

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

Published by MEDFORD PRINTING CO. Phone 13. 44-21-23 N. 7th St.

Subscription Rates: Daily in Advance $3.00, Daily 10 months $27.00, Daily 12 months $32.00.

Official Paper of the City of Medford, Official Paper of Jackson County.

Member of the Associated Press, Member of Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Advertising Representatives: WEST-HOLLIDAY-MOGENSEN CO., Office in New York, Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Boston, Portland.

Member of the Oregon State Association of Editors.

Ye Smudge Pot

The prediction of this col. that it would rain Monday failed to hold water.

The betrothal of a daughter of the enormously wealthy Du Pont family to a son of the President proves that romance knows no politics.

The annual screaming and squealing over the mythical state high school football championship, now held in the air, with each section of the state, except southern Oregon, presenting a capable contender.

F. Farrell, the barrister, has started construction of a tepee on the hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Wagner, formerly of Happy Camp, came back over election day. They enjoyed the good fishing and visits with their many friends here.

A Young Democrat was caught yesterday, who was neither young, mad, nor after a piece of federal pie.

Last week it appeared Italy, via Mussolini, was seeking for a war with Germany, in a quiet diplomatic way.

An Eastern Washington speed-idiot is alleged to have participated in 16 auto wrecks so far this year.

Mrs. Irene Withers was given the prize for the best-dressed lady and Vancil Withers was given the booby prize.

Farmers in convention assembled, are charged with condemning by resolution what they voted for Nov. 3.

Justice Gets Busy: (Chico (Calif.) Enterprise) The parrot was hustled off to jail for breaking the law.

A tax on trailers promises to occupy a considerable time in the oncoming session of the legislature.

There is one law for the rich man and another for the poor. And 2,986-432 for the rest of us.

The school authorities have come out against autos with more than 17 passengers aboard.

The editor who attempts to run a column of poetry would get himself into more trouble than if he discussed religion or politics.

The gambolito tree of Florida exudes fragrant balsam when cut.

Buy A Turkey!

THE present turkey population in Jackson County is estimated at 80,000. This means nearly 2 turkeys for every man, woman and child in the county.

Because of a bumper turkey crop in Oregon and the country at large, the turkey price has been depressed, and the maritime strike, by shutting off boat shipments, has reduced the normal demand.

Turkey growers in the valley, therefore, face a serious predicament. Unless local consumption can be increased, many of them stand to suffer a severe loss on their 1936 crop.

The Thanksgiving demand is fixed and can't be materially increased. But the Chamber of Commerce has hit upon a way out, by instituting a series of "turkey weeks," between now and Christmas.

The Mail Tribune regards this as a good idea, and the sooner it is put into operation the better. For turkey feed is high, and the longer Mr. Turk is fed, the less the net profit to the grower.

So we are glad to give our endorsement to this turkey week program. We can see nothing against such a program and everything for it.

A New Deal For Strikes

THE maritime strike has been going on for two weeks and a half. There have been frequent reports of a settlement,

As the strike drags on and slowly spreads there is an increasing demand, that President Roosevelt personally intervene and use the power of his office and his personal prestige, to enforce peace upon the warring factions.

Those who urge such action point to T. R.'s habit of waving the big stick, and President Cleveland's squashing of the Pullman strike by calling out the U. S. Army.

It is somewhat amusing that those who lead in such a demand, are those who during the recent campaign were most seriously alarmed, by what they called executive dictatorship.

President Cleveland's action, desirable as were its results, was one of the most striking examples of the usurpation of power and authority by the one man sitting in the White House.

There is practically nothing the victor can do for bleeding piles except to remain quiet and keep off the feet until cure can be had.

No, we think neither T. R. and his big stock nor Grover Cleveland and his order to the war department, should be held up as precedents for President Roosevelt to follow at the present time.

We do, believe, however, that unless a settlement is reached within the very near future, the policy of watchful waiting in Washington should be dropped.

If this is the truth of the situation then we would like to see President Roosevelt appoint a special board of mediation, composed of outstanding citizens of the highest reputation for integrity and fairness.

As before stated in this column, we believe there should be a definite national labor code drawn up, with special labor courts, to enforce its provisions.

PLAN TO RELIEVE FEEDING EXPENSE OF TURK GROWERS

It has closed out the Alaska, Hawaii and Philippine markets. Conditions here, however, are said to be more favorable than in most other parts of the country.

Feeding Expense: The county crop, however, is said to be moving slowly and meantime the birds must be fed.

Plan Finds Favor: Chamber officials also said that those who had been consulted regarding the plan were enthusiastic.

The turkey market throughout the United States is severely depressed this year because of a national increase of about 33 percent over last year's crop.

There is one law for the rich man and another for the poor. And 2,986-432 for the rest of us.

The school authorities have come out against autos with more than 17 passengers aboard.

The editor who attempts to run a column of poetry would get himself into more trouble than if he discussed religion or politics.

The gambolito tree of Florida exudes fragrant balsam when cut.

Personal Health Service

By William Brady, M.D. Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

THE ATTACK OF HEMORRHOIDS: The veins enlarged, dilated, varicose or swollen in the condition called piles or hemorrhoids empty directly into the portal vein which collects blood from the alimentary tract and carries it to the liver.

one is subject to the trouble. More over the hemorrhoidal veins have no valves and so in the upright posture their walls must support the weight or pressure of a column of blood extending from the pile area to the level of the diaphragm or midriff.

Painful subject to hemorrhoids or piles may be unaware of the presence of any trouble unless it happens that the internal varicosity bleeds enough to warn that there is something wrong or becomes inflamed and protrudes or prolapses, or becomes externally thrombosed (clotted) and exceedingly painful.

Whether cured by nature or by surgery or by diathermy or by injection treatment, the obliteration of one pile or hemorrhoid does not give greater assurance against future development of piles or hemorrhoids than the patient had before the first attack.

There is practically nothing the victor can do for bleeding piles except to remain quiet and keep off the feet until cure can be had.

NEW YORK: Nov. 17.—(AP)—Celebrities of the New York parade have so completely withdrawn from the spotlight as Alexander Woollcott, conspicuous for years as a dramatic critic, quondam actor and a strait in the Algonquin's literary pastime, he is now seen but seldom.

Over night he chucked his page in The New Yorker and got on of each of the frantic editors. He withdrew from regular radio broadcasting when he could avail himself of a number of choice offers.

He disposed of his East Side apartment, "Wit's End." And the haunts he used to grace now and then see him no more.

Some say he is intent on conquering the obesity that besets him. Others say he plans to make the most of a college trusteeship and lead the cloistered life of a saint.

One of the old newspaper girls at the Waldorf, Mary Doyle, has unlearned her memoirs in a book describing the mirrored, red plush and lumpy gilt period.

No hotel today has the spacious public rooms of the old Waldorf. Space has become too precious. There were a dozen nooks as large as the foyer of the Ritz Carlton of today.

Mr. Totten, who passed away last Friday night, was 60 years of age. Friends had gathered in the evening to help him celebrate his birthday and he seemed in his usual good health.

He was a Great Northern engineer for 33 years, retiring from the Klamath Falls division two years ago.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Comment of the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS. In this column a few weeks ago, T. Glazie, who was killed in a gun fight back in the early days of the Harney valley country, was referred to as a "bad man."

Linsey Sisemore tells this writer that application of the term "bad man" to Glazie is an injustice.

"It is true," Linsey says, "that T. Glazie had killed a couple of men at Dallas, in the Willamette valley, before he came to the Burns country, and it is also true that he was a saloonkeeper over there. But back in the early days saloonkeepers were often among our most responsible citizens, and the quarrel in which Glazie killed these men was forced on him, and he shot to save his own life."

"If he hadn't killed them they would have killed him."

AFTER the shooting in the Willamette valley, T. Glazie was a raw, new country. He was taken on as a hand by one of the big cattle outfits, and a part of his job was scaring off settlers who were thinking of homesteading range land.

"I met him shortly after I came, as a raw youngster, to the Burns country. I walked into a saloon. T. Glazie was lounging at the bar, standing with his back to it and his elbows resting on the edge. He was tall, well-built, good-looking—altogether quite impressive."

"Have a drink?" he offered, and I accepted.

"FIGURING on staying here, kid, or getting out?" he asked.

"I looked him over. He had a gun at his belt. He had a cool eye. I laughed. 'Well,' I said, 'I'm just a roving hunkaroo, and I can stay or I can move on, whichever seems healthiest.'"

"His face lit up with a grin. 'Aw, hell,' he said, 'I didn't mean it that way. Better stay.'"

I STAYED. And I got well acquainted with T. Glazie—went partners with him in a small way, in a race horse.

In the back of his mind was always the thought that someone was after him for the killing over across the mountains. He was as cautious as a cat.

He lived in a rough country and a rough time, and he met each situation as it arose, with the promptness that was necessary if one wanted to go on living in those days.

"But he was no bad man."

THE died in a gun fight—again in a quarrel that was forced on him. The man who'd quarreled with him came in to get him. T. Glazie had to defend his life. The guns roared, and when the smoke cleared away both were dead.

He lived in a rough country and a rough time, and he met each situation as it arose, with the promptness that was necessary if one wanted to go on living in those days.

"But he was no bad man."

Answers Wm. Carle. To the Editor: I have been asked to write an article in reply to the last long-winded one written by the Rev. Bill Carle.

He is standing with his back to the wall, with nothing to keep him from going to destruction but the supreme court, which, according to his belief, Roosevelt is going to wipe off the face of the earth in a very short time.

Perhaps they would take him over to South Africa where the great engineer used to hold forth among the ignorant natives.

JOHN B. GRIFFIN. Medford, November 17.

YOUTH KILLED WHEN AUTO LEAVES ROAD: BURNS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Eighteen-year-old George Richter of Burns was killed when his car left the highway and overturned near Hines hill.

PORTLAND, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Priscilla Murphy, 16, killed in an airplane accident last week-end at Syracuse, N. Y., was the daughter of Dr. William C. Murphy, graduate of the University of Oregon medical school and a Nobel prize winner.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

(Continued from Page One) undoubtedly be adopted, because above all things, the AAA-ers are determined upon two purposes: (a) to accomplish some form of production control, and (b) to have the federal government do it.

Some war department official had a mental lapse when he authorized the announcement of improvements to be made in the seaplane harbor at Midway Island.

The basin at Midway is to be only eight feet deep and 1,200 feet square, however, and could not house enough navy seaplanes to disturb the birds, much less the Japanese.

The ensuing press racket is about all you will hear on the Pacific island mess. Certainly you will not hear an official protest from Japan.

WINDOW GLASS—We sell window glass and will replace your broken windows reasonably. Trowbridge Cabinet Works.

Phone 342. We'll haul away your refuse. City Sanitary Service.

Don't Sleep on Left Side, Crows Heart Gas Pressure May Cause Discomfort. RIGHT SIDE BEST.

If you toss in bed and can't sleep or get up, try Adierka. Just ONE dose relieves stomach GAS, pressing on heart so you sleep soundly.

Adierka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels and brings out foul matter you would never believe was in your system.

Contrary to the popular notion, Jefferson did not hitch his horse to the capitol fence. He strolled up from his boarding house a few hundred yards away.

THE died in a gun fight—again in a quarrel that was forced on him. The man who'd quarreled with him came in to get him. T. Glazie had to defend his life. The guns roared, and when the smoke cleared away both were dead.

He lived in a rough country and a rough time, and he met each situation as it arose, with the promptness that was necessary if one wanted to go on living in those days.

"But he was no bad man."

Answers Wm. Carle. To the Editor: I have been asked to write an article in reply to the last long-winded one written by the Rev. Bill Carle.

He is standing with his back to the wall, with nothing to keep him from going to destruction but the supreme court, which, according to his belief, Roosevelt is going to wipe off the face of the earth in a very short time.

Perhaps they would take him over to South Africa where the great engineer used to hold forth among the ignorant natives.

JOHN B. GRIFFIN. Medford, November 17.

YOUTH KILLED WHEN AUTO LEAVES ROAD: BURNS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Eighteen-year-old George Richter of Burns was killed when his car left the highway and overturned near Hines hill.

PORTLAND, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Priscilla Murphy, 16, killed in an airplane accident last week-end at Syracuse, N. Y., was the daughter of Dr. William C. Murphy, graduate of the University of Oregon medical school and a Nobel prize winner.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Flight 'o Time

Medford and Jackson County history from the files of the Mail Tribune 10 and 20 years ago.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY: November 17, 1926. (It was Thursday.) Medford football team leaves for game with Eugene there tomorrow afternoon.

"Pig woman" identifies Mrs. Hall, widow of Alvin Karpis, and brothers as present at murder, as she testifies from cot, in New Jersey trial of nation-wide interest.

Rogue river spray suit opens in Chicago. E. E. Kelly represents local orchard in action.

Turkey prices due for drop, as supply exceeds demand.

Senator McNary secures designation of Medford as permanent landing field for airmail and the establishment of a meteorological station.

Population of Oregon estimated at 848,516. County court delays action on calling special election for the formation of an irrigation district.

President Wilson carries California by 3500 majority, by official count. Choral society is organized and will give first concert in Page theater Thanksgiving day.

O. A. Alenderfer spends the day in Grants Pass on business. Slater Johnson leaves Sunday on a trip to eastern points.

The Bungalow store opened for business on North Riverside avenue. Weather: Northern California: Fair and mild tonight and Wednesday, morning fogs on coast; gentle variable wind off coast.

Oregon: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday, but unsettled west portion; normal temperature; moderate southerly wind off coast.

WINDOW GLASS—We sell window glass and will replace your broken windows reasonably. Trowbridge Cabinet Works.

Phone 342. We'll haul away your refuse. City Sanitary Service.

Don't Sleep on Left Side, Crows Heart Gas Pressure May Cause Discomfort. RIGHT SIDE BEST.

If you toss in bed and can't sleep or get up, try Adierka. Just ONE dose relieves stomach GAS, pressing on heart so you sleep soundly.

Adierka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels and brings out foul matter you would never believe was in your system.

Contrary to the popular notion, Jefferson did not hitch his horse to the capitol fence. He strolled up from his boarding house a few hundred yards away.

THE died in a gun fight—again in a quarrel that was forced on him. The man who'd quarreled with him came in to get him. T. Glazie had to defend his life. The guns roared, and when the smoke cleared away both were dead.

He lived in a rough country and a rough time, and he met each situation as it arose, with the promptness that was necessary if one wanted to go on living in those days.

"But he was no bad man."

Answers Wm. Carle. To the Editor: I have been asked to write an article in reply to the last long-winded one written by the Rev. Bill Carle.

He is standing with his back to the wall, with nothing to keep him from going to destruction but the supreme court, which, according to his belief, Roosevelt is going to wipe off the face of the earth in a very short time.

Perhaps they would take him over to South Africa where the great engineer used to hold forth among the ignorant natives.

JOHN B. GRIFFIN. Medford, November 17.

YOUTH KILLED WHEN AUTO LEAVES ROAD: BURNS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Eighteen-year-old George Richter of Burns was killed when his car left the highway and overturned near Hines hill.

PORTLAND, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Priscilla Murphy, 16, killed in an airplane accident last week-end at Syracuse, N. Y., was the daughter of Dr. William C. Murphy, graduate of the University of Oregon medical school and a Nobel prize winner.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

Wrens flying south in Clatsop, N. M., were numerous persons entering stores and to brush the flocks from their paths.

PHILIP: I could hardly wait to get back to see you again. To be able to see you every day, to have you beside me, in the same office with me, seems the most important thing in the world. SALLY: You're my best friend, Philip. But what you really feel for me is what I feel for you—friendship. PHILIP: No, I know—I love you. A SCENE FROM Wings For Sally BY BAILEY WOLFE Starting November 29 in The Medford Mail Tribune