delegates of three of the striking unions, labor organizations represented were the sailors union of the Pacific, cooks and stewards association, and the Pacific coast marine firemen, oilers, waiters and waitresses association.

Present as an observer was Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, who has been conducting negotiations between the two factions. Today's joint conference was called after McGrady's conciliatory efforts left two issues in dispute. These were the union demand for control of hiring halls, and the subject of proposed penalties for violation of working agreements.

"These were the critical points of dispute and if we can settle them I look for an early settlement of the strike," McGrady said.

AUTUMN EXHIBIT OF ART TO OPEN HERE TOMORROW

Southern Oregon Art association's fall exhibit, featuring work from the brushes and pens of local artists, will open tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in room three of the Palm building.

A cordial invitation to the public to enjoy this display of art created in southern Oregon has been extended by Fred Einkopf, president of the association, and Mrs. Elizabeth Edmondson, secretary and treasurer. There will be no charge for the exhibit and representatives of the association will be on hand to welcome all who are interested in art. The showing of the association will be held daily this week from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m., according to Mrs. Rachael Fond, artist and publicity head of the association.

In addition to the work of southern Oregon artists, a large display of etchings, both American and European, will be shown. Mrs. Edmondson said. The etchings, by such artists as A. Ray Burrell, Joseph Bennett, Jeanette Maxfield Lewis, Just Rasmussen, Nadine Torrance, Mark Milk and Dwight Sturges, will also be offered for sale by the association at what are considered very attractive prices.

The association here has achieved national recognition in being invited to membership in the American Federation of Arts of Washington, D. C., and officers of the local organization are hoping for enough interest and cooperation on the part of southern Oregon people to enable them to affiliate with the national federation. California has six associations holding membership in the federation and Oregon has none, according to artists here. Widespread publicity and prestige for Medford and southern Oregon as a cultural center would be secured if federation membership could be obtained for the local association, it was pointed out.

PUBLIC WELFARE TOPS PROBLEMS OF SESSION IS WORD OF GOVERNOR

SALLEM, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Governor Martin informed the legislative interim committee that the greatest problem facing the state at this and subsequent legislative sessions is the public welfare situation, and urged immediate steps be taken to complete recommendations for "at least some definite action" by the January assembly.

At the close of the day-long conference here yesterday the executive cited the multiple problems of child welfare, institutional care, relief and other social security issues which "need immediate attention or the state will wake up with an awful nightmare."

"The state program will require some very serious and sound thought on the part of the lawmakers or things will be in a mess," the governor declared. Study of solutions of the various problems involved in the welfare of Oregon people, combined with remedying lack of authority given to proper agencies to take control of state charges was necessary, he said.

Wants Some Cash

Mrs. Gidys Luckenbach, fourth wife of Lewis Luckenbach, member of the shipping family, won an order for separate maintenance from the San Francisco courts but went back again for a hearing to determine the amount her husband must pay monthly. She is pictured as she appeared in court to testify that he had not paid the $250 monthly temporarily ordered. She asked for $1,000 a month, but said she might "get by" on $400 or $500. On Saturday evening, November 7, a number of friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Vic Mason on their 22nd anniversary. The evening was spent at cards. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Withrow, Clarence Homes, Frank Parks, Henry Mason, Roy Coghill, Pinky Burnette, Bertha Hayman, Clara Mae and Harry Withrow, and the host and hostess and children.

WHY PUT UP WITH PIMPLES, WRINKLES AND A SALLOW SKIN?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

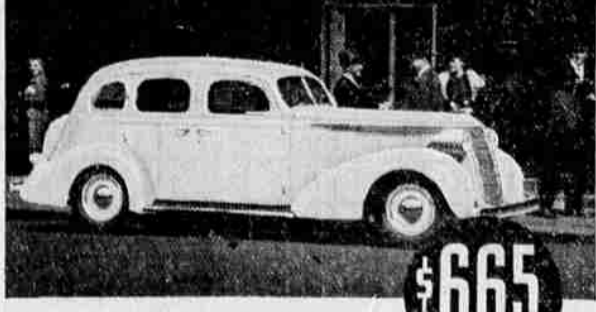

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoons daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
