Former Residents Here for Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Vern B. Marshall were hosts for Thanksgiving dinner yesterday at the first reunion of Mrs. Marshall's family. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Marshall's mother, Mrs. Isabell Fansher Hanks (Mrs. Dennis Hanks) formerly of this city, but now living in Canyonville, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fansher and daughter of Mariboro, Alberta, Canada, were the most distant visitors.

Other members of the family present were Mr. and Mrs. Karl J. Klein and family of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Hoffman of San Diego, Cal., and Mrs. James McCaslin of Klamath Falls.

Mrs. Klein, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Marshall and W. E. Fansher are children of Mrs. Hanks. All were born in Medford and spent the greater part of their lives in the valley.

It is Mr. Fansher's first visit to the United States in 13 years, and as the others are also infrequent visitors to the valley many memories and acquaintanceships were renewed.

Mrs. McCaslin is a sister of Mrs. Hanks.

The visitors expect to return to their homes tomorrow.

Week-End Quiet After Holiday

A quiet week-end is in prospect after the many affairs arranged over the Thanksgiving holiday. A few private parties are being planned, some by the younger set to entertain students home for the week-end.

Among outstanding affairs observing the holiday was the Elks dance Wednesday evening, when about two hundred were entertained. Special Thanksgiving decorations greeted the dancers who report a highly successful evening.

Many friends and relatives were welcomed to the city yesterday as they were entertained at the traditional Thanksgiving dinner. A larger than usual number of Medfordites journeyed out of town, many of them drawn to Eugene to witness the high school football game there yesterday.

Thanksgiving customarily serves as a recognized opening of the peak of the season's social activity during December and January and advance plans indicate no exception this year.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sabin, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Krouse, Mrs. Gertrude Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Lulu Rowe and Mrs. Grace Pellett.

STORE CLERKS FREE BOY FROM DRESSING IN GIRL'S CLOTHING

—Six-year old Charles Richard Clayton was freed today of his masquerade as a girl.

"I'm glad I'm a boy now," he told an investigating policeman. "I don't like to wear dresses."

The child's mother, Mrs. John Clayton, told police she gave the boy the name of "Dolly," kept him in girl's clothing and adorned him with long brown curls because the family was in poor circumstances.

"I had some girl's clothes and it was easier to get more girl's clothes than boy's," she explained. "Besides I wanted to keep him a baby as long as I could."

The deception was discovered when Edward L. Vinal, a merchant noticed a child he thought was a curly haired little girl playing around his office.

Vinal said that, struck by the child's apparent need for warm clothing, he took the child to a store and ordered an entire outfit. Two women clerks took the child into another room to change the clothes and a moment later returned hurriedly.

"She's not a girl, he's a boy," they exclaimed.
