In the two counties, Mr. Morse readily agreed, Mr. DeSouza stated.

"A large number of employers will probably take advantage of this opportunity to obtain authentic information regarding operation of the social security act," Mr. DeSouza said.

Distribution of forms for employers was begun by the postal staff here this morning. The forms, which seek data on the kind of business engaged in by the employer and the number of employees, must be filled out and returned to the postoffice not later than November 21, Mr. DeSouza explained. Excepting specified exemptions, all employers are affected by the act regardless of the number of employees.

The first return to be received at Medford postoffice was made at 10:30 this morning by Al Piche, owner of the hardware and sports store bearing his name, Mr. DeSouza announced.

Forms for employes to fill out are to be distributed later.

BRIDEGROOM DIES IN 14-STORY FALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The 14-story plunge to death of David Brooks, a nephew of Lady Astor, made the former Adelaide A. Moffett, a widow today after only four months of marriage.

The daughter of James A. Moffett, oil executive and former federal housing administrator, told investigators her husband went to his bedroom yesterday to open a window after they had returned home. She was doing the same in another room. Hotel employees, apprised of the fall by taxi-cab drivers, notified Mrs. Brooks.

The body fell from the Park avenue (Mayfair) hotel to the sidewalk almost opposite President Roosevelt's town house, in East 65th street. The police report said Brooks "jumped or fell."

Brooks, 26-year-old son of Reginald Brooks of New York and Mrs. Robert H. Brand of London, a sister of Lady Astor, married Miss Moffett last July 13.
