TURKEY PRICES LOOKING BETTER

Turkey price prospects were brighter and the price was "slightly firmer" today said six cars of Oregon turkeys had been shipped to eastern markets. News reports today also stated that a rise in turkey prices was predicted, due to the strike of warehouse men, in connection with the maritime strike, and causing dealers to get rid of their holdings.

LILLARD PLANNING DECEMBER FIGHTS

Monday's boxing matches at the Armory, featuring Buzz Brown, north-west featherweight champion, against Jack Ray, Dallas, Texas, flash, will probably be the next to last feather-slinging contests this year, Promoter Mack Lillard said today. He expects to line up another card, probably during December, and then take a tour of the south for new boxing or wrestling talent, he said. There is a possibility that Monday's card will be the last chance for local fight fans to see the clever Brown in action.
