

Reinhart and Barker's New Men's Store Opens in Medford Saturday

PUBLIC INVITED TO INSPECT NEW MEDFORD CONCERN

Reinhart and Barker's smart, new men's store will make its debut in Medford tomorrow when an informal opening will be featured by this new concern. Frank Reinhart and William Barker, proprietors of the firm, have extended to southern Oregon people a cordial invitation to inspect their attractive and well stocked establishment, located in the Fluhrer building now being remodeled at Main and Central avenue.

Nationally advertised and widely known lines of men's apparel and furnishings will be featured in Reinhart and Barker's new store, including Timely clothes, Pinfield clothes, Knox hats, Arrow shirts and Wilson Brothers furnishings. The complete stocks will be displayed in a beautifully appointed and decorated store. The fixtures, original and smartly styled, were designed by Frank Reinhart and reflect the excellent workmanship of Trowbridge cabinet works, well known Medford concern.

Trowbridge and Flynn had charge of the wiring in the new Reinhart and Barker store and supplied the harmonious lighting fixtures. The attractive linoleum floor covering was secured from the John Cupp Furniture Store of this city and Cupp's staff supervised the laying. Painting and decorating were ably handled by Frank Huntz, well known Medford painting contractor.

Frank Reinhart, senior member of the new concern, comes to Medford with a background of 18 years in the men's wear business. Upon his graduation from the University of Oregon, Reinhart became a member of the staff of the Man's Shop of Salem. After five years with that firm, he became associated in the ownership of DeNeff's, Incorporated, of Eugene and managed that firm for 10 years. Mrs. Reinhart and two sons, Bobbie, 7 and Dick, 4, have established their permanent home in Medford.

William Barker recently married a prominent Eugene girl, Susan Hurley, and they are now making their home in Medford. Mr. Barker was associated with DeNeff's, Incorporated, while attending the University of Oregon and is recognized for his ability in the field of merchandising.
