Game Service

Because of the great popularity of the Mail Tribune reports of the quarter-by-quarter scores of the Salem-Medford football game last week, this newspaper will give out quarterly reports of the progress of the Medford-Eugene game, which starts at noon tomorrow in Eugene. The reports will be wired to this office and editorial staff workers will be on hand to answer telephone inquiries until 2:30. Those planning to drive to the game tomorrow are warned that the kickoff has been moved forward to noon, two hours earlier than usual for afternoon games.

The Medford high school football squad, primed to smother the powerful axe of the Eugene Axmen on Hayward field tomorrow afternoon, left this morning on the Shasta for the University City and the Thanksgiving Day struggle which may topple Eugene from the undefeated-united class in the state.

The Medford squad has come along fast since the disastrous Klamath Falls and Ashland struggles, booming to the fore when they held a strong Salem team to a 7-7 tie while punching over another touchdown that was not counted. During practice since the Salem game the Tigers have shown consistent improvement in blocking and tackling, and in the precision that marked the team as one of the most colorful in the state in their early games.

The team will be in the best condition of the year since the peak of the season, against Eugene. Four of the four who were out after that game—Olsen, Lewis, Stocks and Root—two will be back in harness. Lewis and Stocks, neither are in the best of condition but will see action in part of the game. Stocks was given a clean bill of health by the attending physician who told him that his broken collar bone was now healed sufficiently to allow him to play full speed. The injured bone has knit again, but is still painful to the star center.

The spirit of the Medford team is the best of the year. Confronted with the fact they are entering the game as underdogs, they are nevertheless possessed of a spirit to win tomorrow's ball game that should go far toward accomplishing that seemingly impossible task. Eugene has gone through a hard season undefeated, running up alarming scores against outclassed opposition, but the members of the Black Tornado expressed the belief before leaving that the Axmen were to meet a brand of competition that they are not expecting.

Many townspeople will be in the northern city for the game. Possibly several hundred rooters will leave today and tomorrow morning to be on hand for the battle. The drum and bugle corps and the high school band will leave early tomorrow morning to lead the team support.

Its Washington Says Thornhill

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Coach Claude (Tiny) Thornhill of Stanford university's Cardinals says "It's Washington in the Rose Bowl game for the coast, without a doubt, but as to the eastern representative it's anyone's guess."

Frenchman Kayos Hankinson In 3rd

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 25.—Andre Lenglet of France bombarded Hank Hankinson of Lancaster, O., out of the local heavyweight picture in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-rounder last night. It was Lenglet's fight most of the way. Outboxing Hankinson after an uncertain start, the 211-pound Frenchman began landing left hooks on the chin of the 214-pound Ohio Swede.

Bookkeeper Best In Calling Ducks

STUTTGART, Ark., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Thomas E. Walsh, Greenville, Miss., accountant, was recognized today as the south's champion duck caller. He routed 18 veteran farmers and huntsmen in a contest last night with an exhibition that one fan said "sounded more like ducks than ducks do."

ALUMNI OF ASHLAND ISSUES CHALLENGE

ASHLAND, Nov. 25.—(SpI).—Attention, independent basketball teams of Medford and vicinity. The Alumni of Ashland high, known by no other name, but boasting a last year's record consisting of something like 17 wins out of 21 games played, hereby challenges any and all Medford teams or teams in secondary high schools throughout the valley. Three members of last year's district champion Ashland high team are members of the Alumni aggregation. They are Johnny Murphy, Ken Schilling and Howard Mayberry. Herb Davis, Jim Voss, Hedrick Baughman and Bill Bromley complete the traveling squad.

JEFFERSON-HOOD RIVER GAME TAKES ATTENTION

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 25.—(SpI).—Sports fans interested in Portland inter-scholastic football gave their undivided attention to the forthcoming Jefferson-Hood River Thanksgiving classic today, with prospects that a large crowd would watch the battle in the Multnomah stadium. The city's inter-school grid season closed yesterday with Franklin's 10 to 7 win over Grant.

Weather

ASHLAND GRIDDERS FACE MYRTLE PT.

ASHLAND, Nov. 25.—(SpI).—Ashland high's "in and out" football team rings down the curtain on its 1936 season here tomorrow afternoon at the high school field against a Myrtle Point team that has lost only one game all year.

With every man except Don Gettinglin in excellent condition, Coach Skeet O'Connell has high hopes of ending his first athletic season at the local school with a nice percentage of games won. To date the Grizzlies have won four games, tied two and lost two, and with a victory tomorrow, the ledger will be balanced in black.

HUSKIES FAVORED IN ODDS OF 2 TO 1

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—(AP).—The Washington Huskies were established today as two to one favorites to knock off the Washington State college Cougars and win the Pacific Coast conference football championship and the Rose Bowl bid in their 31st annual battle here tomorrow. The odds became greater as game time approached—even in the face of the arrival this morning of the 40-man Cougar squad from Pullman. Yesterday the odds were 10 to 6, with few takers.

RETURN OF KOLBERG HIKES BEAVER HOPES

OOVVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 25.—(AP).—Return of Elmer Kolberg to the Oregon State college grid lineup bolstered the hopes of Beaver grid fans today as the eyes of Oregon sportsmen turned toward the Oregon State-Nebraska clash at Portland Saturday. Kolberg, a smashing fullback, incurred an injured shoulder in days ago, took things easy in subsequent practices, played only part of the Oregon-Oregon State contest last week-end and today was pronounced in tip-top shape for the forthcoming inter-sectional clash.

PUT RIVER CLOSING UP TO LEGISLATURE SPORTSMEN ADVISED

SALEM, Nov. 25.—(AP).—Closing of the Umpqua and Smith rivers in Douglas and Lane counties to commercial fishing should be taken up at the legislative session since the state fish commission has refused to take action, W. L. Goslin, secretary to Governor Martin told a delegation from Roseburg and Cottage Grove yesterday.

MAYOR CARSON VISIONS INFLATIONARY PERIOD

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 25.—(AP).—Mayor Joseph K. Carson of Portland envisioned a high-wage-high-price condition today similar to that prevailing during the World War, Carson, recently returned from the mayor's conference in Washington, said the United States probably will experience such inflationary tendencies in the next "year or so."

TWO SENTENCED FOR RUM SOLD INDIANS

PORTLAND, Nov. 25.—(AP).—Plea of guilty in federal court brought Carl Prokopik and Jack Summers, charged with selling liquor to Umatilla Indians, sentences of eight months in road camps and fines of $100 each.

ROAST PORK TOO HIGH FOR PRISON BANQUET

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—(AP).—Because roast pork has become more or less of a luxury, the 877 inmates of the state prison will eat chicken, instead, on Thanksgiving day. Prison officials decided to purchase chicken for the holiday menu after they determined it was cheaper than pork.

We run our house on the Huddle System

MAYBE two can live as cheaply as one—on a desert island. But right after we married, Jim and I soon found out that running a house costs money—more, we first thought, than we could manage to scrape together.

Things are easier now. It took a while for us to learn, but we have the plan down pat. Jim calls it our "huddle system."

There really isn't any trick about it. We have a budget, of course—so much for food, clothes, amusements, luxuries, vacation. But having a budget is one thing. Making it work is another. There's where the system comes in.

Religiously, each day, we read the advertisements in this paper—together. Jim looks for the things he is most interested in—suits, shirts, golf equipment, books, smoking supplies. I look out for myself—shoes, dresses, a winter coat, cosmetics. Both of us keep our eyes open for household needs—furniture, draperies, bathroom accessories, linens. Then we go into a "huddle"—report to each other—check over our budget—spend what we can for what we feel we need—and save!

Careful buying, Jim says, is the secret of saving money. But careful reading of advertising, we both agree, comes first!
