

Craterian Remodeling Underway; Holly Opens With "Anthony Adverse"

BRILLIANT STARS APPEAR IN NOTED NOVEL ON SCREEN

The long awaited and much heralded production of "Anthony Adverse," filmed from Hervey Allen's famous novel, which boasts of 3,000,000 readers, comes to the Holly theater today for a three-day run, with Fredric March in the title role and Olivia de Havilland playing opposite him in the feminine lead.

In its panoramic story sweep through five countries, and three continents, the magnitude of its 131 sets, the picturesqueness of its backgrounds, the gigantic scale on which it was produced and the vast number of talented players in its cast, "Anthony Adverse" is said by those who have seen the preview to be the most pretentious piece of entertainment in Hollywood.

The novel, which took Hervey Allen four years to write, was finally whipped into its finished screen form after more than two years of arduous labor on the part of nearly 3000 technicians, in addition to more than 2500 players who portray the many characters seen in the film.

In dynamic action, intense drama, glamorous romance and thrilling adventure, probably no story was ever better fitted for screen material. The producers said to have caught all the vividness, the fire and color of the original and to have transmitted it to the film.

The cast is a tremendous one in size and remarkable for the number of talented players, there being ninety-eight speaking parts, with 2550 bit players and extras appearing. Besides March and Miss de Havilland, some of the more important players include Edmund Gwenn, Claude Rains and Anita Louise.
