HOUSE TRAILERS GROWING MENACE SAYS POLICEMAN

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 14.—(AP)—The law enforcement committee of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators proposed today that every state be asked to enact measures regulating operation of automobile trailers.
"If people continue to take to trailers in the next two years as they have in the past two, then trailers will become the greatest menace on the road, unless necessary enforcement measures are adhered to," said a resolution presented by J. P. Arnold, chief of the Minnesota highway patrol and chairman of the enforcement officers division.

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 14.—(GAP)—Justice Arthur R. Green ruled last night that an automobile trailer, whether set on blocks or on wheels, is a human dwelling and must comply with local building ordinances.
Justice Green, in handing down one of the first rulings on the status of the automobile trailer, fined Hildred Gumarol, a Pontiac factory worker, $1 and costs of $3.10 for failure to comply with the Orchard Lake village ordinance requiring all dwelling places to have at least 400 square feet of usable space and a volume of 500 cubic feet for each occupant.
Gumarol and others have been living in trailers parked on the shore of Upper Straits lake. Gumarol indicated he would carry the test case to the Michigan supreme court.

ROWS ACROSS RIVER DESPITE BROKEN ARM

ASTORIA, Nov. 14.—(AP)—A man with a broken arm rowed a boat across the Columbia river, 22, slipped and fell in his boat on the Washington side. He suffered a compound fracture, part of the bone protruding through the flesh.
Despite the pain, he managed to get his boat across the river to Astoria where he was taken to a hospital.

High School News by STUDENT REPORTERS

By Betty Pennington
The play chosen by the French club under supervision of Mrs. Kincaid for this semester will be "Nous Verrous."

Leading characters are Kay Nakagiri, the cook; Carlin Platt, a French maid; Rose Ellen Sioneker, the French lady and Jean Cully, an American lady.
This two-act play which will be given December 8 is a story of a French maid whose desire to learn English is very much opposed by the cook who likes her. In the course of events a dog is stolen from the French maid and the American lady tries desperately to find someone who can understand that she wants a shoe-horn.

The dialogue will be given part in French and part English, making it possible for everyone to understand.

GERMANY, JAPAN AND ITALY SEEN AS WAR MENACE

Three Nations Keep World in Turmoil, State Leader Tells Preaching Mission—Economic Ills Traced

Asserting that "over a period of extended time our epoch of national depression problems have been coincident with our fooling with the Ten Commandments or the multiplication table or both," Dr. Guy Goodsell Thursday night presented the final address of the one-day preaching mission conducted here Thursday Dr. Goodsell is pastor of the Portland First Methodist church.

Taking his theme from the Bible passage, "See ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you" the speaker said:
"We live in a very much bewildered day. Rapid transit has added to the complexities of our American life. We are as close today to our neighbors across the water as we used to be to New York City. But notwithstanding the contributing agencies that have added to our complexities of life there is a bright light to lead us out of this bewilderment."
Speaking diffidently
"Christ . . . is the one in whom we shall find a ready solution to all our problems, be they economic, social or spiritual."

Continuing, Dr. Goodsell said, "I have made a considerable study of economies recently and my learning has led me to the conclusion that over a period of extended time our epoch of national depression problems have been coincident with our fooling with the Ten Commandments or the multiplication table or both."
"We have so divorced ourselves from God's high purpose and plan for a Christian democracy that we are like the fish of the Los Angeles river who kicked up so much dust in trying to negotiate the stream that they all choked to death."

Combined Choirs Sing
Special feature of the evening's program was a chorus of combined church choirs of the city, directed by Elsie Carlton Strang.
Preceding the evening program Mrs. T. Arthur Dungan of Portland addressed women of the various denominations represented at 5:30 o'clock, speaking on the attempt to inspire fortitude and the spirit of heroism to cope successfully with carrying forward the new Christian program as sponsored by the national and state preaching mission.
Naming Italy, Germany and Japan as the three nations desiring to keep the world in a state of agitation, Harry W. Stone, widely-known Oregon lay leader, spoke at the dinner on world conditions as he had seen them.

Refers to Russia
Stating that he had chased the hot-spots of the world contributing to national and international embroilment for the past several years, Stone continued:
"In my study of Russia, while visiting the hot-bed of communism, I found in their form of government everything that throtties a free government which we, as a nation, hold most dear." Stone added, however, that Russia is taking bestial ignorance and transforming it into a class of education.

Stone said that in Italy he found that Mussolini was robbing the church by putting guns in the hands of children and training them for war. The speaker concluded:
"Upheaval Threatened
"There are seven great powers in the world. Four of them are satisfied much as things exist today, the United States, England, France and Russia. The three who would keep the world in a state of festering agitation are Italy, Germany and Japan. These three insist that conditions as they are must be altered. Because of these facts we are on the verge of the bursting of a bomb that will send the world into a cataclysmic upheaval.

"I think the move for Americans to make in the way of defense and aggression is Christ in human living."

All sessions of Thursday's meeting, sponsored by the local ministerial association, were held in the Presbyterian church and attended by church representatives of all denominations throughout southern Oregon. The speakers were sent by the national preaching mission, inter-denominational group.
