

Ashland Invades Tiger Grid for Annual Armistice Day Encounter

VISITORS HOPEFUL SAVING SEASON BY DROPPING LOCALS

Completely Revamped Tiger Team Will Make Last Home Appearance of Season—Game Called 2 P. M.

In what will be the only legal conference victory for them—if they win it—the Medford high school Tigers tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock will clash with a primed Ashland Grizzly football squad on the turf field here. Ashland, bolstered by the 3-0 Klamath Falls victory over the locals, is more hopeful of a win over the Tigers than at any time in the past few years, and after an in-and-out season they will shoot the works in an effort to win, salvaging what would otherwise have been a completely revamped Black Tornado facing the Lithians. With Stocks, Root, Lewis and Olson missing from the first team, Coach Bowerman has had to make desperate shifts in the lineup in pointing toward the smooth offense which marked earlier Medford games. The struggle will be the last of the year for the Tigers on their home field, and the last game at home for 12 of the Medford squad, who will graduate in June.

Lewis May Play
Bowerman could, if he cared to, start an all-senior squad tomorrow. The lineup would find Bayliss and Maruyama at ends, Blair and Bishop at tackles, Henry and Toud guards and Offord at center, with Baker at quarterback, Sakralda at fullback and Lewis and Morris at halves. It is not yet known whether Lewis will be able to play, but he will probably see brief action. Other seniors on the squad are Woodcock, end; Olsen, halfback, and Stocks, center.

There was little likelihood that all the seniors would start. The probable starting lineup would see Bayliss and Maruyama at ends, Blair and Earlhart at tackles, Grow and Baker at guards, and Offord at center, with Ettinger at quarterback, Morris and Bowman at halves and Sakralda at full.

Rivalry Means Crowd
With the traditional rivalry between Medford and Ashland almost as old as the two schools, a big crowd is anticipated—perhaps the largest of the year. The feeling in this city, prevalent earlier in the year, that Medford would breeze past Ashland with little difficulty was largely diffused by the Klamath victory over the locals and the surprise win by Ashland over Grants Pass the same day.

Medford is favored in the betting, with little money in sight, but Coach Bowerman is not too optimistic over the chances of his squad. "We've had to build an almost completely new machine, and that's hard to do in the middle of the season," he said. He admitted his charges were snapping through their plays in a much more convincing fashion than they were immediately after the shakeup that saw two linemen moved from the backfield, but said that they still lacked the polish that only stiff opposition on the field of play can give them.

Tigers Serious
The Tigers are taking the game seriously, in the hope of taking the encounter before moving against Salem. Despite technical difficulties that have ruled the team out of the state picture, and the disastrous Klamath defeat, the Tigers could, by victories over Ashland, Salem and Eugene, be catapulted back into the limelight as one of the outstanding teams of the state.

Tomorrow's game will start promptly at 2 o'clock, with only a brief Armistice observance before the kickoff. Weather prospects are for a clear, cool, ideal football day.

Fred Perry Signs As Professional

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Fred Perry of England, world amateur tennis champion, has turned professional, Francis T. Hunter and S. Howell Voshell jointly announced today.

6-MAN FOOTBALL LIKED BY SMALL HIGH SCHOOLS

CASCADE, Idaho, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Six-man football, played in four eight-minute periods on a field 80 yards long and 120 feet wide—is finding favor in smaller western Idaho schools.

Idaho has been the latest to give the three-year-old game a fling. This season only a few games were played. Next fall four central Idaho high schools have lined up complete schedules.

"The game, worked out by Stephen Epler in 1933 at Chester, Neb., has been found successful," Superintendent A. B. Anderson of Cascade said. "Two tackles, two guards and one backfield man have been eliminated. Eleven-man football rules prevail.

ALL-STAR GOLF TOURNEY MAY HAVE $25,000 PURSE

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Possibility of ten or twelve of the greatest professional golfers in the world shooting at $25,000 in prize money in an all star tournament was considered today by the Professional Golfers' association in annual session here.

Robert E. Harlow, tournament bureau head, said the tentative site and dates for such an event have not been worked out, but that if arrangements go through the association's prize money for the year may go well over the $200,000 mark.

The professionals will start down the "money trail" with the $8000 Los Angeles open January 9-11. The Oakland open January 15-17 will carry a $5000 prize, and the Sacramento open January 22-24 will be worth $3000. The professionals will shoot at $4000 in the San Francisco open January 27-31 and the Catalina open February 3-7 will be a $5000 affair.

The north and south open at Pinehurst will be worth $4000 and Bobby Jones' masters tourney to be played at Augusta, Ga., April 1-4 will carry a prize of $5000. In addition, Harlow said plans are being considered for a $25,000 all-star tourney and that one big money tourney may be arranged for Texas. The northwest tour, he said, will be staged on a bigger scale.

Tomorrow will be the last chance Medford fans will have to see the high school football team perform on home territory, and the last game of the season on the new turf field here. The game, of course, is against Ashland and the Tigers don't play again until they meet Salem at Salem on November 19, with the big game of the year to be against Eugene at Eugene on Thanksgiving.

Right now the status of the Black Tornado is in peculiar befuddlement. After defeating Grants Pass 31-0, losing to Klamath 3-0, defeating Marshfield 37-13, Roseburg 33-0, and Eureka 19-0, the locals are left out on a limb with about as much of a technicality as one would care to see.

If they defeat Ashland they will have one conference win. If they accept a nebulous Grants Pass suggestion to play the Cavenmen game over, and win, they would have two conference victories—which would leave the league in a three way tie, and as Coach Bowerman says, "benefit nobody."

One bright spot in that technical forfeiture stuff is the attitude of Roseburg. Principal C. G. Smith has received the following letter from Principal C. H. Beard and Coach Hod Turner of Roseburg:

"Dear Mr. Smith:
"We have received your letter offering to forfeit the football game our team played against your team October 10.
"It is true that Olson played against us, but only for a few minutes. You used some 40 players and defeated us 33-0.

"Under the circumstances, with Olson playing such a small portion of the time and the technicality under which he was protested, we don't feel justified in accepting the forfeit.
"Thanks for offering to forfeit the game to us if we can't win our games on the field we don't feel like winning by forfeiture or technicality.
" Hoping you continue to have a successful season, we are yours truly,
"H. H. Turner
"C. H. Beard."

PRACTICE POWERS BROWN'S PUNCHES

The power that Elmer ("Buzz") Brown, featherweight boxing flash from Portland, gets into his right-hand smashes and jabbing left hooks is still a mystery to most fans who have watched the well-built little fisherman calmly mow down men 15 pounds heavier than his 128, but to Tex Salkeld, Brown's manager, the stinging wallops are no surprise.

"He practices," Salkeld states succinctly. "He practices in the morning, he practices in the afternoon and he fights in the evenings. He always did have a fast, hard punch with each hand, but practice makes the difference between an alley slugger and a finished fighter."

Medford fans will have a chance to watch Brown in action for the second time Monday night, when he meets Jack Ray, 136, from Dallas, Texas. Ray is a clever boxer, a hard hitter and a dangerous opponent for any angle even in his own weight division, and he is expected to force the clever Portlander hard for a win. The bout is a non-title go.

Sonny Ender, 155, Klamath Falls, is ready for his battle with Jack Nealy, 155 Kerby, in one of the two six-round middle events. Red Melhorn, another Klamath thumper, will be matched with Bucky O'Brien of O'Brien, Ore. (on the Crescent City highway), in the second six-rounder. Promoter Mack Lillard has not yet completed arrangements for the curtain raiser, but has promised two crowd pleasers.

BEAVERS PLOTTING CARDS DOWNFALL

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The football stock of Oregon State college mounted rapidly today and the team that licked the Washington State Cougars plotted misfortune for the Stanford Cardinals.

Stanford and the Beavers, both vastly improved grid machines, play on Portland's Multnomah field Saturday. The Cards bowed to the Cougars and the Cougars in turn bowed to the Beavers—that was reason enough for the display of confidence on Bell Field.

Two O. S. C. players—Bill Duncan, quarterback, and Frank Ramsey, guard—were injured in the W. S. C. contest. Although they didn't work out with the team yesterday, Coach Lon Stiner said they would be ready by Saturday.

TUTTLE RETAINED AS COAST LEAGUE HEAD

directors, to serve a three-year term. Tuttle, writer of wild west fiction, became head of the far west class AA circuit a year ago. With his re-election, directors announced Tuttle was given a substantial increase in salary. Charles Graham, president of the San Francisco Seals, was elected first vice-president; E. J. Scheffer of the Portland club, second vice-president, and Victor Devenocenti of Oakland was chosen third vice-president.
