taking a runout when she feels she is being used just as a stooge, and winds up with a wild chase all over New York before the girl is found and brought back for the big finale of the program.

Comedy—wild, riotous—is essentially the backbone of this hilarious picture. But with a couple of famous orchestras in the cast, some of the niftiest dancing the screen has ever shown, with a dash of drama and romance, "Big Broadcast of 1937" spells the sort of film entertainment that brings the crowds out happy.

Smashing Hit Back To Rialto Screen

Frank Capra's record smashing hit, "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town," repeated its success at the box office last night when it opened a return engagement at the Rialto theatre on their double bill program with Ursula Parrott's "There's Always Tomorrow," starring Robert Taylor.

Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur thrilled their fans all over again with their hell-bent, devil-may-care roles in "Mr. Deeds." The main plot of the story has to deal with Longfellow Deeds (Cooper) and his 20 million dollars, which he takes to New York to blow in. Money-grabbers and gold-diggers lead him a merry chase but with Miss Arthur as a guide he comes through with flags flying and wedding bells ringing (for he and Miss Arthur.) Others in the cast are Douglass Dumbrille, Lionel Stander (who does his part of show-stealing) George Bancroft and H. B. Warner.

Robert Taylor enthusiasts were more than delighted with the return showing of his first picture, "There's Always Tomorrow," which started him on his comet-like road to fame. Even in this picture when gave him his first "breaks" his appealing personality predominates the screen. The story pictures two years in the life of a typical American father of five children whose sole function in life seems to be that of squeezing a "meal ticket" out of his fold. Frank Morgan and Binnie Barnes have leading parts with Taylor. Others in support are Lois Wilson, Louise Latimer and Alan Hale.

Advice to Turkey Growers.

To the Editor:

I hope every turkey grower will hold out for at least 25 cents per pound instead of letting them go at 18 cents. I see where four of the major buyers have started moving the 1936 turkey crop at 18 cents per pound. Everyone should know there is a reason for that as the cold storage is getting empty.

These buyers see a chance to take advantage of the farmers by coming out with an 18 cent offer, in order to fill the cold storage. Then, by raising the price to suit themselves, they can make a large sum of money at the farmer's expense.

There is no "come back" because the law protects the buyer in whatever price he may wish to offer.

Feed has been going up every day. Some of the mash that is fed is as high as $3.30 per hundred. After deducting the high cost of feed, the price of 35 cents to 45 cents per pault, the losses on top of that, the fuel for brooding and the time and worry this 18 cents will hardly meet the cost of production.

The buyers are using the stumbling excuse that the strike is the cause of this low price. It is declared that turks have always been shipped to Honolulu and Alaska. I would like to know just how these turks would be shipped to Honolulu or Alaska when they don't start buying until the 20th of November. I suppose they intend to ship them on the China Clipper!

I do hope all the growers in Oregon and adjoining states will hold out for 25 cents or better. It is no more than right considering the farmer's work and cost of production put into the turkey crop. Because of the high cost of feed the farmer should receive 28 or 30 cents per pound.
